Mrs. Marietta M. Bones, of Webster, S. D., who has for several years been a strong advocate of woman suffrage, the other day stopped over completely, and to a Minneapolis Tribune representative made this statement: "My observation of the work of women in politics convinces me that it is not for the best interest of woman herself to be enfranchised. For instance a woman may be at home engaged in maternal duties, caring for a young and helpless family, whose husband might have political aspirations that a woman could not follow."

The Blade and Free Press are sensible; the Mitchell Republican is unwise and ungenerous. Aside from the justice in granting the Black Hills a fair representation upon the state ticket the Republican should know that it would not be good politics to ignore the Hills, or any other portion of the state. The offices should be distributed about the state as much as possible, and no section ignored. Fitness for office and locality must both be considered—one as much as the other. This is business and it is politics from national affairs down to county. The republican party cannot afford to ignore the Hills this year.
