SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 1893.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President of the United States
BENJAMIN HARRISON,
OF INDIANA.

For Vice President of the United States,
WHITELAW REID,
OF NEW YORK.

For Delegate to Congress,
THOMAS B. CATRON,
OF SANTA FE.

Santa Fe is suffering from a severe drought. The river has not a drop of water in it.

The elevation of Las Vegas may have something to do with the failure of the Keeley cure here.

The Union Pacific will shortly build its road five miles further east, making it ten miles from Catskill.

There were only 101 more labor strikes in free trade England in 1890 than there were in protected America, but the English strikes affected 175,000 more workmen.

The Democrat points with pride to the fact that it has subscribed $50 to the national Democratic slush fund. This ought to settle the governorship should Grover be elected.—Alb. Citizen.

The Democrats of Colfax county will probably nominate Abe Sever for the council. Mr. Sever is well and favorably known all over the territory, and if Colfax has to have a Democrat in the council it can not find a better one.

Hon. Antonio Joseph seems to be something of a prevaricator himself. But it would have looked better if he had undertaken to disprove oral statements by written evidence rather than to deny the correctness of letters written by himself and now in the hands of his political enemies.—Raton Range.

Commenting upon the recent seizure of British sealers by a Russian vessel in Behring sea, the Times says:

"We find it easier to believe that the Russian commander is an inhuman and almost irresponsible ruffian than to suppose Russia seeks to pick a quarrel with England. All the same, an apology is due for the insult to our flag and indemnity for the loss inflicted on the ship's crew."

The loftiest point so far as yet known to have been attained by mountain climbers, is 23,700 feet, which was accomplished a few years ago by a Mr. Graham in the Himalayas. He states that in spite of the great altitude, he did not find any difficulty in breathing, nor did he experience nausea, bleeding at the nose or temporary loss of sight or hearing. The motion of his heart was, however, perceptibly affected, as its beating became audible and its rate was decidedly increased.

INDEED!

The women of New Mexico, in the absence of any New Mexico building at the World's fair, purpose to erect an adobe house, a fac simile of the governor's palace at Santa Fe. Rooms will be furnished in Mexican style, a Mexican bill of fare will be daily prepared, etc.—Chama North-west.

Indeed! A great deal has been said on this subject of late but the superficial quietude that prevails as far as anything like decisive action is concerned, leads one to feel perfectly justified in remarking that "talk is cheap." New Mexico will not have any such building at the Chicago fair this year nor next. Mark that.—Santa Fe New Mexican.

"DISCOVERY DAY."

The celebration of the 350th anniversary of the discovery of the coast of California by the Portuguese navigator, Cabrillo, which will take place at San Diego, September 28 and 29, bids fair to assume widespread importance, although at first consideration it would seem to be only local in its nature. That Cabrillo's discovery and the various religious and commercial eras which followed it have a distinct place in the nation's history, no one who is acquainted with those events will deny. And the future is likely to add to, rather than to detract from, its importance as the great resources of California become more widely known and the great west receives its proper recognition.

Cabrillo's discovery and explorations were second only in importance to the discovery of the Atlantic coast by Columbus, and we look to see the event commemorated in the future in the same manner as the imperishable achievement of Columbus is to be celebrated at Chicago.

But beyond the historical significance of the coming celebration at San Diego there is another aspect—one which we would like to see recognized by all Californians, and that is the influence it will have in directing the attention of the people of the east to Southern California.

Gov. Murphy of Arizona, Gov. Torres of Lower California and Gov. Markham of our own state; Senator Felton, and Admirals Brown and Ghirardi, with the white squadron, will be present, and the Mexican and British governments will be represented by war ships. In addition many famous army and navy officers and persons prominent in the political affairs of the state and nation will grace the occasion. The gathering of so large a number of dignitaries and the elaborate character of the ceremonies will be an affair which will secure much attention in the east. The low rates made by the railways, and the liberal advertising the event has received at their hands, will influence a large travel, and as San Diego is at the southern extremity of the state, this travel must pass en route through Southern California, and will without doubt be attracted to many places other than San Diego.—Los Angeles Times.

CAN NOT SWALLOW THE DOSE.

George Ticknor Curtis, the eminent New York jurist, author and Democrat, has remained with the Democratic party as long as self respect would permit, but he is at last forced to repudiate its follies and shake the dust from his feet. In a letter to the editor of the American Economist Mr. Curtis says:

"In common with many other Democrats, I can not follow the leaders of the party in denouncing Republican protection as a fraud upon the labor of the great majority of the American people for the benefit of a few; nor can I subscribe to the doctrine that a protective tariff is unconstitutional. I have no pecuniary interest in manufactures, but I know what protection has done and is doing for this country. If it operates for the benefit of the few, I am not one of that few. I am one of the many; one of the great majority benefited by it, including those who denounce it for the sake of obtaining political power.

"If the leaders of a political party assembled in national convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for the presidency and vice presidency choose to stultify themselves by falsifying history, they cannot expect to be followed by others who have any habits of independent thought and action. * * * I can not, at the bidding of these gentlemen, unlearn the lessons of my whole life. The greater part of my long life has been passed in the study of American political history and constitutional law. If I can not claim to be an authority on such subjects, I can point out to others the true sources from which to devise interpretations of the constitution."

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Mr. Curtis is but one of a class—a very large class, it will be found. The Democrats made their attack upon the policy which has built up the country most too open this time. Thousands of intelligent men who have been holding onto Democracy by their eyelids for years, in the hope that it would abandon its foolish fight upon industry and labor, are letting go their hold in despair and disgust. The dose which the platform administrators this year is too much for patriotism and common sense to endure, even for party's sake.

RAILROAD ITEMS.

The report that the Southern Pacific company had gotten control of D. B. Robinson's road, the San Antonio & Aransas Pass, is denied by the former company.

It is estimated that an average of 20 carloads of freight—merchandise—is being unloaded in Trinidad daily.

The Southern Pacific company has recently subscribed for $20,000 of World's fair stock. The various transportation lines of the country have taken an aggregate of about $1,000,000 of the stock, which, of course they will make out of the people by increased charges.

A. B. Wadleigh, acting sergeant major of the 1st New Mexico militia, will leave in a few days to take a lucrative position on a Virginia railroad. He has resided in Albuquerque for three years.

The lunch house at the depot will be ready to turn over to Fred Harvey's representatives Saturday, and by the middle of next week it will be ready for the serving of hot coffee, lunches, etc.—Citizen.

New railways are not madly rushing out all over the country, still there is considerable construction going on all the time. Up to June 1,300 miles of road had been built this year.

RANDOM SHOTS.

What do you suppose that they promised David B.?

The first mile towards hell always looks like a short cut to heaven.

No man can injure himself morally without hurting some other people.

The way to do a great deal of work is to be continually doing a little.

No college can do much for the man who thinks he knows it all himself.

Putting mittens on a tiger will never make him lose his awful taste for blood.

We may be able to keep off the cholera, but alas, no one knows of a preventative for the campaign noise.

The Cleveland Democrats have got Hill on the stump and Dana behind a tree; now if they can only get Peek in Sing Sing, they will feel reasonably safe.

Carl Schurz—Let it be understood that my name is pronounced as if spelled "Shirts," and that I have my collar unbuttoned and sleeves rolled up for tariff reform.

D. B. Hill—"After pondering for some three months over my defeat for a nomination for an office, I have finally decided—it was pretty close at one time—that I am still a Democrat for political revenue."

Jay Gould always believed that he could do anything that could be done by others. They say he intends to learn how to travel around in snow shoes and is practicing upon a combination substitute made out of trays and tennis bats.

There is danger in being too much of a good fellow. Lord Roseberry, the secretary of state of Mr. Gladstone's new cabinet, is said to have rejected a politician who was proposed for the place of under secretary on the ground that "he was too clever."

MAKING HARRISON VOTES.

An Albany special to the New York Herald says:

Commissioner Peck's enemies are after his scalp on a run. Although he is now under bail to stand trial for destroying public records, they had his case presented to the grand jury.

It is alleged that the failure of the attempt to get his release was because of the movement before the grand jury. It is considered almost certain that indictments against both Commissioner Peck and Stenographer Rogers will be handed down when the court meets. In that case bench warrants will be at once issued against both the accused, who will undoubtedly furnish bail to await trial.

The Republican Central committee has arranged the following places and dates for political meetings, at which speeches will be made by Hon. T. B. Catron and Hon. A. L. Morrison:

One man at least is demonstrating his confidence in the future of Democracy. S. M. Ashenfelter invested nearly $3,000 last week in lots. It is understood that he intends building on some of his property in the near future.—State Advocate.

Only 15 cents per week takes it or rather, you can take it for 15 cents per week.
