Sheriff Dickinson of Coconino county has purchased a couple of thoroughbred bloodhounds to be used in tracking down criminals. The pups are but eight months old and untrained, but the sheriff will put them through a course of sprouts calculated to make the animals good hunters.

Dates of the 1916 State Fair are November 13th to 18th inclusive. These dates were selected because of the general election being held on November 7th, and for the convenience of the cattle men of the State, who do not finish their fall roundups and shipments until after the first of November.

As a result of the Labor Forward movement, 525 men were initiated into the Miami Miners Union Wednesday night. Up to Tuesday afternoon, 475 applications had been received, but a renewal of the influx of new members brought a total number to be initiated up to 525 before the meeting was convened.—Silver Belt.

Anglers Inn is the name chosen for the new resort soon to be opened on Roosevelt Lake, near the Toato end. The name was suggested by W. H. Haughton of Globe and was selected from a list of more than 150 names sent to the owners of the resort in answer to an advertisement published in the Silver Belt, offering a prize of $10.00 for the most appropriate name suggested.—Miami Silver Belt.

H. B. Imus, who owns control of the Imus tungsten properties, 50 miles south of Hackberry, received a check yesterday morning for $500.16, the net proceeds from the sale of 256 pounds of tungsten concentrates shipped to Pittsburg, Pa., recently. The concentrates were yielded by 600 pounds of ore extracted in doing the location work on nine claims. Mr. Imus is very enthusiastic over the properties.—Miner.

Displaying a free gold specimen weighing one and one half ounces and valued at about $20, W. H. Enderton, superintendent of the La Fortuna mines, declared yesterday that he has discovered the greatest gold-banza in the history of Yuma county, and that the palmy days of the La Fortuna, when that company was shipping gold ore to the value of about $90,000 per month, had reappeared like a ghost in the night.

What is probably the most important gold discovery made in this section for many years was made a few days ago about 25 miles south of Ajo, in Yuma county. The discovery is an old mine and is said by the Indians to be the Lost Frenchman that so many prospectors have been looking for in years past. There is a very large gold ledge exposed on the property and for a distance of 3,000 feet on the surface shows free gold in abundance.

Petitions are circulating to secure sufficient signatures to place prohibitionist candidates in the field in the movement for a state ticket. Those behind the movement hope to get full legislative tickets in everyone of the counties of the state. They want the law to be as severe as the Idaho law, which forbids even the possession of beer, wine or ardent spirits in any form. Their desire is to make a straight fight on the single issue.—Phoenix Messenger.

Attracted by news of the gold strike near Gold Basin, about 50 miles northwest of Hackberry, automobile parties from all parts of the country are passing through Hackberry daily to the scene of the discovery. Reports brought back are very favorable. Parties were out a few days ago for the purpose of looking the ground over with a view of selecting a townsite. Claims have been located for the distance of two miles in almost every direction from the main strike.—Miner.

Only a few years ago one of the big cattlemen of Arizona offered to sell his cattle at less than ten dollar a head and to throw in the range and ranch house for good measure. L. L. Harmon of Tempe called the offer and bought the outfit. His wealth is now computed with six fair sized figures.

The executive committee of the Commercial Club has already started the ball rolling to make Bisbee a flyless town and ordered several thousand swatters that will be furnished by the merchants of the town free of charge to their customers. The money for the purchase of the swatters, was raised by popular subscription among the business men.—Review.

Another winner for Murdock Extension. The latest cause of congratulation is the purchase of a large block of the stock by Hon. Frances Willard Munds, the first and only woman to wear the senatorial toga in the state. Senator Munds has always been a winner from the time she started out in life. She was at the helm when the suffragists won their battle for the vote in Arizona and it was generally conceded that her optimistic utterances over the state had a large influence.—Miner.

The Alabama Queen Mining company, working the Orozco mine just north of the Alto post office, about 15 miles from Patagonia, is in good ore, which appears to increase in value as depth is obtained. The company has purchased five additional claims from Josiah Bond, taking a lease and bond on these for $25,000. Work has started on one of these claims on a shaft and good ore encountered at once. The road is now being improved to reach the county road, and hauling will begin as soon as this improvement is completed.

James Finney, a well known Cochise county mining man, now located in Bisbee but formerly of Douglas, was in the Patagonia country this week, and went out to the Royal Blue mine in the Alto district. The Royal Blue, consisting of five claims in the group, is to be incorporated and developed on a more extensive scale than heretofore. Interested with Mr. Finney in the Royal Blue are Messrs. Hook and Sennett, Josiah Bond and Starr Williams. Bisbee. This property has shipped splendid copper ore to the Patagonia station in the past, and it is believed the development planned will open up a producer of the first class.

For More Good Roads.

Getting together for good roads and more roads in Arizona is to be the slogan of the road conference called for Phoenix, May 15 and 16.

The annual meeting of the State Good Roads Association is always an affair of great interest, and this year the addition of the Arizona highway engineers will make the session still more important. Hon. Lamar Cobb, state engineer, as well as county engineers from all parts of Arizona are now at work on papers covering road building in their respective parts of the state.

Representatives from Texas, California and New Mexico have been invited to attend. The mayor of Phoenix will welcome the delegates on behalf of the capital city, and the governor of Arizona will be asked to add a word of greeting.

"Surface Treatment of Caliche Roads," "Yuma County Road Construction," "Bridge Building in Apache County," "The Need for Permanent Bridges," "Desirable Features of Highway Laws," are a few of the important subjects planned for discussion. A complete program will be issued in a few days.

Boards of supervisors, cities and towns and all commercial organizations are entitled to representation at the conference. Large delegations already have been appointed by several counties and prominent speakers from several parts of Arizona have promised to attend. Arizona will give two full days to discussion of road topics and May 15 and 16 will be notable in the story of road building in Arizona.

Republican Delegates to Chicago.

The Tucson Citizen of May 8th says:

That Arizona's six delegates to the Republican National Convention will cast their ballot for Charles Evan Hughes was indicated by a poll of the delegates. Press reports have previously stated that the old stand pat leaders won the convention. This is not the case. The six delegates while for Justice Hughes are not anti-Roosevelt.

It is true that Tom Molly and Lorenzo Hubbell, two pronounced Roosevelt men, were defeated but this was because the districting plan was adopted and not because they were Roosevelt men.

The delegation held a meeting Saturday night and selected Judge Edward Kent of Phoenix, chairman of the delegation. John B. Wright was chosen secretary. It was decided to meet at Chicago Monday, June 5th. Judge Kent is a close personal friend of Roosevelt and served under him for four years as Chief Justice of Arizona, having been appointed first by President Roosevelt.

The six delegates and six alternates chosen are:

Maricopa County—Edward Kent, delegate; Frank Stewart, alternate.

Cochise County—C. A. Overlock, delegate; John Mason, alternate.

Pima, Yuma and Santa Cruz counties.—John B. Wright, delegate; Bracey Curtis, alternate.

Gila, Graham and Greenlee Counties.—Ph. Freudenthal, delegate; F. M. Poole, alternate.

Yavapai and Pinal Counties.—Leroy Anderson, delegate; G. E. Nolan, alternate.

Coconino, Mohave, Apache and Navajo Counties.—F. S. Breen, delegate; Chas. Granger, alternate.

The recommendation of state candidates was postponed until an adjourned convention after the national convention to be held at Prescott on July 6th.

The selection of a national committeeman was left to the delegates to Chicago to be chosen by them after a candidate for the presidency is nominated.

The convention meets June 7.

YEARLINGS BRING $31.00.

Sherman Rhinehart of Duquesne has been signing up contracts this week for the purchase of cattle for Rhinehart & Capps, for June delivery. The prices range from $31 for all over eight months old up to $41 or $32 for 3-year-olds. Among the cattlemen who have signed with Mr. Rhinehart or who probably will within the next few days are: Parker Bros., Bud Baldwin, Pete Bergier, Kunde estate, Clyde McPhearson, Ernest Best, Richard Farrell, Gatlin Bros., and C. C. Chapman. The price of $31 for yearlings is not quite as high as last year, when some of the growers succeeded in getting $32, but it is regarded as a very good price; indeed some of the oldtime cattlemen say that when a few years ago bawlers were bringing only $12 or $13 a piece they thought they were making about all the money possible out of the cow business.—Patagonia.
