Possibilities of the Phonograph.

Edward Bellamy, author of "Looking Backward," has just written a fanciful sketch entitled "With the Eyes Shut," in which he describes an approaching phonographic age. The uses which are found for the phonograph are novel and amusing. Passengers on the railway trains are supplied with phonographic literature, so that their eyes are not injured by reading in a jolting coach. The names of the stations are announced by phonograph in clear tones which form a striking contrast to the incomprehensible gibberish of the ordinary brakeman. Mr. Bellamy describes a night's experience in a hotel. He was startled from his dreams by the sound of a voice. He continues: "What had startled me was the voice of a young woman who could not have been standing more than ten feet from my bed. If the tones of her voice were a guide she was not only a young woman but a very charming one. 'My dear sir,' she had said, 'you may possibly be interested in knowing that it now wants just a quarter of three.'" His terror vanished when he discovered that the voice issued from a clock which was equipped with a phonographic announcing apparatus.

So far as known only one of the delegates appointed from this county to attend the silver convention will be present. Of the alternates, there is possibly one who will go. The enthuse seems to have died away with the advance in silver. If all other delegates and alternates were to act in a similar manner the number at the convention could be counted very quickly. Appointees in other portions of the Territory are about the same. This is hardly right. Arizona should send a strong delegation, to show that we at least have an important interest in the price of silver.

The Phenix Gazette says that "in Mexico there are forty-eight languages spoken, among them being the Nahuatl, Huasteco, Mame, Totonasco, Tarasco, Popoloco and Juba, and a candidate for office has to drink pulque in all of them or quit politics." Good gracious! We've been struggling for months and months to be able to get away with mesal in one language and thought we had progressed sufficiently to make a trip to that country in the dim hereafter, but we guess we'll go the other way. Just think of forty-eight languages, of which the above seven are only a sample.

Governor Wolfley has pardoned Jesus A. Vott, the Mexican who refused to escape with the eight Indians who murdered Sheriff Reynolds and Deputy Holmes near Riverside. The petitions from Globe and Pinal county contained over 200 names and showed meritorious grounds for executive clemency.—Phenix Herald.

A plain gold wedding ring, between Nacosari and the old Nicholas ranch, in Sonora, about fifteen days ago. The owner can have the same by calling on Henry Campbell, at the Pony saloon, in this city, proving property and paying for this advertisement.

People Talked About.

Prince Leon Galitzen, a judge at the Paris Exposition, tasted 30,000 varieties of wine, it is said, during the past three months.

George W. Childs says that the friends of General Grant have finally decided to remove his body to West Point, or Arlington Cemetery.

Sir Francis Grenfell has an extremely wealthy aunt, who wrote him a check for $50,000 when she heard the account of his brilliant victory in Egypt.

I wouldn't give 10 cents to hear Ingersoll on "The Mistakes of Moses," but I'd give $10 to hear Moses on the mistakes of Ingersoll.—Sam Jones.

An American orator, at a dinner at the Grand Hotel in London, recently made use of the following metaphor in his speech: Let the Russian bear put his paw upon the fair land of Australia and the British lion, the American eagle and the Australian kangaroo will rise up as one man and drive him ignominiously to his lair.

While Dom Pedro has always been respected by the Brazilian people, the latter have had a strong dislike for his daughter, Princess Isabella, his successor to the throne. She has striven to rule the people at her will. Dom Pedro has resorted to various schemes to make her popular, but to no avail. One of the latest unsuccessful schemes was the departure of Dom Pedro around the world, leaving his daughter to reign. During his absence it was arranged that the question of abolishing slavery should be presented to the government. Princess Isabella, in the absence of the monarch, proclaimed the negroes' freedom, and when Dom Pedro returned he expected to find his daughter a favorite with his subjects, but his ruse had been understood by the latter and only increased their hatred for the princess.

The Chamber of Torture.

Is the apartment to which the unhappy sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism is confined. Here the crisis of pain is reached, that fine preventive, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is used by persons of a rheumatic tendency, much unnecessary suffering is avoided. Nervines, anodynes and sedatives, while having none but a specific effect, are yet very desirable at times. Yet can they produce no lasting effect upon rheumatism, because they have no power to eliminate from the blood the rheumatic virus. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does this, and checks at the outset a disease which, if allowed to gain headway, is next to impossible to dislodge or to do more than relieve. Rheumatism, it should be remembered, is a disease with a fatal tendency from its proneness to attack the heart. A resort to the Bitters should, therefore, be prompt. Dyspepsia, kidney complaint, malaria and nervousness are relieved by it.

Maison Dore.

This old time and popular restaurant still maintains its position as a favorite place for our citizens to regale themselves on all the table delicacies, which are prepared in a toothsome manner and served by polite and attentive waiters. This restaurant makes a specialty of broiled steaks and cutlets, and imports coffee of extra quality, thus being able to furnish the best cup of coffee obtainable in the city. Fresh fish every day, and an elegant chicken dinner every Sunday.

Swiss's Serravallo cured me of malignant Blood Poison after I had been treated in vain with old so-called remedies of Mercury and Potash. S. S. S. not only cured the Blood Poison, but relieved the inflammation which was caused by the poisonous minerals. GEO. BOVILLI, 3121 34 Avenue, N. Y.

Scarcely developed on my daughter—swelling and drops on her neck. We gave her Swiss's Serravallo, and the result was wonderful and the cure complete. S. A. DRUMMOND, Cleveland, Tenn.

Swiss's Serravallo is entirely a vegetable remedy, and is the only medicine which permanently cures scrofula, Blood Humors, Cancer and Contagious Blood Poison. Send for books on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.

HENRY CAMPBELL, Proprietor.

At the conference last evening Diamond Joe assured the citizen's committee of five that it rested with our people now to say whether we should have the north and south road or not. If the issue of county bonds, as heretofore voted, were guaranteed until Congress ratified the vote, and the $100,000 of bonds were taken, with a provision for right of way and terminal and depot facilities, surveys would be put in the field at once and work begun.—Phenix Herald.

The question has been raised in North Dakota whether Congress did not, in admitting the four new States, inadvertently repeal the entire pre-emption law. It looks as if it was intended to repeal the eighth section of the act of 1841 as to the donation of 500,000 acres of public improvements, but the text includes not only the repeal of that section, but of the whole law.
