He was Kodaked.
He didn't read the papers, for they hadn't any news; at least, they didn't coincide with his special views; and when he came to town one day, with criticism ripe, he climbed to an electric lamp to light his ancient pipe. He hadn't read the papers—but he knew just what was best; he simply touched the wire and—the fluid did the rest.—Chicago Ledger.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The democrats are bound to have a "monkey and parrot" time of it before they get through.

The Black Hills possesses a climate that is unsurpassed, taking healthfulness and everything into consideration.

Had not the calamities recently worked themselves up to believing that Judge Gresham was with them politically what an awful howl would now be going up over his decision upon the inter-state commerce law. We would never hear the last of accusations that he had sold out to the railroads.

Judge Gresham's recent decision that the interstate commerce commission is not a judicial body, and therefore in his opinion witnesses can not be compelled to answer questions propounded to them or forced to produce certain books, is another stunning blow to the law. By this decision section 12 of the act is nullified, and the commission is left almost powerless so far as ever securing evidence is concerned, as railroads need not now give evidence unless they choose. Gradually the act is becoming riddled.

The equal suffragists of this state held a convention at Huron last week and adopted several resolutions, declaring among other things that taxation without representation is tyranny; that the acknowledged moral influence of woman be crystallized into enfranchised citizenship; that the life savers of the nation should also be law givers; urging that the legislature be petitioned to provide for the election of state and county superintendents of schools when other school officers are elected, instead of at general elections; approving Mrs. Lease candidacy for United States senator from Kansas; and resolving that the marriagable age of girls should be fixed at 18 years instead of 15, as now provided by our statutes.

The railroads should give cheap rates to the world's fair. It certainly would be to their interest to do so. Unless they give a better rate than they now contemplate, the attendance at the world's fair will not be what has been anticipated. People have planned on paying only about half rates to the fair, and unless they secure it they will remain at home. A large majority can not afford to go unless they get cheap rates, and they will not go and be fleeced by the railroads. Railroad companies make it a practice to give low excursion rates to every little county fair, and other fourth rate shows, and now for a great world's fair, which nearly everybody contemplates attending, it is very strange that they can not conclude, without so much dallying, that a very cheap rate would be more profitable for them, and but just to their patrons. Cheap rates are needed to make the fair a success.

A Sioux City Journal correspondent from Letcher, S. D. has settled, in his own mind, the question of who are to be favored with appointments from Gov. Sheldon. Here they are: "The Railroad commissioners will be J. L. Heintz of Aurora, John Brennan of Pennington, and Frank Conklin of Clark, with C. B. Johnson, of Clay, as the probable secretary; for public examiner John Krause, formerly of Scotland but now of Yankton, will be selected; Geo. A. Silsby, of Mitchell, will be adjutant general, and E. T. Sheldon, of Hand, will be commissioner of irrigation. It is understood that Nye Phillips, of Sioux Falls, is making a bold strike for the position of warden of the Sioux Falls penitentiary, while for the place of governor's private secretary a Sully county man will be selected. When it comes to filling the several vacancies on the state boards Gov. Sheldon will take more time, as these appointments are really the most important in all their bearings of any he has to make."

Pierre ladies will be glad to know that Col. W. J. Thorby will be a member of the state senate the coming winter, for he is a prime favorite among the ladies.—Pierre Free Press.

Postmaster General Wanamaker has issued an order to go into effect January 1, 1893, reducing the fee for each piece of registered mail matter from 10 cents to 8 cents.

The Raid City Journal is now the only daily published in that city. The Journal is the oldest paper in Rapid, and Joe Gassago has been a ceaseless toiler in the interests of the place and its many ambitious citizens, and it is but just that he have the field to himself—if there is anything in it. He continues to publish a good local daily.

The Daily Herald has followed in the wake of several other Hills dailies this fall, and on Monday bid adieu to its readers, for the present at least. The Herald finds no fault with anyone because it could not survive, but simply admits that the fruit was plucked before it was ripe. Twas ever thus.

The New Soldiers' Home Commander, Capt. J. P. McGrew, who was last week appointed to succeed Capt. Lucas as commander of the soldiers' home, is at present a resident of Howard, S. D. A report concerning his past life says he was born in Ohio fifty-two years ago. He enlisted on the first call for troops with the Eleventh Indiana infantry, under Colonel Lew Wallace. He was commissioned first lieutenant by Governor Morton, Dec. 25, 1861, and promoted to the captaincy in July of the next year, which place he held until the close of the war. He was wounded twice, once at Champion Hills, Mississippi, and once at Fisher's Hill, Virginia. He was never absent in a March or a battle. He came to Dakota in 1883 and took a claim in Miner county where he has resided ever since. W. P. Phillips, one of the board of commissioners of the home says that Capt. McGrew had some very fine recommendations, the principal one of which was from Col. Lew Wallace. To satisfy the old vets as agreeably as Capt. Lucas has since the opening of the home, Capt. McGrew will have considerable of a task, yet from all reports he is equal to the emergency. He will be welcomed to the prettiest city in the state.

A NEWSPAPER MAN.

The following experience of a newspaper man, taken from the Albuquerque Citizen, will be met with a sympathetic response in the hearts of many readers. The writer evidently was suffering from a severe attack of the blues, and the way he sums up his trials and tribulations is, to say the least, very interesting:

"A newspaper man has no business to seek office. It is his business to try and get an office for the other fellow; to sound the praises of the candidate and keep quiet his own feelings; to whomper up for his man and let his man forget all about him when he is elected; to defend his candidate against the unjust attacks of the opposition, and see that whatever favors his candidate has to bestow goes to the other fellow. It is his business to boom the city for all it is worth, month after month, and then see $100 worth of printing go out of the city because ten cents can be saved by doing so. It is the business of the newspaper to give every enterprise a frequent "send-off," and then catch sheep because he had failed to record the fact that some prominent citizen had his delivery wagon painted. To subscribe liberally to every public, charitable and church entertainment, advertise them for nothing, pay his own way to everything, and then be called prejudiced and mean spirited because a column is not devoted to that particular affair. Do you wonder that there are many cranks in the newspaper business? It is bound to make either a crank or a philosopher out of a man."

Kenneth F. Harris, editor of the Hot Springs Hatchet, spent yesterday in the city. It is reported that the Hatchet man has his eyes set on the Hot Springs post office and his mission yesterday in this city was for the purpose of securing an early endorsement for the position. He returned home on the evening train, and it was given out that he got all that he came for.—Rapid Journal.

A short time ago the Star published an article from the United States Investor which offered prizes for the best essays upon towns and cities. We urged some one in Hot Springs to take hold of the matter and give our city a good write-up, and possibly secure the $500, $300 or $200 prize for having the best article. We see that some one has done so, for among the list of 120 cities already represented Hot Springs is included. The time for receiving these essays will expire Dec. 31st and there is time for some other literary genius to get in an article upon the advantages and beauties possessed by Hot Springs over any other city. The United States Investor, Philadelphia, will be glad of the article.

Fire Clay.
Some time last spring A. M. Kelley, who lives on Battle mountain, discovered what appeared to be a good quality of fine fire clay. He at once proceeded to open it up and get out sufficient to make a test. He furnished the clay for the Evans oven the soldiers' home, and other places about here, to experiment as to its quality. After a thorough trial it was pronounced first-class, and Mr. Kelley has testimonials to that effect. The supply is inexhaustible, and as its quality is unsurpassed the business will doubtless be worked up to quite an industry. It has heretofore been selling for two cents a pound, but Mr. Kelley says if he can get a cent a pound in large quantities he will be satisfied.

LITERARY NOTES.

The first of the unpublished material by Henry Ward Beecher, recently purchased by the Ladies Home Journal, will appear in the January issue of that magazine, and presents, among other things, the great preacher's hitherto unpublished opinion on "Wine Drinking on New Year's day."

The January (holiday number) of Godey's Magazine will be one of the finest specimens of periodical literature ever brought out. The frontispiece, printed in twelve colors, from a water color painting by W. Granville Smith, illustrating the complete novel, "A Christmas Witch," by Gertrude Atherton, is a feature never before attempted. There are also many special and brilliant features in this number. Every book lover should have this issue of Godey's.

The initial number of American young people will appear in January. This new candidate for literary favor will devote its pages to entertaining along the lines of American history, choice fiction and miscellany. Special attention will be given to reading that will interest the youth of the nation in the principals of American government and the duties of good citizens of the republic. Only the best writers will contribute, and much interest is being manifested in the forthcoming magazine. While it is said that it will be a veritable gem among magazines, the price will be but one dollar a year. American Young People, Chicago.

Worthington & Co. of New York, have arranged a short list of handsome sets of books suitable for Christmas presents. The list contains historical novels, bright stories, the works of some of the greatest scholars and authors of the day, fine art colored juvenile books; in fact books of all classes, covering all topics, elegantly bound and finished; very reasonable. If you want anything in the book line, cheap, for the children or any one else for Christmas, write Worthington & Co., 747 Broadway, New York.

The Columbia Daily Calendar remains the only valuable daily pad calendar. The calendar for '93 is of the same general design as that of previous years, consisting of 366 leaves, one for every day in the year, and a calendar for the entire year. The day of the week, of the month, and of the year are given, and on each leaf is a short sermon on the "Gospel of Outdoors, Health, and Happiness," with valuable hints on practical road making. The leaves are so arranged that there will be no stub left, and each one can be referred to at any time during the year. The pad is upon a metallic stand of ivory black, arranged so as to rest upon the desk at a convenient angle. The pad matter, which in the aggregate is enough to make a book, is all fresh and new, and is of more pertinent value than that of any previous calendar. The calendar is issued by the Pope Mfg. Co., of Boston, New York and Chicago.

If the Catholicism folks could get some water into the first lake bed they made there would doubtless be excellent skating there in a few days—and young people, as well as many not quite so young, might have glorious times these fine evenings.

ORDINANCE NO. XL.
An Ordinance granting to William P. Phillips, Joseph Petty and Erwin G. Dudley, their associates, successors, lessees, heirs and assigns, the right to erect and maintain electric light works in the city of Hot Springs, county of Fall River, South Dakota.
Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of Hot Springs:
SECTION I. That there is hereby granted to William P. Phillips, Joseph Petty and Erwin G. Dudley, their associates, successors, lessees, heirs and assigns, the right to erect and maintain electric light works in the city of Hot Springs, county of Fall River, South Dakota, the necessary buildings, poles, posts, lamps, conductors, wires or cables, or other apparatus or apparatus that may be necessary for the proper generation, conveyance and distribution of electricity for the purpose of illumination, heat and power.
SECTION II. That for said purpose they may enter upon any or all the avenues, streets, alleys and public grounds of said city and make such excavations therein as may be necessary for erecting said poles or posts, or for laying said conductors, wires or cables, or for making such excavations shall be properly protected while open, shall remain open no longer than necessary, and shall be so filled and repaired as to leave the street or alley in as good condition as before the excavation was made. And further that no electric lines shall be strung on poles used for telegraph or telephone purposes.
SECTION III. That said grantees, William P. Phillips, Joseph Petty and Erwin G. Dudley, their associates, successors, lessees, heirs and assigns, shall begin the construction of said works and lines within one month, and shall have at least two miles of main line ready for operation within one year from the passage and publication of this ordinance, the same prevented from so doing by legal proceedings.
SECTION IV. That nothing herein shall be construed as exempting said grantees, their associates, successors, lessees, heirs and assigns, from any liability arising from the erection or maintenance of said works or lines, or from the negligence of said grantees, their associates, successors, lessees, heirs and assigns, or their employees, in the exercise of their duty or responsibility upon said city territory.
SECTION V. That the right and privileges herein granted shall continue and be in force for the term of twenty years from the passage of this ordinance.
SECTION VI. At the expiration of the term of this grant the said city of Hot Springs consents to purchase said system of electric works at a fair appraisement of its true value, or shall renew the same on such terms as are reasonable and proper, to be determined by the Judge of the Circuit Court.
SECTION VII. After the city of Hot Springs shall have attained a population of twenty (20,000) thousand, and it is found practicable and directed by ordinance of the city council, the lines, wires and cables shall be taken down and laid underground by said company within one year from the passage of said ordinance so directing.
SECTION VIII. That said city of Hot Springs consents to exempting the streets, avenues and alleys and public ground of said city, to be erected at such places as the city council may designate, and to pay therefor at the rate of twelve ($12.00) dollars per month for each light fixture, or shall be at least 1500 candle power.
SECTION IX. The city council will hereafter pass all ordinances that may be needed to enable the city of Hot Springs to enjoy all the rights and privileges intended to be conferred upon it by this ordinance, and for more fully protecting said grantees, their associates, successors, lessees, heirs and assigns in all their rights.
SECTION X. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication.
Passed first reading Dec. 6th, 1892.
Passed second reading Dec. 12th, 1892.
Approved this 12th day of December, A. D. 1892.
