Wings and Stings.

This is the airy, stinging title of another sprightly amusing book by Palmer Cox. It is one of the QUEER PEOPLE series, and similar to its companion "Paws and Claws," decistand his trips hereafter will be semi- of which we told you recently. This is one of the fanniest and brightest books for youngsters we have ever seen. The illustrations are splendid and will make the boys and girls roar with laughter. The Boston Budget, says: "as a holiday book nothing could be more appropriate, since nothing could confer greater pleasure upon the little mes." The National Republican says: "Every page is a picture and all the text music, a fountain of fun, never ceasing. It will make young eyes blaze." It will certainly be wonderfully popular. It is published by Messrs. Hubbard Bros., of Philadelphia, Chicago, and Kansas City, to whom persons desiring a copy or an agency should apply.

No small part of the credit of the great Republican vietory in Michigan is due to the Detroit Tribune. For months it fought the tariff question magnificently and edu-cated the voters as to their interest. For our part we shall certainly say the Tribune is entitled to a hearty vote of thanks. The again we ask all of our readers to subscrib for this excellent paper. You cannot at.or to do without it. Come in and let us order it for y

The Mystery of a Hansom Cab, a play dramatized from the novel by the same name, by Fergus W. Hume, comes to Salis-bury's opera house this Friday, Nov. 23. Miss Hattle Irving, the popular soubrette is at the head of the company, supported by a strong company. The play has had a very successful run of over 300 nights at the Princess Theatre, London. While playing in Chicago at the Windsor Theater, the Chicago Herald says: The Windsor Theater was crowded by an appreciative audience to witness the first production. The Mystery of a Hansom Cab. The play is a strong one, on the sensational order depicting socia life ong the rich and poor of Melbourne. Miss Hattie Irving as Sal Rawlins, the waif showed a careful, conscientious study. The company is a strong one and the play well mounted. The introduction of a live horse and hansom cab was heartilly applauded. Prices 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at Osburn & Sons.'

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says, "Was down with ab-cess of the lungs, and friend and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, am now on my third bottle, am able to oversee my farm. It is the finest is the subject of an article which J. M. French, M. D., will contribute to the December "Popular Science Monthly." Between one third and one half of all children born into the world die before reaching the age of five years. In order to aid in checking this terrible death rate, Dr. French points out the chief causes of infant mortality, which are due partly to heredity and partly to the surroundings.

Dear. The authorship of the dramatic produc-tions attributed to the last of the above named is agitating literary circles to the very centre, but affects the masses far less very centre, but affects the masses far less than the momentous question, how to regain or to preserve health, that essential of bodi-ly and mental activity, business success and the "pursuit of happiness." We can throw far more light on this latter subject than the most profound Shakespearian can on the question first propounded. If the system is depleted, the nerves shaky; if indigestion or constipation bothers one at times or con-stantly; if the skin is yellow or the tongue furred as in biliousness; if there premoni-tory twings of oneoning rheumatism or neu-nalgia; if the kilnevs are inactive—use Hos-tetter's Stomach Bitters, the best recuperant tetter's Stomach Bitters, the best recuperant of an age prolific in beneficial and successful remedies.
