GRAAF & KLINE

Sorosis soared last night. Eastern Star meets tonight. The K. of P. meets tomorrow night. More snow, but that is better than tornadoes. Commissioners were in session this morning. The burnt district looks better since cleaned up. Southbound passenger trains are bulletined on time. Kansas City meats always on hand at T. W. Hayward's. Mr. Bruce, the contractor, lost a very fine colt yesterday. Epworth League sociable tonight at the First M. E. church. Wilson Waddingham came in from the south this morning. The election today interfered considerably with court business. If you want nice bread and cake go to the New England Bakery.

A nice residence, with all the modern improvements, for sale; easy terms and a good investment.

HAYWARD & SPORLEDER.

The ladies who provided the supper and waited on the table last night at the K. of P. hall, are here with tendered our thanks and those of the engineers.

Next Friday, the 8th, is the day appointed by Supt. Rudolph as Arbor day. From present appearances the day he gave us at first—the 15th—would be better.

Another serenading party was out last night, but they were young ladies and took the early part of the evening so as not to disturb sleepy people. Sensible.

Court met this morning, and impaneled the United States grand jury. A. D. Higgins is foreman. No other business was done, but an adjournment was had until 10 tomorrow.

The Socorro Republican Spanish paper is on its way here and will absorb the Sol de Mayo, which shone for the last time last week. The office will be located on Bridge street, next to Bloom & Co.

We noticed a sign in front of J. H. Stearns's store calling the attention of the public to the fact he is selling strictly fancy Greeley potatoes at 90c per 100 lbs. Every one can eat potatoes at that price.

No more elections till November. Go to the Oak restaurant for good board.

A very quiet election day—no scraps.

No fights, no fun for the boys, if it is election day.

J. H. Ward came in from Arizona to vote in the city election.

No stickers were used today, though the law as changed does not prohibit their use.

The poll tax fund is richer today by between $200 and $225 on account of the election.

This has been a very dry day for the boys, except for such as provided a jug from yesterday.
