County Court Was Useful—
The members of the county court, Judge Gillette and Commissioners Lind and Robinson, got first-hand evidence of the need for a reduced grade over the Wolf Creek hill when they were inspecting highways Thursday. A tourist auto becoming stalled upon the grade, the three business managers of the county hung their coats on the bushes, and when gasoline failed to supply sufficient motive power, pushed the machine up the hill themselves. It is now a question as to whether it will be cheaper for the county to make a new road or to keep the county court on the job to assist travelers over the grade.

BEAR CREEKERS WALLOP LOCALS

Fighting hard, but forced by a superior team to give ground, the local football team was defeated yesterday afternoon by Medford, with the score 13-0. The visitors showed the result of experience, while a number of the Grants Pass players had never before been in a game. The game was well played and furnished the spectators with a number of thrills. About 300 people were present.

During the first two quarters Medford was held scoreless, but in the last half two touchdowns were made and goal was kicked once. Bob Bestul showed up fine as punter for the locals, putting the ball high and far down the field. Bears, as center, played an aggressive game and stopped a large number of Medford's plays. Juel Bestul made good yardage at fullback and played a consistent game. Harmon and Spaulding played their position at halfback with good results, Spaulding making several good tackles. Underwood relieved Spaulding, who was injured and made good yardage. Leroy and Lucas showed the result of inexperience, but are good material and have the "makings" of hard players. As tackles Wilkins and Reynolds made credible showings and D. Wilkins and Robert Bestul at end kept the opposite team guessing. Johnny Smith showed good head work at quarter.

Seattle—To get jobs picking apples near Wenatchee, a mother and four daughters rode the brake beams from Spokane.
