TEDDY ATTACKS WILSON'S PET THEME

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Why President Wilson should not be re-elected—his pet theme—was the subject of Colonel Roosevelt's speech here at noon today when he invaded the buckeye state for Hughes rallies here and at Cleveland. He speaks at Cleveland tonight.

"President Wilson told us yesterday in speeches at Buffalo," said Roosevelt, "that 'questions involving human lives should not be dragged into politics.' Very true. Then he has done it."

"Let me give you a homely example. Suppose a municipal administration throws a city wide open to vice and to murders, to thugs and burglars. The city has no remedy for such a situation except through politics. Such a city administration forces the citizens who want decent government to resort to politics. And this is what Mr. Wilson's administration has forced us to do."

As a sub-topic the colonel emphasized "true Americanism." He quoted "their true faith and allegiance," written by a German-American—Gustavus Ohlinger—at Toledo, with an introduction by Owen Wister. The book is a vigorous denunciation of the foreigner who comes here to reap the benefits of America's free government, but who fails to give his full allegiance to the Stars and Stripes.

Roosevelt got a big reception here. He was paraded in state to the hall where he spoke.

SCHOOL CHILDREN HURT IN INDIANA COLLISION

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 2.—Three young school girls probably were fatally hurt, Peter Knuth, driver of a school hack, badly injured, and seventeen other school children less seriously hurt when a line car on the Portland division of the Indiana Union Traction line crashed into the school hack at Como, near Portland, Ind., about 7 a. m. today.

DEUTSCHLAND HAS $10,000,000 CARGO

New London, Conn., Nov. 2.—Smiling Captain Koenig, skipper of the German submarine freighter Deutschland, confidently thought today he would be able to unload his $10,000,000 cargo without interference from the United States. He claimed there was no hitch about this, but Collector of Port McGovern of Connecticut evidently thought different, for he hastened to Hartford yesterday to confer with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, presumably about the known jewels and the stocks and bonds said to be aboard. The outcome of this session had not been made public early today.

Sporadic New London is wider awake now than it has been since the days when the British sneaked up the channel, captured the fort atop of the Groton hills, and slew the brave American commander.

Captain Koenig and his crew are cheered every time they appear on the street. A 16-year-old member of it.

the crew with several sturdy fellow members narrowly escaped embraces from a crowd of handsome women when they appeared on Main street today. They only edged out after they had signed autograph photographs of their boat. The crew has shore leave—and they are enjoying it. The story goes that when the Scott tug greeted the Deutschland and inquired if it wanted a tow, a voice from aboard the submarine answered, "No, we want beer."

Captain Koenig's talk with newspaper men left the impression that anti-American feeling is rather strong in Germany, though he hesitantly said it was not "very bad." He scoffs at the British blockade.

"It's only a spy system, a chain of commercial agents," he said, "and if the British navy comes out, why we will be ready for them, though, frankly, we can not catch up to England's naval strength during the war."

"Germany thinks the war will last at least another year, and it is confident of the outcome."

"The submarine is the vessel of the future. Battleships are no good any more and anybody who does not see that must wear blinders. I think the United States is beginning to realize

VILLA BLOCKADES CHIHUAHUA CITY

El Paso, Nov. 2.—By isolating Chihuahua City from all food supplies, munitions and troop reinforcements, Villa plans to force an evacuation of the city by Carranzistas, military men here believed today. Unless the break in the railway lines is repaired within a very short time, it is generally conceded General Trevino will be pushed to the extremity of leaving the capital.

The city has a heavy garrison of Carranzistas and a large civil population dependent upon food supplies from the north and south.

Officials of the Mexican de facto government announced today that two military trains have been sent out from Chihuahua City, with several hundred de facto soldiers, to guard the operations of the repair train in the effort to throw up temporary bridges in place of those burned by Villistas.

Officials declared trains will be running again in a few days.
