Steelheads Are Fickle— The fickleness of the Rogue river steelhead is being evidenced to a great extent lately. For a few days they were striking readily at a fly. Then a spinner would induce the fish from the river, but for the last few days neither of these could as much as get a rise from them. An attempt was made with crayfish, and with this it kept the fisherman busy pulling the steelheads out. One or two were caught on the fly yesterday, but when the bait was used several large sized steelheads were landed besides big catches of three or four pound fish.

PERSHING REPORTS MOVES OF VILLA

Washington, Aug. 23.— General Villa is now hiding in the mountains of Durango, with only a small force, General Pershing reported to the war department today.

Pershing's message said: "My last report regarding Villa reported advancing on Parral now reported incorrect. Villa had only small following. He avoided Parral and places occupied by Carranza troops. He was making his way down into Durango. Probably now hiding in the mountains. Until recently Villa had been hiding since being driven to mountains of southern Chihuahua by our troops last April. His late attempt to obtain a following reported almost total failure. Opinion seems general that Villa's prestige is gone and that he can never again become serious factor in Mexican affairs."

SWISS AND BRITON HELD IN MEXICO AS GRINGO SPIES

Eagle Pass, Texas, Aug. 23.— Charged with being American spies, Dr. Walter Staub, a Swiss, and Malcolm Muir, an Englishman, were arrested by the Mexican authorities at Piedras Negras and have been in jail for 48 hours on a bread and water diet.

R. W. A. Marshall, British consul, wired to Ambassador Spring-Rice today, and also sent a telegram to General Carranza, asking the immediate release of Muir. W. H. Blocker, United States consul, has taken the matter up with the state department at Washington.

The two men were examining geologists for the Corona Oil company at Tampico. Both had passports from the Mexican military commander at Tampico.

BALD-PATES GET LAST LAUGH

New York, Aug. 23.—The bald-headed man came into his own here today. He gave his brothers with heavily thatched roofs the laugh. Just as wigmakers settled their troubles with the human hair workers, who charged inhuman treatment, thus assuring a continued supply of wigs and toupees, 6,000 barbers walked out.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT GHOST UP

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—As an aftermath of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy, the federal district court is today considering an action filed by the United States against Louis R. Glavis, former chief of the Pacific coast land office division, to recover $320. It is alleged that Glavis, as special disbursing agent, paid himself that amount as chief of the land office for the expense of a trip to confer with President Taft and Gifford Pinchot in behalf of the latter, just before Ballinger resigned as secretary of the interior. The government asserts the trip was unauthorized.

His Gentle Hint.

Friend—I suppose if people would do just what you tell them you would have a great deal less trouble.

Doctor—Yes, indeed! I would tell some of them to settle their accounts.

SCHUMANN-HEINK STARTS SOUTH

Portland, Aug. 23.—Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink started for her home near San Diego today, after spending a week looking at Oregon ranch property, with the idea of purchasing an estate. It is understood the great contract may buy two places—an orchard in southern Oregon and a dairy in Polk county.
