The Facts.
The true facts in regard to the killing of the Mexican in the spring of 1882 by Dave Nagle are as follows, as testified to by dozens of men who were residents of Tombstone at that time, and who still reside here: The Mexican had been arrested and fined for violating a city ordinance, and was granted permission to go out in charge of police officer Joseph F. Poynton to procure the money. They went to a house on First street, where a number of Mexicans were carousing, and after being in the house a short time the Mexican told Poynton that he did not intend returning with him. Poynton concluding that discretion was the better part of valor in this case, returned up town and hunted up Nagle, who was at that time Chief of Police. The two officers started to get their man, and when near the house the Mexican came out and fired at them with a Winchester, hitting Poynton in the groin and then started to run. Nagle emptied his revolver at the fugitive, but apparently did not hit him. About this time a man rode up having a Winchester and Nagle secured both horse and gun and gave pursuit. When near where the Sterling Silver mill now is he caught sight of the Mexican and fired, killing him. Poynton was laid up for eleven weeks, and no arrests were made, as the officers had merely done their duty. These are the facts in the case, all assertions to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Mexican band last night serenaded A. Bauer and family with some of their delightful music. Miss Minnie responded gracefully by inviting the serenaders into the house and serving them with refreshments.

Mining Notes.

The Ground Hog, belonging to the Sterling Silver company, is the best paying mine in this district at present and has a three-foot ledge of high grade ore, some of which is very rich. Eleven men are working, stoping on the ledge in three levels. No ore is being shipped and none worked at the mill, as the first-class requires to much quicksilver to work it and the second-class contains too much lead to mill well. Over 1,000 tons of ore is now on the dump, a portion of which does not contain enough lead to interfere with milling and which will soon be run through the mill.

The Lucky Cuss is now employing thirty-one men and hoisting about ten tons of first-class ore per day. This mine is a good property and is getting better every day.

The Nicholas mine remains closed down awaiting the arrival of Van Burt, who is expected from Los Angeles in a few days. It is thought that on his arrival all claims will be paid and work resumed. This is a very promising property and it seems an error to let it remain idle.

The old, old monthly bugaboo of a heavy draft from the Emerald on the first of next month is being circulated. The cause of this report so early in the month seems to be that the mine is not producing as much ore as for the past few months and not enough to meet current expenses. Although some discharges were made on the first of this month, about as many men are now working as were last month.

The Big Comet is proving to be a big property for the Grand Central company. About two car loads of ore per day is the present capacity, which could be greatly increased by a larger force of men.

The Sterling Silver mill is running steadily and satisfactorily on Vizina ore. Over 7,300 ounces of fine bullion has been shipped since the mill started up and another bar will be ready to-day or to-morrow. The two large buddles are ready to run but the supply of water is not quite sufficient to run them and Superintendent Fisher has let a contract to run a drift from the bottom of the well eighty-five feet south, to where the water was struck by the diamond drill. Work was commenced yesterday and an immense flow of water will undoubtedly be the result.

The Stonewall has started up and it is reported that parties have leased it from the owners and made arrangements to supply a certain amount of manganese ore to the El Paso smelters.

The Omega mine is producing considerable good ore and is improving every day under the management of Superintendent Burns. The ore in this mine is found in pockets and this last deposit promises to be a good one.

Sinking continues on the Rattling Boy, but as yet pay ore has not been encountered. This claim adjoins the Silver Plume, which was purchased recently by the Grand Central company for $40,000, and from which a large quantity of good ore has been taken from the lower levels. The Rattling Boy and Silver Plume are both south extensions of the Emerald mine and no doubt the same rich ore will be found when sufficient depth is attained.

The Old Guard remains idle and will probably continue so until the formation of a new company, which will be several months yet.

The Herschell continues to ship first-class ore in rather large quantities. At the present time this mine is producing the richest ore of any mine in this district, except one. The company has made a good investment in this property.

A shipment of about twenty-two tons of ore was made from the north-west shaft of the Toughnut mine yesterday to El Paso. This mine is now being cleaned up and put in proper shape to work, so that at any time the company conclude to commence active operations the mine will be ready. About two months more will be required to put the mine in proper condition.

Wedding Bells.
George Thiel, of Fairbank, was married last Sunday evening to Miss Lydia Colburn, of Hannibal, Missouri, the ceremony taking place in that city at the residence of C. F. Rich. Mr. Thiel is well known to Tombstoneites, and is a successful business man of Fairbank. The newly mated couple arrived at their future home yesterday and were warmly congratulated by their many friends. The DAILY EPITAPH congratulates.

Charles Bassett was severely scalded at the Sterling Silver mill last Monday night. He accidentally stepped one foot through the manhole over one of the pans, and his leg was badly burned. He is getting better, however, but will not be able to resume work for several weeks.

The Iron Duke to His Soldiers.
"Do your duty," were the words of Lord Wellington to his soldiers just before the battle of Waterloo and history tells us how well they obeyed. The same advice might properly be given to every living man at this time. There are many men who would do their whole duty in time of war or great need, but when there is no such great occasion, neglect their plain simple duties to their God, their families and themselves. It is not for want of honor nor because they do not love their families, but from pure neglect; as an instance, statistics compiled by the national authorities show that more deaths result from bowel complaints than any other one cause, except consumption, yet not more than one family in six are provided with medicines that will relieve or cure the diseases. It is the duty of every man to protect their families, and they are certainly at least, guilty of criminal carelessness if they neglect to do so. The best remedy there is for the purpose only costs but 25 cents. The article we refer to is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. It is a certain cure for eruptions, colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhea, bloody flux, cholera infantum, and bowel complaint in all its forms. For sale by H. J. Peto.

Idleness is a Dangerous Fault

In the kidneys. When inactive they speedily fall into despair. Those obstinate and fatal maladies, Bright's disease and diabetes, ensue with terrible certainty upon the inaction of the organs affected. Catarrh of the bladder, enuresis, gravel and strangury are also to be apprehended from a partial paralysis of the bladder, of which weakness and sluggishness are the causes. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a fine tonic and promoter of activity for the renal organs, and one which can be relied upon to afford them the requisite stimulus without exciting them—an effect to be feared from the unmedicated alcoholic excitant of commerce. A further beneficial effect of the Bitters, by renewing activity of the kidneys, is to enable them to drain from the blood in its passage through them, impurities productive of rheumatism and dropsy. Nervousness, fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia are conquered by the Bitters.

Tourists.
