WHAT BECOMES OF THE SILVER PRODUCED

warp and the wool of the new economic world the war is weaving, and gold and silver are the strands of that weaving. What kind of a new economic world will result, only the three silent fates working the strange new loom know, but the allies are holding together in one fabric to the very end.

SULPHURIC ACID

One of the most vital needs of the agriculturist is sulphuric acid, and this one item alone causes the manufacture of millions of tons. In the manufacture of high grade paper it is an essential, and munitions cannot be made without it. This year it is expected that about ten millions of tons of the acid will be made, which is nearly six millions of tons over the production of 1914. Owing to cheap transportation and the nearness to market practically all the sulphuric acid of the country is manufactured in the south, and especially because of the big deposits of pyrite and sulphur in those localities. Texas, Louisiana and Tennessee enters largely into the production of the acid, the Tennessee Copper Company being one of the largest of the manufacturers.

PHOENIX QUARANTINED

The epidemic of influenza has been so great that the people of that city have concluded to quarantine the place. So far there have been more than 3000 cases of the disease and fifty-four deaths have occurred so far this month. The south part of the state as well as the eastern part, where there is a preponderance of Mexican or colored people, has been hit the hardest. At Phoenix all visitors will be inspected and only allowed to remain in town a few hours.

CONSERVING HER GOLD

Since the armistice terms imposed on Germany went into effect every bank in that country has been shipping its gold to Switzerland in view of the big indemnities that will be demanded in the peace terms by the allies. They propose, if possible, to safeguard every gold dollar, and buy up every ounce of gold that is purchasable. But first in their scheme of safeguarding the new government, or the banking interests, they will place all metallic money beyond the reach of the allies, or so they think. The demand of the allies for the return of all the gold taken from Russia and Rumania will have to be complied with, even if they have to go into a neutral country for it.
