

AT THE MOVIES
"The Doctor and the Woman"

Reviewed by Joseph L. Kelley
Jewel Productions gathered in the strands of a worth-while screen drama when it secured the rights to Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "E." presented on the screen under the title, "The Doctor and the Woman." The author laid a fine, sustaining foundation and under the direction of Lois Weber, it has blossomed forth into one of the most entertaining screen dramas seen for some time at the Broadway theatre, where it ran for a limited engagement last week to crowds fully appreciating its every quality of entertainment in pantomime. The little human touches which have been evidenced here and there during its expositions and out with all prominence, and the subtle, convincing manner in which the chief characters have been vitalized by Mildred Harris, True Boardman, Albert Roscoe, Zella Caull and Carl Miller, is impregnated with an interest compelling force attaining a resistance hard to overcome.

"The Doctor and the Woman" was booked to the Joy Theater October 16 and 17, but was postponed due to the closing of the theater. The picture is in such demand that the management has not been able to secure a second booking until this week. It will be shown at the Joy Theater Wednesday and Thursday.

The More Spots the More Meals.
The number of spots burned on a Chinese monk's head shows how much he has elected to endure, says a recent writer on the subject of China. They receive as severe an initiation as they desire, and get therefrom certain privileges. If a monk has three spots he can get three meals free at any monastery in China; six spots entitles him to six meals; nine spots to three days' board, and the maximum of twelve, a month's care.

Pudding in History.
Pudding in its early form was made of minced meat of some sort, well seasoned and stuffed into an intestine, and then cooked by boiling. There are words in many early languages meaning pudding, but it seems originally to have come from some word meaning a short body or inflated skin.

"ROOM ONLY FOR ONE FLAG"—ROOSEVELT

New York, Jan. 7.—What was the last public statement by Colonel Roosevelt was read Sunday night at an "all-American concert" here under the auspices of the American Defense society, of which he was honorary president.

"I cannot be with you and so all I can do is to wish you Godspeed," it read. "There must be no sagging back in the fight for Americanism merely because the war is over.

"There are plenty of persons who have already made the assertion that they believe the American people have a short memory and that they intend to revive all the foreign associations which most directly interfere with the complete Americanization of our people. Our principle in this matter should be absolutely simple.

"In the first place we should insist that if the immigrant who comes here does in good faith become an American and assimilate himself to us, he shall be treated on an exact equality with everyone else, for it is an outrage to discriminate against any such man because of creed or birthplace or origin. But this is predicted upon the man's becoming in very fact an American and nothing but an American.

"If he tries to keep segregated from men of his own origin and separated from the rest of America, then he isn't doing his part as an American. There can be no divided alliance at all.

"We have room for but one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag which symbolizes all war against liberty and civilization just as much as it excludes any foreign flag of a nation to which we are hostile. We have room for but one language here and that is the English language, for we intend to see that the crucible turns our people out as Americans and American nationality, and not as dwellers in a polyglot boarding house; and we have room for but one soul loyalty, and that is loyalty to the American people."

POOR COWS ARE GOOD EATERS SAYS O. A. C.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Jan. 7.—Feed cost of poor producing cows in Oregon is but little lower than that of high producing cows. It cost but $11.86 less to feed the cows on test which produced 390 pounds of fat than those which produced 150 pounds. The cost for cows yielding 290 pounds of fat was only $6.78 less than for those yielding 300 pounds. Hence the difference in the total feed cost between cows producing 290 pounds and 490 pounds of fat was $18.64. Yet the value of their product, which cost but little less than the product of the good producers, was worth only about half as much. The entire difference in cost of feed for cows producing 100 pounds and 400 pounds of fat was $30.09.

CHAMBERLAIN LAUDS COLONEL ROOSEVELT

Washington, Jan. 7.—Senator Chamberlain went further than other members of northwest delegations in congress by supplementing his public statement on the death of Colonel Roosevelt with a personal telegram of condolence to Mrs. Roosevelt last night, in which he said:

"Please accept my deepest sympathy in the affliction which has come to you through the loss of your distinguished husband. His life has been spent in the service of his country and he has furnished an illustrious example, worthy of emulation by the youth of America. He had the courage of his convictions and dared express them, and his utterances have breathed the spirit of loftiest patriotism at all times and under all circumstances."

Senator Chamberlain recounted today that his friendship with Colonel Roosevelt began in 1903, when he, as governor of Oregon, made a trip with a party of governors down the Mississippi river to investigate proposed river and harbor improvements. Mr. Roosevelt, as president, was the guest of the party.

"We spoke from the same platform at Memphis," said the senator, "and the friendship then formed never waned and only party lines separated us. When I was selected as the people's choice for senator in 1908, Colonel Roosevelt, republican that he was, issued a public statement saying that the republican legislature of Oregon was obligated to obey the people's will."

Thankful for Dog Fight

Medford was certainly the dearest town on the map New Years day, says the Gold Hill News. Gold Hill was a metropolis beside it. There simply was nothing doing in the Ford town, whereas there is always something doing, if nothing more than a dog fight in Gold town.

The Lure of Ink

The Gold Hill News says that "Dad" Lampman has resurrected the Central Point Herald and is making his home in that city. There is nothing in the newspaper game, financially speaking, but once a printer, always a printer. A printer simply can't keep his nose out of the ink can.

Ill at Klamath Falls

Mrs. E. A. Simmons, of Klamath Falls, who has been spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nutt, received a telephone message yesterday stating that her husband, the Klamath Falls butter-maker, was very ill with influenza. Mr. Simmons, accompanied by her mother, has returned to Klamath Falls.

Regular Pumping Plant

W. A. Cook was a business visitor to Gold Hill this morning. He believes in supporting the home paper and paid up two years subscription. His is one of the coldest jobs in the country. To walk track, as it is called, pumping a speeder 38 miles every day, between Grants Pass and Gold Hill is certainly hard work on days like the near past.—Gold Hill News.

Prune Growers Happy

V. T. Jackson left for Salem Sunday afternoon to take charge of the prune packing there for the Drager Fruit Co., says the Roseburg Review. He has finished the work here for the Drager Co., packing and shipping about 3,750,000 pounds from the Roseburg plant and about 1,250,000 pounds from the Myrtle Creek plant. Mr. Jackson estimates that nearly 8,500,000 pounds of prunes were produced in this county the past year, and that an average of fully ten cents per pound was received by the growers for the crop, or approximately $850,000.

Jackson County Officers

The changes at the county court house today were made without any fuss and feathers when the officers chosen at the last election were inducted into office, says the Medford Tribune of Monday. George A. Gardner succeeded Frank L. Tou Velle as county judge, Chauncey Florey took office as county clerk, Chas. Terrell became sheriff in place of Leslie W. Stansell and James Owens became county commissioner. Mrs. Blakely succeeded herself as county treasurer, County School Superintendent Ager and County Assessor Coleman both hold over for two years. John Perl succeeded himself as county coroner.

How Women Can Lighten Their Labors and Save Money at the Same Time
Inferior groceries require more work in the handling, produce unsatisfactory results, and because of their lack of nourishment are expensive in the end, requiring a much greater amount to sustain life and strength.
High grade groceries contain more nourishment, require less labor in handling, and often cost no more than the inferior grades. They last much longer, are more strengthening and satisfying, and in the end cost much less.
We invite you to give OUR store a trial on your next order. You will not regret it.

PORTLAND SCHOOL GIRLS IN THEFT RING
With the arrest late yesterday of two women on a charge of receiving stolen goods from high school girl shoplifters, police believe they have broken up a ring which was rapidly undermining the morals of Portland students. Police say the girls had been taught to steal expensive garments in downtown department stores, and were selling them for one-fifth of the retail price.
The women arrested were: Mrs. Hazel Wright, 27, landlady of the lodging at 223 West Park street and her mother, Mrs. Hannah Wright. Police took up the trail of the alleged arch-criminals after a school-girl had told of selling them her loot.
The authorities refuse to divulge the names of the schoolgirls implicated, but say that at least four, all students at the same high school, and none of them more than 14 years old, have been stealing either directly or indirectly through the influence of the women under arrest.—The Oregonian.
