Oak Hill Cemetery.

EDITOR OWOSSO PRESS—

Please allow me space in your paper for a few remarks in regard to our city cemetery. I have learned that much depends upon the sexton. He is expected to be learned in his work, and it is his duty to prepare himself as best he can by reading and studying everything devoted to his calling. There is one thing that we ought not to forget, that all cemeteries are for a certain purpose.
I know I feel frequently the difficulty of trying to combine the landscape effects and beauties with the cemetery part of it, but it has been done in other cemeteries and I know that it can be done in ours. We must not forget that the one great and important thing to remember is that a cemetery is a cemetery, and we cannot make anything else of it, but make it just as beautiful as we possibly can.

Now let me ask all who are interested in this work, what are we going to do in 1894? Much has been done in the past. Those in control have worked hard and done much to clean up and beautify the grounds and today there are no swampy or unkept nooks or corners to be found within the inclosure. But are we satisfied with this, and should we stop here? By no means.
Let us not be discouraged but renew our efforts of the past. It is not my purpose to find fault, and I have no wish to offend, but I do wish to encourage every lot owner to renewed efforts in this matter. Let me give you an idea of what was done in the way of work on lots last season.
About one third of the lots occupied received good care throughout the season, one third received but one raking just before Decoration Day, and the remaining one-third received no care at all. Make this a personal thought, "What can I do this year to improve and beautify my lot?" In this way and in no other can the work be done. HENRY TRAVEL, Sexton.
