OREGON WEATHER Fair tonight and Saturday; not so warm interior west portion Saturday; winds mostly northerly.

"THE ROGUE FOR US."

The bathing girls who filled one of the beautifully decorated autos in the rose show parade surely recognize a good thing when they see it.

"The Rogue for us" finds a responsive chord in every one. The bathing girl takes her afternoon plunge and her affection goes out to the most attractive river in the west.

Then we have the anglers, and their song is the same—"The Rogue for us." The canoeist—he adds to the refrain; while the lovers of scenic beauty, and that takes in the entire list, echo, "The Rogue for us."

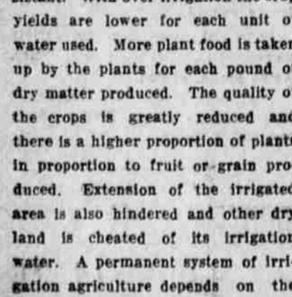

The Rogue is southern Oregon's greatest asset. For pleasure or for industry, it is always in the spotlight. Its limpid flood poured over the broad acres will cause them to blossom as the rose, while its energy properly applied by science will move the wheels of enterprise.

AN IRRIGATION DANGER.

The men of science at the agricultural college at Corvallis are now out with a warning to irrigators, showing the danger to crop and soil of putting too much water upon the ground.

Over-irrigation is probably the greatest menace to irrigation agriculture. The danger of over-irrigation on sandier soils is that it will leach out the valuable available plant foods.

When George IV. visited Edinburgh Sir Walter Scott was showman. The king observed the motto over the gate of the law society and asked its meaning.

COUNCIL SEEKS BOND FORFEITURE

The city council held a session Thursday night that was unmarked by spectacular performance, and the business of the city was given full attention.

POLICE ORDER NOT HEEDED BY STRIKERS

Virginia, Minn., June 16.—Bloodshed was anticipated following the formal declaration of striking iron ore miners concentrated here that they would not pay any attention to a police order to leave the city.

Blunt Translation. A certain law society in Edinburgh bought a baronial mansion for their offices and headquarters.

THIAUMONT FARM SCENE OF BATTLES

Paris, June 16.—After a period of infantry inaction of 48 hours, the Germans launched violent infantry attacks against the Thiaumont farm-Caillette woods sector of the Verdun front.

At times the French artillery fire was so heavy that the Germans were killed in their trenches before they were able to see.

"On the west bank of the Meuse," said the statement, "the Germans launched seven counter-attacks on Dead Man's hill. These were repulsed and 185 Germans were taken prisoners."

In the official statement of last night the French claimed the capture of 130 prisoners when they took a German trench south of Dead Man's hill.

AVIATOR SMITH INJURED IN JAPAN

Saporo, Japan, June 16.—Art Smith, American aviator, was seriously injured in the right leg today when his aeroplane fell while he was making a flight.

Art Smith, the "boy aviator," thrilled crowds at the Panama exposition in San Francisco last year when he made daily flights over the bay and performed a series of sensational loops and twists.

He electrified the Japanese by his aerial performances. A few weeks ago, when a large crowd had assembled to watch him fly, engine trouble developed and Smith was unable to ascend.

ROBERT PELOUZE GETS WEST POINT APPOINTMENT

Medford, June 16.—Robert Pelouze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pelouze of Eagle Point, who has won state fame as an athlete, has received his appointment to West Point, and left Thursday by way of Los Angeles.

General William Pelouze is a relative of Mr. Pelouze and was at one time attorney general. He also served in the Civil war.

Robert has just completed a year's work at Stanford and won considerable honor in football. He will make a strong addition to the West Point team.

Cautious. "What do you think Kate is?" "Oh, twenty-four is a safe guess." "What do you mean by a safe guess?" "In case she heard of my saying it." —Exchange.

Best 12 blooms, either one variety or mixed—Mrs. Blanchard, first; Mrs. Roper, second.

The "Made-in-Oregon" dinner was even a greater success gastronomically and numerically than its promoters had even hoped, and all during the noon hours the tables in the dining room of the Oxford, where the dinner was served, were filled, while scores of people waited for a chance to capture a place and be served with home-grown products by Oregon girls as waitresses.

This afternoon the baby show, with many of the youngest citizens of the city the center of attraction, is claiming attention, the prize winners to be announced later. Tonight the dance will be on, and the rose show will come to its finish in a whirlwind of merriment.

ROOSEVELT READS ST. LOUIS PLATFORM

New York, June 16.—Colonel Roosevelt today received and carefully read the pro-American, anti-hyphen plank to be a part of the democratic platform; but declined to comment, saying: "I am in private life, and wish to be treated as a man in private life. I do not wish it to appear that I have gone back on anything I have said."

Roosevelt was in his street clothes and walked about ably, but showed signs of being in pain when he talked. He reiterated, however, that his injury was painful rather than serious and that he will be all right speedily.

ANXIETY.

What does your anxiety do? It does not empty tomorrow of its grief, but it empties today of its strength. It does not make you escape the evil; it makes you unfit to cope with it if it comes. —Jan MacLaren

What the lady said

A LADY said she had tried other good coffees — and had found them satisfactory. But, she had come back to her favorite, Schilling's Best, because it was a little smoother, a little richer—and she was always sure of results.

Any 40 or 45 cent coffee, packed evenly ground, in vacuum-sealed tins, is pretty sure to be good. But Schilling's Best is not only good—it is economical. It goes further.

This is partly due to its even grinding—every ounce yields the utmost flavor—and to the vacuum-sealed, airtight tins which protect all its fresh-roasted strength for your use.

Sold only through grocers.
