

HIS COOK WAS LOYAL.

He stuck by Prince Buelow and Won the Title "Misery." Some years ago, when Prince Buelow was retiring from the ambassadorship at Rome to return home and take up the post of chancellor of the German empire, he summoned his cook, a veritable cordon bleu, to tell him of the change. "We shall not live in our present grand style," he said, "but on a much smaller scale. Perhaps, therefore, you would prefer to find another place."

Very Unkind.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the manager before the curtain. "It is my unpleasant duty to inform you that Mr. Trust, the star comedian, owing to illness, will not be able to appear to night. His system has had a very severe shock, and he is suffering from nervous prostration."

Pessimistic.

"I paid the butcher's bill in full today, dearie," said the lady of the house. "No wonder the steak is tough, grumbled her husband. "You've got to keep those fellows guessing if you want to get good meat."—Buffalo News

Eddystone Island

The smallest inhabited island in the world is that on which the Eddystone lighthouse stands. At lower water it is thirty feet in diameter. At high water the lighthouse, whose diameter at the base is eight and three-fourths feet, completely covers it. It is inhabited by three persons. It lies nine miles off the Cornish coast and fourteen miles southeast of Plymouth breakwater. Platholme, an island in the British channel, is only a mile and a half in circumference, but, consisting mostly of rich pasture lands, supports a farmhouse besides the lighthouse, with a revolving light 154 feet above the sea. 425-nauge

SITE OF THE CAPITAL

Washington in the Days When John Adams Was President. When Adams came into the presidency the stately observances of Washington's day were not allowed to lapse. Even transplanting the seat of government from Philadelphia to the unfinished town on the Potomac had served only to jolt and rather humorously distort them. With the chill of new plaster pervading the executive residence, Mrs. Adams despaired of getting sufficient wood cut either for love or money from the growing trees surrounding it to fill its yawning fireplaces and dispel the dampness.

THE BIBLE IN AFRICA.

It is Read There in 148 Languages and Dialects. On the continent of Africa alone the New Testament or parts of it have been translated into 148 languages and dialects. The two latest additions are Dabida, a language of British East Africa, and Limba, the language of a tribe in the hinterland of Sierra Leone. Parts of the New Testament have actually been translated into pidgin English, that strange lingo, half baby talk and half slang, which is the chief means of communication through all the east.

Difference in Woods.

Timber is classed as hard or soft, and the main point of difference between the trees that produce these classes is that the soft wooded tree has "needle leaves," slim, narrow and almost uniform in breadth, while the hard wood trees have broad leaves of various shapes. Again, some soft wood trees carry cones, such trees being termed conifers. Resin, too, is more characteristic of soft than of hard wood. To the class of soft woods belong the pines, spruces and firs, and the most common examples of these are yellow pine, white fir, pitch pine and spruce or red fir. In the commoner hard woods are oak, beech, mahogany, ash, walnut, plane, elm, birch and ebony.
