HEAT induces idleness, and if "the devil aye some mischief finds for idle hands to do" he'll get a good deal more of it done by leaving his home atmosphere behind him.

THE Mahdi has sent to the Khedive an embassador who draws a pleasing picture of the pastoral life of the Prophet. El Mahdi is represented as liking to have Europeans flock to him, but it is incidentally observed that "none of the tracks point backward."

THERE is great excitement in western texas over the reported discovery of bituminous coal. It is said to be superior to the Indian Territory article, which has hither to been the only dependence of coal-burning locomotives. There is good reason to believe that Texas contains an immence amount of coal, but it has not yet been discovered. A vast quantity of lignite has been utilized by blacksmiths.

THE monster parade of the Salvation Army yesterday, when it presented to the House of Commons a petition, signed by 500,000 persons, asking for the passage of the criminal amendment raising the age of consent in girls from 13 to 18 years, was one of the most remarkable events in English history. Other petitions have been as large, and other processions as great, but they were for the accomplishment of some material or political object. This, however, was in the interest of pure morality, and in that respect is unique. It will not do to ignore the Salvation Army, or any other organization that can accomplish such a result.

Austria.

Mr. Francis, the retiring United States Minister, had a farewell interview with Count Kalnoky, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, yesterday. Count Kalnoky assured Mr. Francis the present slight cloud in the relations of America and Austria would soon disappear.

Galloped to Wedlock.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 10.

G. W. Kachne, a well-known man eloped with his divorced wife last night being married in the carriage with the horses going at a full gallop to catch a train. He married two and a half years ago Lily Emma Rogers, the beautiful daughter of a widow, who is wealthy, but who runs a market coffee stand.

Last May his wife sued him for and obtained a divorce, alleging failure to provide for her and ill treatment. Kachne denied all her allegations.

Nobody suspected them of communicating, but last night Kachne drove up an alley to the woodshed of a neighbor of Mrs. Rogers. Mrs. Kachne rushed out of the woodshed, jumped into the carriage, the horses were put to a gallop to escape the woman's mother. A minister, a friend of Kachne, was already in the carriage, and the ceremony was performed en route to the depot.

The happy re-united pair got on a train and are hidden in happy seclusion. Rev. John Boltzey, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, officiated. It is now said that Mrs. Rogers was responsible for the separation, wanting her daughter to marry a rich old fellow, and that the stories of ill treatment were made up.

Kachne is a traveler for a Chicago house and had a good income. The mother-in-law took advantage of his absence to poison her daughter's mind. She meant to send her daughter out of town to keep her from her husband. She is very mad over the elopement, especially as the detective she hired to watch Kachne's wife turned out an active emissary of the husband and planned the elopement. Everybody is happy except the old lady.
