BROWN AN EASY WINNER.

Puts the Pride of Twelfth Out in Second Round.

Last Sunday afternoon at the Ramirez Theatre, in Nogales, Sonora, lovers of the manly art, several hundreds of them, witnessed a first-class exhibition, when K. O. Brown of San Rafael valley, put Kid Mishkind of the Twelfth Infantry, to sleep in the second round.

There were two preliminary bouts before the big event, one between Young Schaefer and Kid Allen, the other between Kid Pina of Phoenix and Young Hassen of Nogales.

In the third round Schaefer hammered his opponent to pieces, and was announced the winner.

The bout between Pina and Hassen demonstrated that the Phoenix lad, with an opponent near his class, could give an exhibition worth the price. Hassen was not in the game for a minute.

The fight between Brown and Mishkind, while it lasted, was well worth the money, and should Manager Raphael succeed in arranging for a fight between "Kock Out and Brown" and Joe Elliott, champion of the Twelfth Infantry, the big play house in Nogales, Sonora, would not hold the crowd.

Just before the fight Elliott sent a challenge to the winner.

The first round was a fast one, honors about even. Mishkind showed great cleverness as a boxer, and Brown proved himself a sure-enough fighter of the old school, a general in the ring. No one doubted the outcome, it was only a matter of time when the soldier boy would "duck" himself out of the game.
Brown's punch would help do the trick.

In the second round, the boys mixed things in fine shape, during which Brown hooked a right on Mishkind's jaw and the pride of the Twelfth stayed for the count, then some.

The entertainment was well worth the price.

A QUIET WEDDING.

Last Monday evening Mr.
Frank E. Stevens, popular sales agent for the Cerro de Plata Mining Company, of this city, and Miss Guadalupe L. Jauregui, a charming young society lady of Hermosillo, Sonora, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The ceremony which was performed by Judge Gittins, was witnessed by a few relatives and intimate friends of the happy bride and groom, who will in future make Nogales their home.

We join their many friends, here and throughout Sonora, in wishing them a long and happy life as man and wife.
