Best Haskell of Flagstaff, federal inspector of sheep in Arizona, is in the city enroute to desert ranges on official investigation of different flocks, and will be engaged all winter, from the number estimated—over one million head.—Prescott Journal.

The experimental range on the side of the Santa Rita mountains, which has been closed for several years, will soon be opened to about 700 head of cattle. The privilege of grazing this tract has been let to F. Ruelas. W. B. MacBeath and William Nicholson.

McMahon, an employe of the Santa Fe at the roundhouse at Winslow was electrocuted by a live wire while at work last Saturday and died instantly. He was using the big electric hoisting crane when he accidentally came in contact with an uncovered wire heavily charged and was killed instantly.

Plans for the Arizona Cattle Growers' Convention to be held at Prescott next month are being made and the program is being completed. It is understood that Dwight B. Heard, president of the National Cattle Growers' Association, and Supervisor Kerr of the District Forest Service at Albuquerque will be among the speakers.

Arizona trappers of furs may renew their labors this fall with the assurance of receiving much higher prices than last season. Raw furs are higher than ever known in some instances. The pelts of grey foxes, coyotes and wildcats are wanted, as well as other furs, and much money can be made by those who pay attention to trapping this year.—International.

A sentence of life imprisonment was passed on Jesse Lovell, negro soldier convicted of rape committed on the Fort Huachuca reservation, by Judge Sawtelle Monday in the United States court. The penalty for such an offense is death, but the jury recommended a life sentence instead. He will be sent to the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth.—Tucson Star.

The Tom Reed has drifted into the ore body on the 1175 or twelfth level of that great mine and finds it as rich as on any of the other levels. The drift has been continued for several days in the ore, being carried six feet wide. How much wider the ore is has not been ascertained, but it is thought to be just as wide as in the level above, where about sixteen feet of ore was cut.

Sheriff Wheeler and his bondsmen, the United States Fidelity & Guarantee company, have been made defendants in an action in the superior court for damages in the sum of $1,000. The suit is entitled, Carmen Quijada vs H. C. Wheeler as Sheriff et al, and was filed by S. K. Williams as attorney for the plaintiff. Search of premises without warrant or order of court, is alleged.—Bisbee Review.

A trunk full of booze arrived at the Arizona & Eastern depot last Friday morning and almost instantly the minions of the law were on the trail of the suspected owner of the trunk. Soon thereafter Dick Troxel was found and a search brought forth the real load baggage check for the booze laden trunk. Dick waived preliminary examination and was released on $500 bonds to await trial in the superior court.—Florence Blade.

J. F. Miller came to Kingman yesterday from his camp, twelve miles east of Yucca, where he and others have been at work on a new find of tungsten ores. The big dike in which the tungsten is found traverses the country for a long distance and wherever opened shows good values in the metal. A vein twelve feet wide paralleling the dike also runs high in tungsten. Work has been done on the vein and a good showing of ore has been made.

Warden B. Sims of the state prison at Florence was not in contempt of the supreme court of Arizona when on November 26, he refused to execute Wm. Faltin, the condemned murderer as had been ordered by that tribunal. While the court finds that Mr. Sims overstepped somewhat his provinces in his failure to see that the man was hanged on the date set for execution, yet the court is inclined to believe that he was acting in good faith and not with the intention of going against the order of the court.

A shorter hunting season, a reduction of the bag limit and an increase in the license fees are among the provisions of a new game law for which initiation petitions will shortly be placed in circulation. The new measure which is being drafted by state game warden Willard will reduce the limit on deer to one male each season and will shorten the season on deer, turkey, doves, whitewings and quail. An increase in the resident license fee to $1.00 is contemplated as is also a reduction of the foreign license fee.—Bisbee Review.

OLD AJO MINING DISTRICT.

Great Future in Store for Big Copper Camp.

Ajo, located about forty-five miles south of Gila Bend, Ariz., and approximately southwest of Tucson, is one of the oldest mining districts of North America and has been the scene of more or less mining activity since the time of the Spanish conquest. Within the past two years the Calumet and Arizona company, one of the largest mining operators in the state, acquired the Ajo properties, thoroughly experimented with the ore and proved beyond doubt the great commercial value of the deposit. This resulted in the plans for a 4000-ton daily capacity mill being designed, the construction of which is alone awaiting the completion of the branch from the Southern Pacific from Gila Bend, Ariz., to Ajo, and which is under contract to be finished by January 10, 1916.

Opportunity never presented a more open field to the aggressive than will be presented here in the next few years where upon untouched ground there will spring up a populace estimated to reach 5,000 people and with possibilities of many other promising prospects and undeveloped resources being brought to a point of commercial advantage.—Sun.

Striking Points in President Wilson's Message.

The department of war contemplates an increase of the standing force of the regular army from its present strength of 5,023 officers and 102,985 enlisted men to 7,136 officers and 134,707 enlisted men, and supplementing the army by a force of 400,000 disciplined citizens. It will be to the advantage of the country for congress to adopt a comprehensive plan for putting the navy upon a final footing of strength and efficiency.

The gravest threats against our national peace and safety have been uttered within our own borders.

It is necessary for many weighty reasons of national efficiency and development that we should have a great merchant marine.

It seems to me a clear dictate of prudent statesmanship and frank finance that in what we are now to undertake we should pay as we go. We should be following an almost universal example of modern government if we were to draw the greater part or even the whole of the revenues we need from the income taxes.

We have been put to the test in the case of Mexico and we have stood the test. Whether we have benefited Mexico by the course we have pursued remains to be seen. Our concern for the independence and prosperity of the states of Central and South America is not altered.

PATAGONIA.

Interesting News Items Clipped From the Patagonian.

J. C. Longstreet is working on his copper property in the Santa Ritas, above Casa Blanca canyon.

A. H. Glidewell has a small force of men at work on the Indiana group of claims, three miles north of town.

George Wieland gives encouraging reports concerning the work and showings made recently at Jefferson camp.

John Glasson is busy opening up the Bradford property, having a small force of men to start the work, after which an increase will be made.

Mr. Tompkins, who has taken over the Gringo group of claims, is quite ill at Globe with la grippe, and active work at the Gringo will be delayed until his recovery and arrival here.

Lon Parker and Hayden Hunt arrived home this week from a trip to south America. They report a fine trip to the southern continent and enjoyed many new sights at the ports the ships touched.

George B. Hosier and a party of mining men were here Saturday on their way to Jefferson Camp to examine the Buffalo group of claims. This property is owned by James Cochran of Bradford, Pa.

Capt. John H. Cady's history of pioneer days in Arizona has been placed in the hands of publishers in Los Angeles and will soon be ready for distribution. The book has received favorable commendation from the press and will undoubtedly have a large sale.

Albern C. Dalton, Oliver J. Rothrock and Mrs. Mary B. Mowrey made final proof Tuesday to their homesteads in the Elgin section. Jeremiah Hetler and Clarence Creighton of Elgin made final proof yesterday, and George J. White of Sonoita is proving up today.

The winze in the tunnel on the Andes property is still in ore and it looks like C. C. Sanders is going to prove up a big mine on the end of Red Mountain and fulfill the predictions of the former owner, Colonel Richardson, that Red Mountain would produce the biggest mine in the district.

Woody Gatlin, son of Supervisor J. S. Gatlin, a prominent young business man of this section, has taken an interest with O. H. Weaver in the Nogales Cash Grocery. Mr. Weaver and Mr. Gatlin are both well and favorably known here, and have the good wishes of all for a prosperous business career.

Jack Price, owner of The Patagonian, came in from El Paso this week, after an absence of a year, during which he visited his old home in California, and for the past several months has been employed on the Herald in El Paso. Mr. Price will take over The Patagonian, the lease held by H. P. Greene expiring with this issue. He is enthusiastic over the mining possibilities of the Patagonia country and says the prospects of the camp look better to him now than at any time since the establishment of the paper here three years ago.

The Arizona Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis is doing an excellent work in its endeavor to stamp out the great white plague, tuberculosis, and in order to partially meet the expense of its work the association has devised a neat little stamp which it is asking business men and others to use on their stationery and on all packages sent out between now and Christmas. These stamps are sold at one cent each.

The funds raised from the sale of these stamps is all spent for the antituberculosis campaign in the state of Arizona except ten per cent which is paid to the American Red Cross and the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Twitchell Head of Mining Congress

W. B. Twitchell of Phoenix was re-elected governor, F. M. Murphy of Prescott first vice governor, C. A. Grimes of Oatman second vice governor, and W. B. Gohring of Bisbee third vice governor, of the Arizona chapter of the American Mining congress at the annual meeting of the chapter held in Phoenix.

Murphy, Grimes and Gohring held their respective offices during the past year. The old board of directors was also re-elected. About sixteen out-of-town people representing the largest interests in the state, were in Phoenix for the meeting.

The old board of directors re-named consists of J. P. Hodgson, Bisbee; A. J. Pickrell, Prescott; O. D. M. Gaddis, Kingman; W. H. Clark, Holbrook; B. Britton Gottsberger, Miami; Wm. McDermott, Tucson; J. C. Goodwin, Tempe; D. A. Burke, Bouse; Norman Carmichael, Clifton; T. A. Riorden, Flagstaff; L. S. Cates, Ray; Lorenzo Hubbell, Granada; Con O'Keefe, Nogales; Andrew Kimball, Thatcher.—Blade.

Prospecting for Tungsten Mines.

The intense demand for the ores of tungsten during the past few months has stimulated much interest in prospecting for tungsten and in the purchase of tungsten mines. There is, however, as yet a large unfulfilled demand for properties both in the prospecting and in developing stages showing ores of tungsten of sufficient value to work.

During the past few weeks the Arizona State Bureau of Mines has had inquiry from responsible purchasers in the east desiring to purchase tungsten mines, and the bureau will be pleased to communicate the details of any tungsten properties that may be called to its attention. The main object of the Bureau of mines is to stimulate the industry within the State, and one of the best methods of stimulation is the creation of new working properties.

Arizona should be ready to pick the fruit when it is ripe, and the time is ripe for the sale of tungsten properties. Those having such properties for sale should communicate at once with Prof. Charles F. Willis, director Arizona State Bureau of Mines, Tucson, Ariz.—Miner.
