G. V. Brubaker is here from Los Angeles enjoying a short visit with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lohn. Mr. Brubaker is a prominent pioneer business man of Los Angeles, where for forty years he has been connected with a big hide company.

Tomorrow a free lunch will be served at the International Casino, formerly The American Club, in Nogales, Sonora, from twelve o'clock to two o'clock. All members, their families and out of town visitors are cordially invited. The regular weekly dance will be held tonight.

Mr. Long, master mechanic of the Sinaloa division of the Southern Pacific of Mexico Railway company, who has been sojourning in California with his family, was in Nogales Thursday en route to Mazatlan, where he makes his headquarters. Mrs. Long accompanied her husband.

E. E. Bethell, manager of the Washington Trading Company's Patagonia stores, who owns valuable mining property in this county, which he is developing, was a business visitor in the city last Thursday. Mr. Bethell has great faith in the property he is developing, and is backing his faith with good hard American dollars.

At meeting of City Aldermen last Tuesday evening a motion passed at a previous meeting providing for the payment of the city of one half the cost of building sidewalk on the west side of Grand avenue, between Crawford and International streets, was reconsidered. Alderman Harry J. Karns, who made the original motion some time ago, made the motion.

Last Monday forenoon, Rev. H. C. Smith of the Episcopal church, officiating, Miss Elizabeth Holderman and Herbert Blodsoe, of Tucson, were united in marriage. The wedding which took place at the residence of Rev. Smith, was witnessed by Mr. William Moore of Tucson, and Mrs. Smith.

W. Beckford Kibbey, Jr., from his great Alamo rancho in Sonora, has been a Nogales visitor this week several days. Mr. Kibbey is a son in law of Captain L. W. Mix, well known local retired capitalist, who for many years was Chief of the Nogales Fire Department, and a member of the Nogales Common Council.

Fred. Alford from Noria, Sonora, is enjoying a visit here with his family. Fred states that a party of Los Angeles nimrods, who are guests of Fred H. Hilliker, at the ranch of the Sanora Valley Land Company, near Noria, are having the time of their lives hunting deer and quail, which are plentiful in that region.

James Ritchie, formerly a well known mine contractor in the Patagonia district, who is now doing contract work on the county's highways, was a business visitor in the city last Wednesday. Reported his little children who have been with their grand mother in Texas, since their mother died, getting along nicely. All are well.

Last Sunday Charles Wiswald of Cananea, was a visitor in Nogales, having made the trip from the great copper camp by automobile. Mr. Wiswald and his wife formerly the widow of the late Colonel W. C. Greene, own thousands of thoroughbred Herefords and miles of the finest farming and grazing land in northern Sonora.

L. W. Mayhood, many years connected with the general superintendent's office of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, at Empalme, has been a Nogales visitor this week a couple of days. Mrs. Lohn will join her husband later.

Americans and foreigners entering Mexico must pay a head tax of $8.00, according to information given out yesterday by American Consul F. J. Dyer of Nogales, Sonora, by Mexican Chief of Immigration Cevallos of Nogales, Sonora. It is said that the head tax does not apply to people who go over to border towns on short visits but to those expect to go down into the interior.

The passing of Dr. John R. Magruder, the pioneer Sonora mining man, at Hermosillo, Sonora, last Tuesday, after a short illness, will be learned with genuine regret by hundreds of friends and acquaintances here and throughout the state of Sonora. Probably no man in Sonora was better known and liked than Doctor Magruder. He will be missed, especially by the poor people.

A deal of interest is being taken in the election of a school trustee at the election to be held next Saturday, October 29th. For the office, Dr. W. P. Chenoweth, the present incumbent, who is a candidate for re-election, will be opposed by City Alderman Harry J. Karns. Friends of the two aspirants are boosting for their favorite, and the election next Saturday promises to be both interesting and exciting.

Mrs. F. J. Dyer, wife of the American Consul in Nogales, Sonora, has returned from an extended visit in California and the east.

Thursday morning, at the Base Hospital, Sam Perrent, the mining man, who was accidentally shot while hunting deer in the Santa Rita mountains, passed away. A brother of deceased who came here from Butte, Montana, was with the unfortunate man when the end came. The body has been shipped to Montana for burial. Perrent was accidentally shot by a friend who mistook him for a deer.

Everybody in Nogales will regret to learn that Mrs. Small's new duties make it necessary for him to remove from Nogales.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Matthews, from over Huachuca way were county seat visitors a couple of days this week, having motored in from their stock ranch. Dan reported the shipment recently of between five and six hundred cattle—cows, steers and calves—from Sonoita, by Al Wulfin, whose cattle range in the Whetstone mountains. The cattle were shipped to Kansas City. They were in excellent condition and are said to have brought $30.00, $27.00 and $12.00 per head.

Henry Cohn, proprietor of the Hotel Cohn at Hermosillo, Sonora, and Hotel Rosario, at Culiacan, Sinaloa, was a stopover visitor in Nogales a couple of days this week, on his way to the south country, from San Diego, California, where he enjoyed a visit with his sisters, whom he had not seen for a number of years. Henry is well known and kindly remembered by old time residents of Nogales, where he made his home several years, during which he successfully engaged in business.

Wednesday Frank Miller, the well known successful cement and plaster contractor, resumed the work of laying the cement walk along the west side of Nelson avenue, from the Montezuma property to the corner of Nelson avenue, and International street. Frank is sure making the dirt fly and will finish the job on schedule time. Now it is up to the property owners on the east side of the avenue to get busy—before the snow flies. The placing of sidewalks along their property will greatly enhance the value of same. Come fellows, let's go.

Robert Wood, now one of Colonel R. R. Richardson's chief clerks, was a visitor at the county seat a couple of days this week, from Patagonia, where for many years he has made his residence. Nearly thirty years ago, when Hon. George Christ, father of Mrs. E. Titcomb of this city, was collector of U. S. customs for the district of Arizona, Bob Wood, although a Democrat, was one of his most trusted lieutenants. Few men understand the mercantile business better than Bob Wood. He is not only efficient, but honorable and upright at all times, always giving both his employer and customs a square deal. Que mas?

J. T. (Dad) Harlson, veteran railroader who for many years has served the Southern Pacific of Mexico well and faithfully as assistant superintendent and conductor, spent a couple of days in the Key City, from Empalme, Sonora, where he and his good wife and little adopted daughter have a pleasant home. What "Dad" Harlson don't know about railroading in the south country, isn't worth knowing. He hit the ball in Mexico during all the internal troubles down there. Not once did "Dad" show a white feather. While here he had Dr. Smelker fix a bum wrist, the result of being kicked recently while fooling with a branco Ford.
