Thursday Pat. McCarty of McCarty brothers, the prosperous Huachuca ranchers and stockraisers, brought a load of their famous apples and peaches to town. It only took him about five minutes to sell out.

Thursday J. H. Talbot and his estimable wife went to the coast. It was their intention to go down to the mines but at the last moment they decided to go to the coast for a couple of weeks' outing.

Francisco Azcona, wife and children and Mrs. A. Bustamante, wife of the merchant prince of Guaymas, and mother of Mrs. Azcona, were passengers on Thursday morning's delayed northbound train en route to San Francisco.

It is with pleasure that THE VIDETTE announces the almost complete recovery of Captain L. W. Mix, from his serious illness caused by falling from his windmill. He is again on the street looking splendid, although his left hand is still being treated by Dr. Ray Ferguson.

Master Car Repairer Dickerman and his wrecking crew spent Thursday night in Nogales, having come down from the scene of Wednesday evening's freight wreck, which they soon cleared away. Engineer Donnelly, the Irish orator and Shakespearean scholar was at the throttle.

This week Nogales has been visited by a party of distinguished California capitalists who are interested in the San Calletano Mining and Smelting company. The party composed the following gentlemen who were chaperoned about by Gaston Schawb: Dr. L. A. Teague, Dr. C. W. Hibbard Mr. Mayer and Mr. Miller, attorney for the company.

Freight train No. 38 was ditched near Calabasas last Wednesday night and three cars badly wrecked. Fortunately no one was hurt and Master Car Repairer Dickerman and his wrecking crew soon had the road clear and traffic was resumed after a delay of only about six hours. It is said the train was running at a slow rate of speed and the cause of the accident could not be learned.

This week "Mollie Smith," a most charming young lady, possessed of a thorough knowledge of books, has occupied a desk in County Recorder Phil Herold's office.

Paul Heermans, representing Heermans Stationery Company of Tucson, spent several days in Nogales this week in the interest of his house. Paul is a good hustler and while here did a splendid business in the way of taking orders for office supplies. Yesterday morning he returned home.

A two-round contest with "bare knucks," between two females occurred on Morley avenue last Wednesday night about the hour of twelve. With the exception of a few body blows and a little hair-pulling no damage was done. The night marshal didn't happen to be there and no arrests were made.

Thursday Manager Will Geoghehan of the Southwestern Commercial company went to Benson on the delayed train to meet Mrs. Geoghehan and two children who were on their way to Nogales from San Diego. The Geoghehans will on September first move into the house on Morley avenue now occupied by Mr. A. S. Noon and family.

W. L. Burton, the accredited traveling representative in Arizona for the well known hardware house of Simmons & Co., after several days visit in Nogales, left Thursday afternoon on the delayed passenger for the north. The gentleman reported having done a splendid business in the line cities. From here he went to Phoenix.

E. L. Oakes of Harshaw was in the city yesterday on his way to San Francisco to attend the meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic. Mr. Oakes has recently returned from the east where he has been for some time visiting friends and relatives. Speaking of mining in the Harshaw district he said that it was rather quiet at present, although the outlook is very good for the winter.—Star.

D. N. Phillips, general manager of the Mexican-American Mining & Development company's San Ricardo mine, is up from the mines on a visit with Mrs. Phillips, who is sojourning in Nogales for a couple of months. Mr. Phillips says there is now at La Poza station a 5-stamp mill which will be hauled to the San Ricardo and in running order within forty days.

This week Mr. Sid Kempton, an old time Arizona mining man, well and favorably known in Phoenix mining circles, has been a business visitor in Nogales from Sonora where for a number of years he has been operating. A short time ago Mr. Kempton sold a copper mine in Sonora and his friends will be glad to know he is prospering. A number of years ago he operated the Old Vulture mine near Phoenix and made lots of money.

Robert Carew, the popular brakeman on the north end is glad he is alive. He was on freight train No. 38 last Wednesday when it went into the ditch. When the cars turned over Bob, who was on top of the one containing mescal, made a record-breaking jump and landed clear of the wreck. The only injury he received was a slight scratch on one of his legs. Bob has had many close calls but none with such a close margin as the last.

John M. Hess of Chicago, representing capitalists in that city, stopped over in Benson on Saturday last leaving in the evening for Nogales. From there he will go to the Promontorio mine in Sonora, which mine he will thoroughly inspect for his company. The Promontorio is one of the ancient mines of Mexico, having been worked during the early occupation of the country by the Spanish, when it was known as the Tumacacori mine. The mine has never been practically worked or developed, although the workings are very extensive, there being twelve miles of underground work, so it is said. The ore is assorted and shipped out on burros to the railroad, and is then sent to El Paso for treatment. The ore gives returns of from $3,000 to $8,000 per carload. Should the Chicago people take the property, they will put up extensive reduction works on the ground and develop the mine in a systematic manner.—Benson Press

Last Thursday a Mexican coachman was killed on the road between Minas Prietas and Zubiate mines. He was terribly mutilated by his assassins who are supposed to have been Yaquis.

Pablo Soto, who recently returned from a prospecting trip to the Yaqui River has accepted a position in the grocery department of the Southwestern Commercial company's store. Soto understands the business.

Last night in San Francisco, Jeffries put "Gentleman Jim" Corbett to sleep in the tenth round. The report of the fight was received in Nogales last night by rounds and local lovers of the pugilistic art turned out in force.

At the hour of going to press the case of the Territory vs. John Stein, charged with indecent exposure, was on trail in Justice Ashley's court, District Attorney Duffy is representing the territory and D. G. Chalmers is attorney for the defendant.

If you want a real Favorita Cigar—3 for 10 cents American money, go to Jehn Jundi's old stand, now presided over by Pete Cazaban, the veteran saloon man. He also sells three fingers of the famous McBryer for 10 cents American. Charley Castile is head salesman.

A. M. Conard, who for the past two years has held the responsible position of assistant general manager for the Hays Consolidated Mining, Milling & Lumber Co. whose big holdings are in Sonora and Arizona, has resigned. It is understood T. W. Hand of Alabama, a heavy stockholder in the company, has accepted the position caused by Mr. Conard's resignation. Mr. Conard is in poor health and will now take a well earned rest.

Last Thursday while four small boys of Nogales, Sonora, were out hunting a shot gun was accidentally discharged and 13-year-old Arturo Vasquez was shot in the face, from the effects of which he died a few hours later, in terrible agony. Arturo was a son of Catarino Vasquez of the Times office, and a brother of Rafael Sousa an employe in THE VIDETTE office. The funeral of the unfortunate boy took place yesterday forenoon.

Superintendent of Schools W. A. O'Connor is in receipt of a letter from Superintendent of Public Instruction Layton, saying that there will be no change in the textbooks for the public schools of the Territory, except in readers. The Progressive series of readers have been selected instead of the Appleton series that have been in use. The Board of Education adopted the following books to be used in the advanced grades of the Grammar Schools: Wentworth's New School of Algebra, Meyers' General History, Davis' Elements of Physical Geography, Fisher & Patterson's Elementary Physics and Stowell's Essentials of Health. For school libraries the board recommended the following books: Sprague's Classic readers, Carpenter's Geographical readers and the Riverside Literature Series. Circulars will be sent to the school officers and teachers as soon as possible.
