MORE CHINA OUTRAGES.

MISSIONARIES ARE DRIVEN AWAY.

Prejudice Against Foreigners Being Stirred Up by Falsehoods—Coolies, to Be Sent to the Nicaragua Canal, the Plantation of Jamaica and Ecuador.

More Outrages in China.

VANCOUVER special: Mail advices per the steamer Empress of India state that the anti-foreign policy is again manifesting itself in the Yang Tse Valley, and that a renewal of the outrages and riots is probable. The "Herati," who are in advance of the European loss of prestige, fired with intense hatred, are stirring up popular prejudice against foreigners by malignant falsehoods, and in many instances the half-ignorant and superstitious and fanatical forces are powerless. At Ching Hi and Kieng mobs, personally led by the "Herati," looted the missionary buildings and put the foreign residents in danger of their lives. In Ching Hi two ladies, missionaries of the Church of England, were insulted and ordered to depart. They escaped to the chief magistrate's house, which the mob surrounded, and the frightened women sent the ladies away. At Kieng the mission hospital and dispensary was wrecked. Dr. Riggs was dragged out by four soldiers, ostensibly sent by the local Mandarin to protect the place. Riggs made his way out amid a shower of bricks, stones, and sticks. Not satisfied, however, the mob tried to throw him into a vat of liquid oil. Riggs finally escaped with his clothing torn to rags and minus his watch and chain. The natives were robbed of all their possessions. A project is on foot at Hong Kong to send 10,000 or 15,000 coolies to the Nicaragua Canal, the plantations of Jamaica, British Honduras, and Ecuador.

OMAHA WILL BE CROWDED.

The People Will Flock There By the Thousands.

OMAHA, Neb., special: Omaha citizens are getting uneasy about handling the People's Party Convention. The official estimate completed shows that 50,000 visitors will be present and the convention will last four days. The meeting of the general committee of citizens, called by Chairman Swobe at the Board of Trade, revealed that there was an alarming apathy regarding the convention. Considerable money must be raised to meet expenses and the committee realizes that heroic measures must be resorted to in order to secure the amount needed. The committee on hotels reported that it had secured accommodations for 6,000 lodgers, with only a part of the city canvassed. Every arrangement has been made to put the obelisk in shape for the convention as soon as the Manufacturers' Exhibit is closed. Nothing remains to be done but to raise the balance of the funds needed and to secure quarters for the visitors.

Labor Trouble in Minnesota.

MINNEAPOLIS special: At the Minnesota iron mines, near Tower, 1,400 men are on a strike and the mining shafts are filling with water. The strikers have possession of the engine and pumps and are drunk and ugly. 300 Finlanders laid off without permission and got drunk. They were discharged and the strike is the result. Two shots were fired at Superintendent Wallace without effect. Company A of Duluth, is preparing to go to the scene. Twenty deputy sheriffs have gone already.

Ocean Greyhounds Race.

New York special: The race between the White Star Steamer Alaska and the Cunarder Auraman across the ocean to the West was won by the former of Sandy Hook in 7 days 5 hours and 45 minutes, with only about twenty minutes to her credit. The Alaska was delayed by broken machinery a few hours.

IN THE EAST.

PITTSBURG special: The Pittsburgh relief committee decided to issue an appeal for more money to relieve the oil region sufferers. It is stated that the amount of money needed to relieve the people of the two flooded cities is $300,000.

WASHINGTON special: All the governments of Europe have either formally or informally accepted the invitation issued by President Harrison to participate with the United States in a monetary conference looking to the more extensive use of silver money. The time and place for the conference have not yet been settled. While the conferees on the part of the United States have not yet been announced, it is generally accepted that H. W. Cannon and Senator Jones of Nevada, will be appointed.

CINCINNATI special: A casualty such as throws a pall of sorrow over a community and sends a thrill of horror through the civilized world happened on the Licking River, between Newport and Covington, Ky. A wagon and straitway bridge was in course of construction between the two cities. The contractors for the iron work were Baird Bros. of Pittsburg. They both went down to death with their two score or more workmen. The stone piers on each side of the river were finished. The iron works of the approaches are very massive. The span between the two piers is 300 feet. The eighth of the truss which was to form the bridge span was sixty-five feet above the water. A false work of piling and timbers had been built on top of the river. On top of this false work the construction of the iron truss was begun midway between the two piers, and work was pushed from the middle both ways. Five sections of the ponderous iron work had been constructed. On top of this was a truss, which was full of men and some of them near the top, nearly 100 feet above the water of the Licking River. The timbers of this false work were old and weatherbeaten and evidently had been used before. It was the mass of iron weighing hundreds of tons that over-matched them, wrought ruin and gathered an awful harvest for death. Thirty-six men were in the FOREIGN JOTTINGS.

BOURDEAUX special: It is now known that there were two explosions on the tank Steamer Petrolia at Blaye. The first explosion killed twelve men and blew their bodies into the sea. The night gang was at work unloading the vessel, which still had 1,500 tons of petroleum aboard. After the first explosion the foreman rushed to stop the petroleum tap connecting with the factory, when a second explosion occurred. The foreman and another man disappeared. The lighters took fire and drifted away, and two lightermen and the wife of one of them were burned to death. The wife of the other was rescued from the water unconscious. A customs officer was killed while trying to assist the victims. The total loss caused by the explosions is estimated at $120,000 on account of the cargo and $60,000 on account of the lighters, which were destroyed and sunk. The vessel was insured in Paris. A part of the vessel is still visible above the water. Four of the victims of the catastrophe belonged in Blaye. The others were members of the Petrolia's crew. The terrible force of the explosion is shown by the finding of portions of some of the bodies of the killed a long way from the steamer. The head of a customs officer was picked up a great distance from the scene of the disaster. The bodies of the sailors who were drowned have not yet been recovered, although a constant search is being made for them. The explosions, besides tearing the steamer apart, carried away all the metal portions of the vessel.

MADRID special: At a bull fight at Linares, the crowd became dissatisfied with the sport and pelted the Mayor and the bull fighters with bolts, sticks and dirt. They then burst into the arena, where the infuriated bull charged upon them, tossing them right and left. One was killed and a number of others seriously injured. The Mayor ordered the civil guard to clear the ring. The guard refused. The crowd then chased the Mayor to police headquarters, and smashed the windows and doors. The Mayor escaped and fled to the barracks, where he was shot. But the rioting continued in other parts of the town until night.

LONDON special: The Daily News special from Vienna says: While at Copenhagen the Czar expressed his intention to attend the wedding of the Crown Prince of Roumania to Princess Marie of Edinburgh, which is expected to take place at the end of the month. One result, therefore, will be a meeting of sovereigns of England, Russia, Germany and Roumania.

THE SOUTHERN SUMMARY.

SAN ANTONIO special: F. M. Hartman, an American merchant at Guaymas, Sonora, Mex., has just arrived here. He states that the wildest excitement existed in the State of Sonora, over the arrest and conviction of Teresa Uria, the celebrated saint of Cachoas, by the District Judge of Guaymas. St. Teresa was arrested three weeks ago by a detachment of soldiers, who escorted her and her aged father, Thomas Uria, to Guaymas. She is confined in a cell, and kept closely confined, heavily ironed and kept in a dark room. About 10 years ago Teresa first became aware of a healing power which enabled her to cure ailments of all kinds. The news of her power spread among the Yaqui and Mayo Indians, who visited her by the hundreds. The excitement spread to all parts of Sonora and was reaching the State of Chihuahua, when the government decided to put an end to the arresting the saint and putting her out of the way. When the news reached the Mayo Indians that St. Teresa was to be shot, they went on the war path and have devastated a vast amount of property and created much terror among the ranch owners. Mr. Hartman says St. Teresa is about 17 years of age and is possessed of some strange power. The District Judge firmly believes that she is a witch and that her father is an accessory. St. Teresa would never accept remuneration of any kind for the wonderful cures she is said to have performed. She awaits her fate quietly and offered no defense when on trial.

LANCASTER, Ky., special: Lancaster is a local option town. Several days ago Henry A. Burdette, a detective took the "blind tigger," in hand and began his "blind tigger" case. He reported the illicit whisky selling "Blind tigger" a negro settlement. He reported this morning and five negroes and one white man were arrested to-day on 3,211 warrants. The white man's name is Frank Turner. He hails from Bell County. He was fined $100 each in $1,577 cases, amounting to $157,700. Turner is now in the jail. A negro named John Smith, who was engaged in the business with Turner, confessed in 1,585 cases. His fine will come close to $1,000,000. Burdette, the detective, has several brothers, who will protect him against the Turners, several in number, who, it is believed, will try to do him injury.

NAPOLEONVILLE, La., special: Six men were drowned here by the sinking of a small ferryboat in Bayou in French. Their names are Edmund LeBlanc, John Nardelli, Robert Aiken and two unknown Italians.

NEW ORLEANS special: As telegraphed all hope of closing the Belmont crevasse, forty-eight miles above here, have been abandoned. The break is now more than 200 feet wide and cutting rapidly.

Two Serious Accidents at Wahoo.

AFTER the Bohemian picnic at Wahoo two serious accidents occurred. Joe Heranek got on the train with some of his friends and did not get off until after the train started. Then his friends prevailed on him not to jump off while the train was in motion and succeeded in keeping him from jumping for awhile. Finally he jumped from the train and fell under the wheels. Both legs were torn from his body, one being entirely severed and the other hanging by a few shreds.

Marshal Joe Vinous went to arouse Heranek's friends and inform them of the accident and at one place was attacked by a savage dog. He attempted to draw his revolver from his hip pocket to defend himself and accidentally discharged the weapon, the bullet striking through the fleshy part of his hip and down the posterior of his right leg, inflicting a serious but not dangerous wound.

RECEIVED THEIR DIPLOMAS.

Concluding Exercises of the State University Commencement.

The twenty-first annual commencement exercises of the Nebraska State University were held at Lincoln. The faculty, regents, alumni, graduates and students formed on the Park Opera House. The commencement exercises were opened by a selection from the University Band. Rev. O. A. Williams made the invocation and, after another piece of music, this time from the University Orchestra.

Dr. Willard Scott of Chicago, delivered the commencement oration, taking for his theme the unity of the American people. He traced the history of the United States from the revolution and the adoption of the constitution, through the late rebellion and down to the present time, and he showed how our position among the nations of the earth was the result of the establishment of individual rights. In the earlier history of our national existence America was ignored. As our national prowess was developed we were feared and then respected. To be respected, he said, was greater than to be feared.

The story of America, said Dr. Scott, was the story of her individual men. Individuality was the secret of our national success. He illustrated this fact by telling the story of the mutiny on board the Santa Maria, which Columbus quelled by his individual personality. Turning from the progress of material America to the progress of intellectual America, Dr. Scott said that nothing was more marked than the decline of atheism. The word "atheism" is rapidly becoming lost and in the next edition of the dictionary it would be marked "obsolete." Skeptics now-a-days wish to be agnostics because they don't know what the word means. Neither does any one else. Speaking of education he said that a College should be known by its work for the student. A liberal education should precede special study.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS DESIRED.

Correcting an Erroneous Impression Concerning the Columbian Commission.

F. A. BARTON, who was recently appointed Superintendent of the Educational department of Nebraska's World's Fair exhibit, has gone to Chicago on business connected with the exhibit. He issued a general circular, in the course of which he says:

I ask for the full and hearty co-operation of all in this exhibit, and I particularly solicit the advice and hearty assistance of the schoolmen and schoolwomen of the State, to whom Nebraska, as a progressive and standing we are proud to propose, should appear at Chicago in 1893, as not only an agricultural school, but as an educational one. Her school exhibits, demonstrating that we have good reasons for our standing as the State having the lowest percentage of illiteracy within its borders. A great agricultural State Nebraska is acknowledged to be; we can demonstrate that she is equally as great educationally.

An impression has been abroad that the Nebraska Columbian Commission is not particularly interested in the education of the State. There is no ground for such an opinion, for the members of this Commission have done all in their power to forward the fact that without a high plane educationally goes our sister States. Nebraska cannot long maintain her high standing in all that goes to make up a great Commonwealth. The State press, directed as it is by men with educational aims, an educational spirit and pride in educational advancement and standing, is one of the most potent factors of our progress. It is earnestly sought to see that the local papers have an opportunity to publish it and that the press of the State receive due credit for its part in this work.

A detailed plan will be sent out as soon as the program is arranged. This will be followed from time to time by other letters and letters of information and directions. Personal suggestions will be thankfully received.

WHAT IS HAPPENING HERE AND THERE.

News of Everyday Life of a Great State Gathered and Condensed in a Nutshell—Happenings for the Past Week from All Over the State.

Pharmacists Granted Certificates.

At the meeting of the board of examiners of the Nebraska State Board of Pharmacy held at Grand Island, the following persons successfully passed the examination and received their certificates as registered pharmacists: J. E. Anderson, Alliance; C. J. Barnes, Lincoln; R. L. Beckwith, Oxford; Herbert Cooper, Greenwood; W. S. Cleaver, Hermann; R. C. Harris, Endicott; H. M. M. Julian, Cairo; D. E. Lee, Arcadia; C. F. Lehnardt, Gorman; J. H. Long, Hay Springs; Clarence P. Luden, Ulysses; Herbert W. Miller, Palestine; A. J. McArthur, Westerville; H. S. McDougal, South Omaha; A. J. Sanders, Grand Island; Andrew T. Newman, Newman Grove; Alfred H. Thomas, Trenton.

The Board cancelled the certificates of seventy-nine who had failed to pay the renewed fees and keep up their registration for 1892.

Official School Opinions.

State Superintendent Goudy has given official opinions as follows:

1. A library being a very important part of the working apparatus of the school, the school board has authority to appropriate for this by voting a tax, the same as for other school supplies.
2. A joint district can be formed only by the joint action of the County Superintendents of the Counties in which the territory lies.
3. When a school is closed by the board during the continuance of the County Institute the teacher is not entitled to pay.
4. The direction given by the voters at the annual meeting regarding the amount of school to be had for the ensuing year is final and not a proper subject for consideration at a special meeting.
5. A diploma or certificate from the State Normal School should be registered in the office of the County Superintendent of the County in which the holder intends to teach.
6. Superintendent Goudy is not the annual State apportionment of school moneys. From the report it is noted that the entire amount to be apportioned among the several Counties is $19,283.67. Of this amount $11,326.80 is derived from interest on County bonds, $105,247.39 from interest on unpaid principal school lands, $31,880.39 from school land leases, $57,000.00 from State taxes, $13,050.00 from interest on State bonds. The total amount is apportioned among the several Counties of the State in proportion to the number of school children in each. There are in the State 333,115 children of school age, and the apportionment gives a fraction over .15 cents to each scholar. Douglas County receives $31,721.82 and Lancaster $17,958.

Wounded On His First Wife's Grave.

At Homer, James Henderson, a stock raiser and ranch owner, has just contracted one of the ghastliest marriages on record. He was a widower, his first wife having been dead not more than six months. Within three weeks after her death he was paying court to pretty Sallie Means. The courtship progressed favorably, ending in the marriage spoken of. Henderson is a spiritualist and believes in communications, spirit rappings, etc. Ten days before the second union had been completed he received a spirit message. It told him that the spirit of his first wife was in a perturbed state, his approaching union being the cause. Another communication told him that he was liable to be haunted. To propitiate the wounded spirit Henderson and Miss Means were married at midnight on the grave in which his first wife was buried, clasping hands across the grave. This, Henderson claims, is a sure check upon developing ghosts with a tendency to walk at hours when honest folks of flesh and blood are asleep. Exposure and fright at the strange ordeal she was obliged to undergo have combined to keep the strangely made bride in bed since the ceremony.

Failed to Purchase the Line.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Beatrice Street Railway Company, the contract between the Company and the Beatrice Rapid Transit and Power Company was declared off and all further negotiations between the two companies suspended. Several months ago the Rapid Transit and Power Company undertook to buy the car line known as the Beatrice Street Railway, its tracks, equipments, etc., now in operation. The Rapid Transit Company proposed to electrically equip the road and was given to June 1 to make its necessary payments.

Cashier Starrett Arrested.

At Central City, S. B. Starrett, the defaulting cashier of the Platte Valley bank, which closed a week ago, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by County Attorney Ewing. He is charged with embezzlement.

Receiver Gibbons's Report.

RECEIVER GIBBONS of the defunct Commercial and Savings bank at Kearney, filed his monthly report. It is as follows:

"I have collected to date $1,035.60 and have commenced suit for the collection of $20,320 of past due paper. With the law's delays the prospects are anything but encouraging for immediate results. Nor can I at the present time see much hope or encouragement for those who are creditors of the bank."

Killed a Circus Tet.

A HUGE bear was discovered yesterday attacking a cow belonging to H. Saxon near St. Libory. Mr. Saxon shot at the beast but only wounded the animal, which immediately turned on him. A neighbor came to the rescue with a Winchester and killed the bear. The bear was the property of a man who has been traveling over the country exhibiting two of the animals. The owner paid $5 damages.

THE NATIONAL SOLONS

SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Our National Lawmakers and What They Are Doing for the Good of the Country—Various Measures Proposed, Discussed, and Acted Upon.

Doings of Congress.

In the Senate on the 15th the resolution appropriating $100,000 for the purchase of land in the Cherokee country, was reported with amendments. It carries a total appropriation of $146,727,350, an increase of $11,012,160 over the House bill and $11,222,555 more than last year. The bill introduced by Senator Peffer, May 23, to increase the currency and provide for its circulation; to reduce rates of interest and establish a bureau of loans, was taken from the table. Senator Peffer's bill provides for it. It provides for the appointment by the President of Commissioners to establish a loan agency at the Capital of every State and Territory and other convenient places to loan money to farmers secured by real estate, in sums of not less than $100 nor more than $2,500 to one person or family. No corporation or firm is hereafter to receive more than 5 per cent interest on short time nor more than 4 per cent for a year or longer. Provision is made for loans on agricultural products in warehouses at the rate of 4 per cent.

In the House on the 13th the Committee on Indian Affairs reported the House bill ratifying the agreement for a cession to the United States of lands in the Cherokee country. It aggregates over 6,000,000 acres which will be thrown open to settlement as soon as the bill becomes a law. On motion of Mr. Pool a bill was passed providing that Indian children be declared citizens when they reached the age of 21 years, and shall thereafter receive no support from the government, providing that they have had ten years industrial training. Mr. Pool asked consent to present for consideration a resolution recommending proper conduct on the part of Secretary Noble and Commissioner Carter in regard to the Maxwell land grant (said conduct being alleged to be in pursuance of a conspiracy entered into some years ago by Stephen B. Hicks and J. A. Williamson), and asking for a special committee of seven members to inquire into the matter. Mr. Payne objected and the resolution was not reported. After action upon some District of Columbia measures the House went into Committee of the Whole on the fortifications bill. After discussing the first reading of the bill, the Committee rose on the 16th. The bill in the "consideration" morning hour the Senate bill was passed with an amendment, authorizing the entry of lands which are valuable for building upon, in the place of public lands. Also a bill to protect settlement rights where two or more persons settle on the same section of agricultural public land was passed. In the Senate on the 16th the bill was discussed by Senator Morrill, who was replied to by Senator Stewart, and it went over without action. After a short discussion of the Kansas County, Senator Washburn stated that the bill would be reported promptly by the Committee. The conference report on the River and Harbor bill was made by Senator Foraker. After an agreement had been reached on all but two amendments, which were for a boat railway around the dunes of the Columbia River and for a canal in the State of Washington to connect the waters of Lake Washington with those of Puget Sound. After a long session the Senate insisted on its amendments and agreed to a further conference. In the House on the 16th the bill engaged the entire time of the House and but little attention was paid to debate. On the 17th the interest was largely perfunctory and the bill was adjourned without taking action on the bill.

MISSING LINKS.

JOSHUA WOTTON, aged 85, who lives on Cranberry Island, three miles from the mainland at Friendship, Me., rowed alone to the latter place the other day, walked a mile to a store, bought some garden seed, returned as he came and went to work in his garden. He says he feels as well as he did forty years ago.

JAMES BECKER of Fort Fairfield, Me., has just been released from Houlton jail after an incarceration of four years for debt. He was able to pay but wouldn't, and transferred all of his property, worth several thousand dollars, to relatives, saying that he could stand boarding at the jail as long as the county and his creditors could. The amount of his indebtedness was insignificant.

JACOB KEARNS of West Virginia, hasn't forgotten how to tramp. If he is 90 years old. He recently walked over to his daughter's house, seven miles away in the country, and with her examined the family bible to see if the names of his thirteen children, eighty grandchildren, 127 great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren had been properly entered up on the register.

At Shanghai, China, there is an European quarter which contains handsome buildings for banks and public offices. In most of the streets colonnades are built, while the open spaces are utilized by being filled with trees and flowers. The inevitable race course, which seems to follow as a necessary adjunct to Western civilization, is a prominent feature outside the boundaries.

It is only recently that people have been permitted to ascend the rock and signal station at Gibraltar. Since last November the British military, with their families, and persons connected with the British navy, have been permitted to visit this line lookout. The privilege, however, has not been extended to the citizens of Gibraltar, nor to strangers visiting the fortress, a circumstance which is generally resented, particularly by the subjects of the queen.

MISS LENA WOODWARD of Thorn Creek, Wash., sowed the seed from one head of barley four years ago. She harvested the crop with a pair of shears and sowed the amount received the next year, again harvesting it with her shears. The third crop her father cut with a grass scythe, getting enough barley from this crop to sow forty acres last spring, which averaged forty bushels to the acre when thrashed, making a total yield of 1,600 bushels from one head of barley in four years.

Alphabet in His Eyes.

A youth who hails from Georgia is now in prison in Fort Worth, Texas. The boy is 18 years of age and is truly a freak of nature. Turn the boy's face so that a strong light may shine into his eyes, and the phenomenon is at once clearly seen. Around the pupils of the eye, in the iris, are the twenty-six letters of the alphabet, arranged systematically. They are very diminutive, but clear and distinct. There are thirteen letters in each eye, those up to "m" being in the left eye and the remaining ones in the right. He says that his father, who is a poor preacher in an isolated section of Georgia, carried the alphabet in his eyes, but he thought anything of it. He has four brothers similarly affected.
