COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

A great deal of corn has just been planted and some is being planted now. One of the best treatments for this new planting is to begin harrowing the ground with a common spike-tooth harrow. Begin very soon after the planting is done and repeat the operation every three or four days until the corn is four inches high. Don't be afraid of harrowing it too much; good light harrowing will give the results.

We have always heard it said that "It pays to advertise." We always see the sign of the business or professional man in the city, and the proprietors name usually prominent. This is not the case, generally, in the rural districts. Every farm should have a name, and that name prominently displayed. Every mail box should be placed on a neat painted post and the name of the farmer on it.

INCREASED TELEPHONE RATES DENIED HOME CO.

Salem, May 16.—The petition of the Home Telephone and Telegraph Company of Southern Oregon for an increase in rates at Medford, Jacksonville, Gold Hill and Rogue River was denied by the public service commission today. Switching charges on farmer party lines were increased slightly by the order.

ADD MARCHAN KILLED Mch hd

Jean Baptiste Marchand, 53 years old, was one of the most notable French generals. His clash with Lord Kitchener in 1898 threatened war between England and France. The episode was known as the "Fashoda incident." At the close of it Marchand surrendered Fashoda, Africa, to British troops under Kitchener.

ORPET LOVE LETTERS WILL GO TO THE JURY

Waukegan, Ill., May 16.—Love letters which Miss Celeste Youker wrote to her fiancee, William H. Orpet, now on trial charged with murdering Marion Lambert, another sweetheart, will be submitted to the jury and a copy of them given to the defense, according to the judge's ruling today. The court also decided that the love letters written in French which Miss Lambert sent to Orpet shall remain in sole possession of the prosecution at present.

Miss Youker will be an important witness for the state. The selection of a jury proceeded slowly today. It is alleged that Orpet met Marion Lambert, a high school girl, by appointment in a forest, and to get rid of her so he could marry Miss Youker poisoned her with cyanide.

15 YEARS IN JAIL FOR SLAUGHTER

Oroville, Cal., May 16.—Rev. Madison Slaughter, Baptist pastor at Chico, was today sentenced to 15 years in San Quentin for an assault on Gertrude Lamson, a 15-year-old school girl. He will appeal for a new trial.

Judge Gregory, who presided at both of the minister's trials, imposed sentence. The room was crowded. Much surprise was manifested, as it had not been supposed that the pastor would receive so severe a sentence.

Slaughter and his attorneys will fight hard for a third trial. Meanwhile the pastor will remain in the county jail, his efforts to get freedom on bail having failed.

Slaughter faced his sentence stolidly. The only sound in the room besides that of the judge's voice was the sobbing of Mrs. Ivy Camper, defense witness and friend of the Slaughter family.

W. H. Schooler, for the defense, made a long speech on appeal for a new trial.

At noon Judge Gregory denied the motion of Schooler for a new trial and overruled a writ of probable cause for appeal. The case will be taken at once to the appellate court, however.

The other four indictments against Slaughter were dismissed on motion of District Attorney Raymond Leonard.

TAKE EVIDENCE IN TREASON TRIAL

London, May 16.—John McCarthy, a Kerry farmer, upset the plans which Berlin had carefully been laying for months with the object of having Sir Roger Casement, rebellion sweep Ireland. This fact was brought out today in Casement's preliminary hearing on a treason charge. McCarthy, and not the secret service, caused the knight's capture.

McCarthy was called to the witness stand and spoke with such a rich brogue that the court and spectators had difficulty in understanding him. His story rivaled fiction. On the morning of Good Friday, he testified, he was walking on the coast near Tralee when he noticed a small boat floating toward the shore. He also observed fresh footprints in the sand. His suspicions being aroused, he notified the army barracks. Officers were assigned to investigate.

At this point Sergeant Hearne took up the story. He said that police scattered along the coast and found Sir Roger in an old fort. Casement, said Hearne, protested against his arrest, claiming to be Richard Morton, an author. Nevertheless, he was taken to the barracks after having dropped a paper containing the phrase: "Await further instructions. Have decided to stay. Further ammunition, rifles needed. Send another ship."

Sergeant James Butler escorted Casement to the Dublin train, where, he testified, Sir Roger broke down and sobbed when informed that his two confederates had been drowned. Scotland Yard Inspector Cock testified that Casement admitted his identity at the London railway station.

Constable Reilly actually arrested Casement. He said that upon searching his prisoner he found a German memorandum covering Casement's recent travels in Germany. Martin Collins, a lad driving a pony cart which officers commandeered to drive Casement to Tralee, identified the defendant.

Sydney Wagoner, the last crown witness to be heard before court adjourned until tomorrow, was a signalman aboard the British warship which overhauled the German auxiliary accompanying the submarine conveying Casement to Ireland. He testified that he halted the German and received an unsatisfactory response, whereupon he ordered the auxiliary to proceed toward Queenstown. The Germans, he swore, scuttled their vessel, donned German naval uniforms and took to the lifeboats. Then they surrendered.
