Mr. Hilliker and party arrived Wednesday from Los Angeles, and went south Thursday.

Wednesday in Tucson Judge Sawtelle, of the United States district court, Jose Santoye, a Nogales, Sonora, shoe-maker, who eloped to Tucson with the wife of a friend, was sentenced to a year and a day at the federal penitentiary on McNeil's island. He was convicted by a jury of violating the immigration law.

H. E. Durnal, the automobile man arrested last Saturday by Sheriff Earhart, for bootlegging, has furnished a cash bond in the sum of $1,000, as a guarantee that he'll be in Superior Court when wanted. Judge O'Connor, County Attorney Hardy and Sheriff Earhart, insist that bootlegging in Santa Cruz county must stop.

H. J. Temple, general superintendent of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, accompanied by Mrs. Temple, arrived from Los Angeles Thursday, and left yesterday morning for Empalme in Mr. Temple's private car "Sonora." Mrs. Temple's many friends will be pleased to learn that she has recovered from her recent serious illness.

Antonio Sorabia, for a long time vice consul at this place for General Carranza, after an extended absence from Nogales, in San Francisco and New York, on business for the Mexican de facto government, returned to Nogales last Wednesday for a short visit with his family, after which he will again go east for his government.

Collector of Customs C. E. Hardy will preside at the St. Patrick's Day celebration, for which extensive arrangements are being made by Nogales Irishmen. Attorney Frank Barry will be the principal orator of the occasion, which being Irish, will be pleasantly remembered by all. The program will be announced later.

Frank Davis, mining engineer, who recently examined and reported on the splendid mining properties in the Patagonia mountains, owned by the Arizona-European Mining Company, has been here several days this week, on his way to the Alamos district, Sonora, where he is interested in mine prospects said to possess great merit.

The Junior Class of the Nogales High School, last Thursday night realized handsomely from seat sales at The Nogales Theatre. The proceeds will go for a new curtain at the High School Auditorium. Margarite Clark in "Silks and Satins," was the leading feature of the splendid entertainment given under the direction of the Junior Class.

The grand carnival ball Sunday night at the theatre in Nogales, Sonora, promises to be a brilliant affair. Yesterday many citizens of Nogales, Arizona received invitations to attend. A fine time is assured.

Mr. Gee served one term as a member of the board of supervisors. He is well known and pleasantly remembered by many citizens of Santa Cruz county. Wednesday he attended the dedication of the "Karns Bridge" across the Santa Cruz river.

Thursday evening the directors of the Chamber of Commerce held an interesting meeting at which considerable business of importance was transacted. As a result of the meeting Nogales will soon have paved and better lighted streets. Mexican Consul Delgado appeared before the board and asked the Chamber to use its influence to eliminate pictures from our theatres which may create bad feelings between Americans and Mexicans. The matter was referred to the Town Council.

Friends of Fritz Kayser, arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Harold Brown, on serious charges brought against him by H. B. Mock of the Department of Justice, hope the accused man will be able to prove that he is innocent. Mr. Kayser is charged with obtaining military information on national defense unlawfully, by entering Camp Little and the government warehouse, without authority. Late yesterday afternoon Mr. Kayser was released on $2,000 bond.

J. A. Legarra, manager of Don Ramon Vasquez' Red House, now in New York buying goods, writes that he is having a fine time hustling for bargains never before seen in Nogales. Mr. Legarra understands the buying game from A to Z. He asks his friends to wait for up-to-the-minute goods at "back east" prices. Date of arrival will be announced later.

The 14th of February, which was a legal holiday, according to the proclamation of Governor Campbell, being the fifth anniversary of Arizona's admission as a state and known as Admission Day, was also St. Valentine's Day. Public offices and the banks closed all day, but the business houses only closed a half a day, in order to celebrate Admission Day, and at the same time permit their employees to attend the dedication of the Santa Cruz bridge.

Will the university be a third time winner, is a question causing much speculation in Tucson athletic circles as the time draws nearer for the big annual cross-country run between the university, the high school, and the Indian school for the Phil. C. Brannen cup, to be held on Washington's birthday, February 22. The university has won the race for two years straight, and if they are again the victors, the cup will become their permanent property.—Star.

Last Monday Judge O'Connor held the following accused bootleggers to appear in Superior Court: Homer Edwards of Patagonia, $2,000; Zeb. Martin of Patagonia, $2,000; Cully H. Smith of Nogales, two charges, $1,000; A. B. Bustamante of Nogales, two charges, $4,000; R. L. Adams of Nogales, $2,000; Marcus Sarate of Nogales, $2,000; H. E. Durnal, $1,000. Monday Edwards and Durnal secured their release by furnishing bond. The others are still in the county jail, where they have been since last Saturday.

Mrs. George B. Marsh, Santa Cruz county's able representative in the lower house, has been here since Thursday, having come over from the capital city to look after her extensive business interests. It is said Mrs. Marsh will not start work on her new fifty thousand dollar business block until after the legislature adjourns. Recently Representative Marsh introduced an important bill having for its object the abolishment of the State Board of Control, for which it is proposed to substitute a "Board of Public Welfare."

John Hughes, J. G. Willoughby and Captain Luis Solaliac, this week closed a deal for a lease on the Albin Hotel, at Guaymas, formerly conducted by A. C. Bernard of Tucson. The big hotel, which is situated on the bay of Guaymas, will be renovated and thoroughly overhauled under the personal supervision of Captain Solaliac and Mr. Willoughby, who will go south next week to take charge of their newly acquired property. It is the intention to make the Albin Hotel first-class in every respect, and visitors in Guaymas will be given the best possible treatment.

Attention is called to the new adv. of the Nogales Cafe, in this issue of The Border Vidette. The elegant, popular eating house, which is the pride of our citizens, would be a credit to any city many times the size of Nogales. The management is not only justly proud of the handsome big dining room and the elegant private boxes, but takes great pleasure at all times in taken patrons through the large sanitary kitchen where experienced chefs prepare the "Best of everything," under the personal direction of Nick, who is a past master in the art of pleasing his friends and patrons of The Nogales Cafe.

PAPAGO RESERVATION REDUCED

According to advices received last Tuesday by Land Commissioner Moeur at Phoenix from Washington, President Wilson has restored to the public domain 475,000 acres of Papago Indian Reservation in Pima county, by an executive order.

Of this land, 137,000 acres fall within areas applied for by the state on behalf of school grants prior to the creation of the reservation. It is reported the right of way over the reservation has been granted for a road to Ajo, eliminating sections through which the road would pass. The amount of land eliminated by the president is comparatively small, constituting less than one-sixth of the reservation.
