All children are to be admitted free on Children's Day, on Monday, November 3rd. Every child in the state is expected to be present on the first day of the state fair and a splendid program has been prepared.

J. M. Hackett, proprietor of the Rosario, one of the promising silver properties in the Santa Rita, near Tucson, has entered the list of shippers. He has a number of sacks already on the platform of the Espee, and more coming in as fast as they can be brought. The ore is said to be a high grade silver. It also contains a quantity of lead.

From the fact that the county records are in danger of being destroyed by fire, the board of supervisors Wednesday included an allowance of 12,000 for a hall of records in the budget for 1913, which specifies $275,885.02 as the sum necessary to run Pima county. A public hearing will be held on August 11 at which taxpayers will be heard on this and other proposed estimates.

There are in Arizona forty-three state banks and thirteen national banks, fifty-six in all, and the combined capital stock is $3,044,738. Looking into the auditors report in detail it appears that on June 14 of last year the total resources of these fifty-six banks was $29,312,624.36 and on June 4 of this year they were $37,073,723.37, a gain of $7,761,099.01, or more than 26 per cent for the year.

Work on the Daniels mine, near Old Baldy mountain, has progressed to such an extent that it was expected that the main ledge of ore would be struck today. The force of ten men employed at the mine have a shaft sunk to a depth of 60 feet and have been cross-cutting an equal distance and today expected to strike the ore, which is of high grade calcopryrite. The mine is owned by B. F. Daniels and is one of the most promising properties.

The last canteloupe train, passed through Tucson Wednesday from the Imperial Valley on its way east. The 1913 season has been the largest yet since the shipping of the California near-fruit to eastern markets began. This year the 70 trains contained 3,200 cars, while last year there were 54 trains with 2,500 cars of the loaded melons. The shipping season this year extended over approximately 30 days and required the employment of 12 extra train crews on the Tucson division.

Arizona Postal Changes.

The last Postal Guide put out by the department at Washington contains the following corrected list of the postal stations in Arizona, those which have been discontinued and those established. Those established are:

Name changed: Langhorne, Pima county, to Rillito.

Discontinued: Cerbat, Mohave county, mail to Kingman. Cline, Gila county, mail to Roosevelt. Craig, Apache county, mail to Saint Johns. Harrington, Yavapai county, mail to Crown King; Iron King, Yavapai county, mail to Dewey. Joppa, Navajo county, mail to Heber. Lincolnia, Mohave county, mail to Needles, California. Poland, Yavapai county, mail to Huron. Sycamore, Yavapai county, mail to Mayer, Calabasas, mail to Nogales.

Business discontinued at Iron Springs, Yavapai county.

Corrections. Cibecui is now in Navajo county. McAllister, Cochise county instead of McAllister. Servoss instead of Servass. Whipple Barracks P. O. instead of Prescott.

DRY FARMING IN ARIZONA.

Prof. Clothier of the University Issues Valuable Bulletin.

Requests for the new bulletin just issued by the University of Arizona Experiment Station, entitled "Dry Farming in the Arid Southwest," are coming in from all parts of the state and the publication promises to be one of the most popular ever put out by the university. The book is the work of Prof. R. W. Clothier, and in writing for it persons should specify Bulletin No. 70. The work is free for the asking.

The bulk of the Bulletin is taken up with an exhaustive record of the university's experiments with dry farming in the Sulphur Spring Valley of southwestern Arizona at an altitude of approximately 4000 feet. The figures given include rainfall, moisture, determination of soil, yields, and all other statistics which would be of interest or value to the dry cultivator. References are made also to the somewhat different type of dry farming practiced in mountain regions at above 6,000 to 7,000 feet.

One of the most important features of the bulletin is the verdict announced about the much advertised "summer fallowing." Prof. Clothier's experiments have been of a most thorough and exhausting nature, and his final conclusion is that so far as Arizona is concerned, summer fallowing is of a little value either for yields or for the conservation of extra moisture. He points out that this failure of a method highly praised elsewhere may be due to the excessive evaporation.

The latter portion of the pamphlet is taken up with a discussion of the various crop plants such as corn, beans, sorghum, winter grains, and others. On the whole the bulletin is one of the most important ever issued by the University and the Arizona dry farmer will be missing something of great value to him if he neglects to obtain a copy.

"Dad, Here's to You."

We happened in a home one night, and over the parlor door saw the legend worked in letters of red, "What is Home Without a Mother." Across the room was another brief "God Bless Our Home," says an exchange.

Now what's the matter with "God Bless Our Dad." He gets up early, lights the fire, boils an egg and wipes off the dew of the dawn with his boots, while many a mother is sleeping. He makes the weekly hand-out for the butcher, the grocer, the milkman and baker, and his little pile is badly worn before he has been home an hour.

If there is a noise during the night dad is kicked in the back and made to go down stairs to find the burglar and kill him. Mother darns the socks, but dad bought the socks in the first place, and the needles and the yarn afterwards. Mother does up the fruit; well, dad bought it all, and jars and sugar cost like the mischief.

Dad buys the chickens for the Sunday dinner, carves them himself, and draws the neck from the ruins after everyone else is served. "What is Home Without a Mother?" Yes, that is all right, "but what is home without a father?" Ten chances to one it's a boarding house, father is under a slab and the landlady is the widow. Dad, here's to you—you've got your faults—you may have lots of 'em—but you're all right and we will miss you when you're gone.

Meeting of Supervisors Called.

For the purpose of arriving at a more equitable equalization of values on all classes of property in the state than has heretofore been had, the state tax commission, through its secretary, Jesse L. Boyce, has sent out notices calling for a meeting on July 28 of all the fourteen county assessors in Arizona, the boards of supervisors and the clerks of the boards.

The meeting is to be held in the office of the commission in the capitol building. The clerks of the boards are asked to bring with them the original assessment rolls of their country. The tax commission will go through the assessors' books with the supervisors and it is believed this will be a better way to equalize property valuations between the different counties. This is a new departure in the way of equalization. Heretofore there has been no systematic effort to equalize the valuations as there should be on all classes of property.

More Land for Homesteaders.

Through the activity of Senator Henry F. Ashurst, a member of the senate committee on Indian affairs and of Democratic Committeeman Reese M. Ling, the Colorado River Indian reservation will soon be open to entry and the people of northern Yuma county, of which the prosperous town of Parker is the center, will begin an era of expansion unequalled in any other part of the west with the possible exception of the Salt River valley.

For the past few sessions of congress bill after bill has been introduced applying for the distribution of the land within the reservation, and the throwing open of the reservation to settlement. For several years a well established company of capitalists has been ready to place a diversion dam on the Arizona side of the Colorado river, a short distance below Parker, for the purpose of irrigating this fertile, yet dry land. Without an act of congress, authorizing the opening of the reservation the settlement of the land is at a standstill.—Arizona Democrat.
