No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. Rice, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Can., Nov. 16, 1884. Gettin'—The foolish wantin' of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

As a Liver medicine, TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "excrements" of the system, producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work. They are a perfect ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA. Sold every where. Office 44 Murray St. N. Y.

SLIGHT ODDS.

A Little Story with a Large Moral—One Man who knew his Own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red flannel, but we have some first rate New Orleans moccasins." Softly hinting that she didn't think that would answer, the girl went quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted.

"Have you BENSON'S CAPSICINE PLASTER?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it desired.

"I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, rheumatism," said the gentleman. "Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin."

"Not at present," replied the druggist, generally "but we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsicum and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," returned the gentleman, with a slight shade of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometime ago, for another disease, of which the Capsicine has cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the most exact of the proprietors of some of them being that they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

Be on your guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CAPSICINE cut clearly in the middle of the plaster. All others are impostures. Fishbery & Johnson, Chemists, New York.

A Hard Life.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times writes: A word about this French Canadian housewife, though she deserves chapters. I have drifted of late into some of the most desolate and poverty-stricken collection of huts which the mind could conceive—which, indeed, is next to impossible for an American to conceive at all—hamlets where the men, with gaunt, burnt faces, long matted hair, furrowed in middle age, as with us at eighty, by reason of privation, exposure and an untold hopelessness, and the clothes altogether indescribable in their meanness, appear to the vision like spectres from some raft of a "Medusa." But even here I saw no woman, young or old, who was not neat in her personal appearance, painfully clean in the care of her home, and apparently in the habit of doing three-fourths of all the work that was done. The amount of labor that this poor but contented creature performs is nothing less than marvelous. Premising that before the age of 35 she is usually the mother of from six to twelve children—most French Canadian girls are married before they are 18—let us consider her work for a moment: She has, first of all, the care of her children, which is not a slight thing, even though they are the most careful and self-reliant of all the world's arching; then she does all of her cooking; making her bread out in the sun in a stone oven built near the house; she does all the washing and mending of clothes; she does all her own sewing and knitting, and, in some parts, spinning; she keeps all the money of the household and makes all the purchases; she serates the front steps and all the floors of the living rooms in her house every day, and she whitewashes the outside of her house once a fortnight or so; if they have a cow she milks and cares for it; and then (we have dealt thus far only with the incidental occupations by which spare moments are filled up) she works all day in the field with the spade, hoe or rake. If she is near salt water, she also sits down barrels of tomcods and flounders for the family's winter use. If she lives near a town she also goes in with the horse and cartette to the market, and knits while she is not selling produce, on two days of the week. The race does not anywhere afford a more superb spectacle of industry than this woman presents. And with it all she manages to keep, if not a fresh, at least a bright and cheery look upon her face; she dresses herself for church well and tastefully, and carries her good clothes as if she was accustomed to nothing else; and her children, particularly the girls, are models of cleanliness and good order. This, bear in mind, is as true of the poorest and most isolated hamlets as it is of the well-to-do suburban villages.
