Messrs. M. T. Williams, C. H. Arnold, T. A. Atchison, Wm. Harwood, D. H. MacNeil, A. P. Wade and others left last evening for Tucson. Cause: A small piece of paper on which the words "juror" and "Tucson" appeared.

The new jury system of the two Dakotas is to the effect that nine of the twelve men can bring in a verdict. The two new States are starting out well and evidently intend to prevent jury-bribing, to a great degree, as well as to save much expensive litigation arising from "hung" juries.

If kicking amounted to anything the entire court, officers, witnesses, and everything in general in and around Tucson would be taking a bath in the Pacific ocean by this time. But kicking doesn't seem to have the desired effect and Tucson gathers in the surrounding residents just as easy as if nobody had said a word. If the old saying about anathemas and chickens returning home to roost is true there are some awfully tough days in store for Tombstone yet. It is no wonder that the atmosphere of Tucson is always warm and often exceedingly toxic.

Outside Notes.

Hon. Geo. H. Daily returned from Tucson yesterday. He says the story of his losing $600 is not exactly correct. He did lose a pocketbook containing some checks and valuable personal papers and thinks the loss occurred on the train between Fairbank and Benson. Payment of the checks has been stopped. In speaking of Tucson Mr. Daily says that about 400 residents of Graham county are in that city, either as witnesses or jurors in the Wham robbery case, and more are arriving every day. Times are very lively in Tucson at present and the hotels, restaurants and saloons are doing a rushing business. Mr. Daily visited Casa Grande and reports that place as very lively on account of the canal, which is nearly completed to the railroad. Large quantities of lumber is being shipped there and houses are being erected in all places where the water of the canal will reclaim the land. The canal runs through a section of land belonging to Mr. Daily and he is making extensive preparations to put it under cultivation as a fruit farm.

Land Grants.

The following is taken from Governor Wolfley's report: Our Territory has a number of land grants that aggregate a very large area. Most of them have been reported on by the Surveyor General and are now before Congress.

It is to be hoped that Congress will at an early day take action thereon. Non-action tends to very greatly unsettle all the country around these grants. In most instances the Surveyor General has cut down the limits claimed by the grant owners, and outside these lines thus outlined settlers will and do claim the right to settle, while of course the grant owners attempt to hold to their outer limits, and this often causes serious trouble, and there never will be quiet until the titles are finally determined.

Then, too, there are some that are entirely fraudulent and should be wiped out. Among these is the pretended Peralta grant, claiming one hundred and fifty miles long by fifty miles wide, and covering the very best portion of the Territory.

I have had occasion to very carefully study this grant, and my very decided opinion is that it is an entire fraud, and that the government should bring criminal suits against Reavis and those directly aiding him as heirs to the supposed title.

A New York paper gravely announces that it has undertaken the herculean task of deciding who is the prettiest woman in that city. Wonder what isolated portion of the globe the proprietors intend to fly to after the decision is announced?

A Worcester journal claims to have a lady subscriber who has been reading the paper for eighty-four years. This tops our record by a few years, but if we can manage to hang on for about eighty-three years more we'll come mighty near catching up with our above inflated eastern contemp.

A contagious eye disease has made its appearance in the public schools of Chilton, Wis. Some ten or twelve scholars have been attacked, and the disease is rapidly spreading. As soon as the disease is noticeable the pupil is sent home. They generally recover in about four days. The disease is of such a nature as to inflame the lids and under portions of the eye. The epidemic, it is thought, will spread over the entire schools, as nearly every scholar has been exposed.

A Desirable Concession.

The Santa Fe road has made a concession to the stock interests which should be greatly appreciated by cattle raisers of the southwest. An order has been issued that, says the Stock Grower, a feeding-in train rate goes into effect. It is materially lower than the present rate, and as it allows Kansas feeders to ship from this Territory or Arizona to their feed lots, fatten them and ship on to market at a through rate it should encourage the sale of feeders in the section of range country through which the Santa Fe runs. W. H. H. Lewlyn, the active stock agent of the road, has been largely instrumental in securing this desirable concession.

No romantic tale ever had so many incidents as that of a young woman of Bismarck. She was very beautiful, and all the young men who were in the district fell in love with her. She had a hundred offers of marriage before she was twenty and before she accepted the 101st. Then her trouble began. Her first fiance died suddenly from an accident; the second was taken away with the army; likewise the third and fourth; the fifth and sixth were drowned; the seventh and eighth broke off on learning of the smallness of her fortune; the ninth got drunk on his betrothal day and tried to beat the young woman, so she broke it off; the tenth seemed promising in every way, but as the marriage was about to take place it was learned that he had a wife and children in Bessarabia. The wedding was fixed for the eleventh, but he decamped for some unknown reason, and thereupon the young woman gave it up and poisoned herself.

A candidate for postmaster at Manistique, Michigan, sent the following open letter to President Harrison: "Of course we are one of the many aspirants for the, to be, to-wit: new postmastership. Quite a number are around loose in the city, and the woods are full of them. We can all show scars received in the service of the grand old party. We cannot all be postmasters, but do come and let us down from the high and dangerous qui vive of expectancy. Let us down easy like, or as easy as you can, from the giddy height, unless you have us pointed for the postmastership. In that case—let 'er go, Gallagher."

Probably the courts do not afford a more curious case than this: In 1859 Mme. Hardouin, of Paris, bought three tickets in a lottery, the capital prize of which was 100,000 francs. By presentation she chose the number 40,643, putting the ticket away among her husband's effects. He became bankrupt, and all of his books were seized. The lottery was drawn in 1861, and 40,643 won the prize. Since then Mme. Hardouin has been accumulating evidence to show that she was the person who bought the ticket, and now expects the judgment in her favor every moment.

Something was thought to be wrong with a hydrant in an Indianapolis house a few days ago and investigation showed that a dead snake four feet long was in the water pipe. We have always heard that Indiana contained some mighty mean men, but when a snake has arrived at the age of discretion under the private care of an Indian and then has to crawl into the water pipe to get a few drops of that much-beard-of-fluid that neither cheers nor inebriates, it strikes us that the man is either to mean to buy whiskey or has joined hands with St. John.

Nine-Tenths Luck.

Says the San Francisco Report of Thursday: H. H. Noble of the San Francisco Board, who worked very hard to develop the Rainbow mine, near Alleghany City, in Sierra county, thinks that successful mining is nine-tenths luck. A ledge near his claim, which he always thought well of and neglected to take up, has since been located by two of his old miners, Messrs. Grant and Appel. They discovered a rich pocket in the ledge, and in one week took out $25,000 from ore crushed in a hand-mortar. Since then they have shipped 105 pounds of gold, valued at about $21,000, to Nevada City. The mine holds out, and the men are likely to become very rich.

John McCree, the third oldest citizen of Pike county, Missouri, seventy-three years old, married, the first wife child born in Pike county, shipped the first boat load of apples to Galena from Pike county and made the first barrel ever manufactured in the county.

John Garnett, a British sailor, died in the Seattle hospital last week. He told his attendants that there was a cache on Apple island, lying between Vancouver island and the main land, that contained $100,000 in gold dust that came from Fraser river. He had no map to give the exact location, but the island is a small one.

Belgium is an uncomfortable country for embezzlers. A cashier employed by the city of Ghent, who embezzled 163,000 francs of the municipal cash, has just caught it very hot indeed. He has been sentenced to forty years' imprisonment and five years' police supervision to follow, has been fined 8,450 francs, ordered to restore the entire sum he has embezzled and will in addition lose all his civil rights.

Dumplings with Royal Baking Powder

No dessert is more delicious, wholesome and appetizing than a well-made dumpling, filled with the fruit of the season. By the use of the Royal Baking Powder the crust is always rendered light, flaky, tender and digestible. Dumplings made with it, baked or steamed, will be dainty and wholesome, no matter when steaming hot with perfect impunity. Recipe.—One quart of flour, through which with three teaspoons of Royal Baking Powder and a small spoonful of salt; rub in a piece of butter or lard the size of an egg, and then add one large potato, grated to the consistency of soft bread dough, one or two cups of sugar, and one cup of raisins, or other fruit as desired, washed and dried, and by it an earthen dish (or steamer) and steam until the fruit is tender. Bake if preferred. In all receipts calling for cream of tartar and soda, substitute Royal Baking Powder. Good trouble, never fails, makes more appetizing and wholesome food and is more economical. Royal Baking Powder is especially adapted for use in the preparation of the finest and most delicate cookery.

A Dig in the Ribs

If on the right side and lower part of the diaphragm, though playfully meant and delivered, is calculated to evoke profanity from a chappy whose liver is out of order. When that region is sore and congested, pokes seem fiendish. Look at a man's countenance ere you prod him under the ribs. If his skin and eyeballs have a sallow tinge, you may infer also that his tongue is furred, his breath apt to be sour, that he has pains not only beneath his ribs, but also under the right shoulderblade. Also, that his bowels are irregular and his digestion impaired. Instead of making a jocose demonstration on his ribs, recommend him to take, and steadily persist in taking, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest anti-bilious and alterative medicine extant. Incomparable is it, also, for dyspepsia, rheumatism, nervousness, kidney trouble, and fever and ague.
