LANSING AMAZED

At the Case of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Their Friends Lost in Wonderment.

Our representative called on Mr. A. Horton, by Andy Horton as he is familiarly called, at No. 1 Engine House, and the story he gives of the experience of his wife and himself is one of intense interest. Many a fellow-citizen of Lansing is congratulating both Mr. Horton and his wife. He told the circumstances as follows:

of intense interest. Many a fellow-citizen of and his wife. He told the circumstances as follows:

"I feel that anything I could do in the interest of bosn's Kidney Pilis would be little indeed in comparison with what they have done for use. My wife has had as a result of a severe attack of the grip what the physicians who attanged her pronounced Rheumatism of the literat, and during the last two years she has been almost totally helpless. No less than seven different doctors have treated her without foing her any apparent good whatever. Some of them gave her up to die, and few months ago I just about gave her up myself. To tell what she has taken would hardly be believed, and nothing seemed to stay the disease. She got so weak I had to lift her up in the hed and she could only speak above a whisper. I read about Doan's Kidney Pilis and got a box at the drug store of Gardner & Robertson. She took the box and said she must have more, as the urine did not scald as before, and the pain in the back and lings was gone, so I got them and she has now taken six boxes, and the result of their use has filled us all with joy. In two weeks from the first dose she was up and around. I could hardly believe my eyes. Her spirits have returned and she is actually doing her own housework, which she has been unable to do for a year and a half. But our experience does not stop here. I must tell you about myself. About a year and a half ago I strained myself from heavy lifting, and I have since been troubled with kidney disorders. My symptoms were those of dishetes I was compelled to pass urine from sixteen to twenty times a day, and it caused me to lose my rest at night as well. I suffered very much from a pain across my back, which affected me whether sitting or standing. I did not improve, although I tried everything. When my wife began with Doan's Kidney Pilis, I also started taking them. I have used five boxes and I am also entirely cured; urination is matural, back all right, and I am once more as spry as a boy. Do what you l

CONVENTION CALLED FOR SEPT. 2,

At Which a New Platform Will Be De clared and a New Ticket Nominated-Indianapolis Chosen as the Convention City-Senator John M. Palmer Selected for National Committee Chairman -Gothering Does Its Work in Short Order-Proceedings in Detail.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 8.—The provisional national committee of the gold standard Democrats met at the Commercial club at 8 p. m. yesterday. Bynum called the meeting to order. He announced that General Bragg and Senator Palmer were detained by washouts. The meeting was open to visiting Democrats as well as to members of the committee, and the assembly room was packed. The temporary organization was continued till the evening session. In the absence of Robbins, of Illinois, Ewing, of Illinois, was made temporary secretary. States That Were Represented.

A call of the states showed just thirty states represented by committeemen pres ent as follows: Alabama, J. M. Falkner: California, E. B. Pond; Connecticut, Joel Sperry; Florida, J. L. Gaskins; Georgia, T. B. Neal; Illinois, John M. Palmer; Indiana, John R. Wilson; Iowa, T. M. Martin; Kansas, Eugene Hagan; Kentucky, R. T. Taylor; Maine, C. N. Holman; Maryland, John E. Semms; Massachusetts, Nathan Matthews, Jr.; Michigan, Thomas A. Wilson; Minnesota, F. W. Mo-Cutcheon; Missouri, I. C. Krauthaff; Nebraska, Euclid Martin; New Hampshire, Gordon Woodbury; North Caro-lina, Louis De La Croix; New York, Charles Tracey; Ohlo, J. H. Outhwaite; Oregon, C. E. S. Wood; Pennsylvania, John C. Bullit; Rhode Island, C. C. C. Bullit; Rhode Island, C. C. Mummford; South Carolina, T. F. Foley; South Dakota, H. H. Anton; Tennessee J. C. McReynolds; Texas, M. L. Craw-ford; West Virginia, H. C. Simms; Wisconsin, Ellis C. Usher; Vermont, John W. Gordon; Virginia, Joseph Bryan;

Washington, Ira Krutz. Those committeemen selected but who were not present were: Louis Ehrick, Colorado; Edgar S. Wilson, Mississippi; Charles C. Conrad, Montana, and T. G. Foley, South Carolina.

Knew Just What They Were There For. The secretary read the resolutions adopted at the conference held in Chicago July 23 by ten middle western states, the object of which was to arrange for the holding of another Democratic national convention at which an independent gold Democratic ticket should be named. Outhwaite moved that a committee of five should be at once appointed whose duty it should be to select a time and place for the convention. There was loud cheering over this motion. Delegate Martin sec-onded the motion and it was passed unanimously.

The chairman then appointed the committee as follows: James H. Outhwaite, of Ohio; Charles Tracey, of New York; J. H. Falkner, of Alabama; F. W. Mc-Cutcheon, of Minnesota, and L. C. Krauthoff, of Missouri.

Indianapolis Gets the Convention. The states were called for the location of the convention. Colonel D W Law. ler presented the claims of Minneapolis, followed by John L. Griffiths and S. O. Pickens for Indianapolis. H. M. Davies resented the claims of Louisville. ballott resulted: Indianapolis, 19; Min-neapolis, 6; Louisville, 2. The Indianapolis people then celebrated their victory with invitations to luncheon at the Commercial club rooms and announced car-riages for evening drives about the city. A was then taken to 8 p. m.

PALMER IS NATIONAL CHAIRMAN, Call Adopted for a National Convention to Meet Sept. 2.

It was 8:40 when the committee reassembled. The visitors filled the assembly room. Senator John M. Palmer was given an ovation when he entered the hall. It was announced at the afternoon session that General Bragg was delayed by a washout on the Pennsylvania. At the night session the announcement was made that he could not get here. General Chas. Tracey stated that they had taken measures to perpetuate the greatest of all parties, and needed the foremost of leaders. He nominated John M. Palmer for chairman of the national committee. Palmer was selected unanimously. He said he sympathized most earnestly in the purpose of the meeting. The Chicago convention had forgotten the honor as well as

John R. Wilson, of Indiana, was elected secretary; John P. Frenzel, of Indiana, treasurer. John H. Outhwaite, of Ohio, as chairman of the committee on a call for the National convention and plan of organization, reported the following, which was repeatedly enterrupted by appliause in its reading and adopted unanimously. It is addressed "To the Democrats of the United States:"

"A political party has always been de-fined to be an association of voters to profined to be an association of voters to pro-mote the success of political principles held in common. The Democratic party, during its whole history, has been pledged to promote the liberty of the individual, the security of private rights and property, and the supremacy of the law.

"It has always insisted upon a safe and stable money for the people's use. It has insisted upon the maintenance of the financial honor of the nation, as well as upon the preservation inviolate of the in-stitutions established by the constitution. These, its principles, were abandoned by the supposed representatives of the party at a national convention recently as-sembled at Chicago. The Democratic party will therefore cease to exist unless it be preserved by the voluntary action of such of its members as still adhere to the fundamental principles. No majority of the members of the convention, however large, had any right or power to sur-render those principles. When they un-dertook to do so that assemblage ceased to be a Democratic convention. "The action taken, the irregular pro-ceedings, and the platform enunciated by that body were and are so utterly and in-defensibly revolutionary, and constitute such radical departures from the princi-ples of the Democracy, which should characterize a sound and patriotic administration of our country's affairs, that its results are not entitled to the confidence or support of true Democrats. For the first time since national parties were formed there is not before the American people a platform declaring the principles of the Democratic party as recognized and most courageously and consistently ad-ministered by Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland.

"Nor are the pominees for the offices of president and vice president of the United States pledged to carry those principles into practical effect. The faithful and true Democrats of the United States are etermined that their principles shall not be ruthlessly surrendered, nor the people be deprived of an opportunity to vote for candidates in accord therewith.

"Therefore, the national Democratic party of the United States, through its regularly constituted committee, hereby calls a national convention of that party for the announcement of its platform and the nomination of candidates for the of-fices of president and vice president of the United States and the transaction of such business as is incidental thereto, to be held at Indianapolis, Wednesday, the 2d day of September, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon, and hereby requests that the members of the party in the several states who believe in sound money and the preservation of law and order, and who are unalterably op-posed to the platform adopted and candidates nominated at Chicago, will select in such manner as to them shall seem best a number of delegates to the same equal to twice the number of electoral votes to which such states are respectively entitled.

"Such delegates shall be duly accredited, according to the usages of the Democratic party. Their credentials shall be forwarded or delivered to the secretary of this committee with all convenient speed, and this committee will make up and an-nounce the roll of the delegates entitled to participate in the preliminary organization of the convention.'

On motion of Outhwaite Chairman Palmer was directed to appoint an executive committee of nine who should take charge of the campaign of the National Democratic party at once and report to the general national committee of the new party at a meeting to be held in Indiana polis Tuesday, Sept. 1, the day preceding the national convention. By resolution this executive committee was directed at the earliest practicable day to issue an address to the Democracy of the country, setting forth its purposes and plans. The general committee at 10:15 adjourned to meet in Indianapolis Tuesday, Sept. 1. A secret conference was then held at Senator Palmer's room over the selection of the nine members of the executive committee. At 12 o'clock last night Chairman Palmer announced his executive committee as follows: J. M. Falkner, Alabama; John P. Hopkins, Illinois; W. D. Bynun Indiana; W. B. Haldeman, Kentucky; F. W. Lehman, Missouri; F. W. McCutch con, Minnesota; Charles Tracey, New York; Samuel Holding, Ohio; Ellis B. Usher, Wisconsin. The exeutive committee will meet today to elect a chairman. Chairman Palmer is a member of the executive committee ex officio.

SWAP COMPLIMENTS AT CANTON.

CANTON, O., Aug. 11.-The first thing of interest in this town yesterday, the day the Nebraska candidate for the presidency was to stop at the home of the Ohio can didate, was the arrival in town of a committee from Pittsburg which, getting here too early, put in the time with a visit to the major, who received them courteously and thanked them for their visit. They told him that the candidate for president of the United States was always a man whom it was an honor to know, and he told them that all parties desired the honor and prosperity of the American government and people.

Among the distinguished callers on Ma jor McKinley were the Hon. Richard P. and Mrs. Bland. They came here with the committee from Pittsburg. Mr. and Mrs. Bland had gone to Alliance, a city twenty miles east of here, ahead of the Bryan party, as it was a part of the programme to have a speech of some length at that place by Bryan. While there Bland was told that an address would be made here, and he was prevailed upon by the Pitts burg committee to return to Canton. The ent at the McKinley home by Mr and Mrs. Bland was apparently very agreeable to both the honored callers and to Major and Mrs. McKinley. These were the preliminaries to the arrival here of the Democratic candidate, whose train rolled into the station at 19:20 and was received by a very large crowd from this city and the surrounding country. Bryan spoke from a car near the station and said a number of pleasant and graceful things about his political oppo-nent. He did not forget, however, to say that this was a campaign of principles, not men, and likened himself to the Good Samaritan who rescued the man who had fallen among thieves, the inevitable logic of which was that McKinley was one of those who "passed by on the other side" and the American people was the man fallen among thieves.

He said that there were plenty of his own neighbors who would vote against him at Lincoln, Neb., and he only hoped that every man would feel free to vote as he pleased. He was loudly cheered at the close of his speech, which was made at a point of much interest on his journey from Chicago eastward. The whole trip up to this point had been like the one west of Chicago, a very gratifying one to Bryan. All through Indiana there had been crowds at each station and when Ohio was reached there were crowds at Dixon, Delphos, Lima, Lafayette, Bucyrus, Crestline and elsewhere. At several of the towns he made brief speeches and at all he was enthusiastically cheered.

New York, Aug. 12.—Mr. Bryan and party arrived here at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and was met by Vice Presiden-tial candidate Sewall, Chairman Jones and BABY DID IT.

The Little Thing Was Sunshine in That

Dingy Street Car. On one of the cold, rainy days of the past week a Washington Star reporter was on a car on the Pennsylvania avenue line coming down Capitol hill. There was a pretty good load of passengers. It was cold, wet and uncomfortable inside of the car, and the rain beat a tattoo on the windows without that brought anything but pleasant reflections to the passengers who would have to face it. At the Peace monument there was a big reenforcement of passengers. They piled in very unceremoniously, bringing with them a rush of cold air and scattering showers of spray from their soaked garments. In 'd which got aboard was a the a baby in her arms. The wom at the same time look out for her child, But with all the environment calculated to make men mean and surly some one had enough gallantry in spite of the weather to offer her a seat. But mother and child got many a reproving look from the other passengers. Those who were in an ugly mood on account of their unpleasant surroundings found it very soothing to their ruffled feeling to think, "Well, there's a bigger fool than I am," and one lady whispered to her neighbor loud enough to reach the ear of the writer: "The very idea of taking a baby out in such a storm," and finished her sentence with a shrug of her shoulders which meant more than she said. But baby was wrapped up snug and warm in a blanket and its mother, heedless of what her neighbors might think, began to unroll the quaint covering to see how his diminutive majesty was getting on. Everybody in the car was watching her with looks of mingled disapproval, undone so that Mr. Baby's face became visible. And such a face as it was! There was probably never a more completely surprised set of people in that street car before. Baby was a real beauty of the sort that is apparent to somebody else besides the mother. Such eyes, such dimples and, withal, such a bright, healthy, smiling face in all probability will never light up a similar occasion. Baby's appearance worked like a magic charm on the rest of the passengers. As soon as his face was uncovered he took a survey of the passengers about him with owlish gravity. Then, as if struck by some highly ludicrous idea in the contem-OFFICE: 114 N. Washington St. OFFICE plation of the scene, he burst into a great fit of baby laughter. He chirruped and chuckled and kicked up his heels in such glee that inside of a minute he had the entire car on his side. The scowling looks had all disappeared as if by magic and people forgot all about the disagreeable weather outside and their uncomfortable surroundings within and joined with baby in a broad smile at the novel situation. Somehow that baby's genuine, healthy life for all who saw him. ANIMAL NOTES.
