BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burke, Sunday night, Feb. 10, a fine daughter. Mother and child are doing nicely. This is the first daughter and the parents are naturally proud of the little one. The Star extends congratulations.

This paper and The Chicago Weekly Inter Ocean, $1.75 for one year. "Special deal."

Those who heard the able discourses of Mrs. Mable Conklin two years ago will be glad to learn that she is to deliver another lecture in the near future. She is national superintendent of the white cross work. Don't fail to hear her.

Am very busy now; meet me at Frank's Cafe.

Mrs. W. J. Cavanaugh has been making a number of improvements to her beautiful home, having built an addition for a bath house, 5½x10 feet and a summer house 10x16 feet. She has also had some excellent improvements made to the interior of her home.

Chris Jensen says that he is seriously contemplating the purchase of an eleven passenger automobile, and if he concludes to do so he will have it here about June first. It would be for use especially on the Wind Cave road, besides about the city. It would no doubt prove quite an attraction.

Mrs. J. M. Brelsford returned Tuesday from Lincoln, where she spent several days with Mr. Brelsford, who returned to that place from his visit to a brother in Kentucky. Mr. Brelsford's health was not benefited in the Blue Grass state, and he concluded to go to Texas, departing for El Paso Monday; when Mrs. Brelsford started for home.

Miss Sophia Silkenon closed a very successful term of school at Minnekahta last Friday, Feb. 14. Miss Silkenon came from the eastern part of the state highly recommended and she has proved to the patrons of Minnekahta that she is a tireless, energetic worker and deserves the praise she gets. She has consented to take the school for the next term also.

The business men of Hot Springs, excepting the drug stores and saloons, all signed an agreement last Saturday to close their places of business at 7 o'clock p. m. for the next ten days, during the special meetings that are being held, and they are doing it. It is to be hoped that the streets look quiet in the next few days.

Newspapers usually are generous to preachers and among other things supply them with a copy of the paper gratis. We trust that it is not asking too much of the pastors that when they perform a marriage ceremony, or a funeral service, that they hand in whatever data they may have of the affair. This would be appreciated by the STAR.

The sky looks bluer, the sun shines brighter, a feeling of youth creeps over the soul after taking Rocky Mountain Tea made by the Madison Medicine Co. 35 cts. Ask your druggist.

The firemen's poverty ball last Friday night was greatly enjoyed. The supper by the Episcopal Guild was excellent and netted the ladies a nice sum. Ura Kirtley was awarded the gentlemen's prize for the most appropriate costume, and was given the mammoth cup and saucer. Mrs. Jay Crane won the ladies' first prize, and was given the jardiniere, while Mrs. Lou Englebert won next prize, a souvenir spoon.

Andy Traut had a letter from his wife, who is in a Chicago hospital, and she is getting along nicely. She underwent an operation over a week ago, when 100 gall stones and 442 gravel stones were removed. Her condition must have been serious and she certainly suffered great pain during her illness previous to the operation. Mrs. Traut will be home ere long, and will enjoy better health than she has had for months.—Lead Call.

Reader—You will confer a lasting favor and receive a reward, if you will report the name of dealers trying to sell you a substitute for the Madison Medicine Co.'s, Rocky Mountain Tea. Ask your druggist.

Ira Hungerford, of Deadwood, was here Friday and Saturday representing the Pioneer-Times, with which paper he is now associated. Ira was the publisher of the News, now defunct, and for a few months made it a good newspaper for his hustler and know-nothing Deadwood didn't need so much of it.

GOOD FOR SANITARIUM

Representatives Martin and Burke Argue Before Committee on Military Affairs.

The following Washington special of the 18th is very encouraging: "Prospects for a sanitarium at Hot Springs, S. D., are exceedingly bright and growing brighter every day. Representatives Martin and Burke were before the committee on military affairs today in behalf of the senate bill appropriating $150,000 for the establishment of a sanitarium at the noted South Dakota resort. The members from the Black Hills section were accorded close attention Mr. Martin making the principal speech in behalf of the measure, going over the reasons for a sanitarium in an exhaustive manner. Mr. Burke, although believing that all was said that could be said in support of the bill, told of the growing interest among the old soldiers of the west in the movement in their interest, and showed how they would be benefited if a sanitarium could be erected for them along the lines of the Arkansas sanitarium. While no action was taken on the measure in view of the absence of Chairman Hull, it is understood the bill will be reported favorably out of the committee as soon as he returns from Iowa."

Kellar Bullock.

From the Deadwood Independent we make the following brief excerpt concerning the marriage of Mr. Chambers Kellar, formerly of this place:

"The ceremony making Mr. Chambers Kellar and Miss Florence Bullock husband and wife was performed at 1 o'clock today at the residence of the bride's parents on Ingleside. Only the relatives and immediate friends of both families were present at the wedding."

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Bullock, at her lived most of her life in Deadwood, where she has, by her charming and gracious manner, made a host of friends. The groom is one of Deadwood's leading attorneys, being a member of the firm of Moody, Kellar & Moody. He has lived here for a number of years and looked upon as one of Deadwood's most promising young men."

The STAR extends congratulations, feeling more than a passing interest in Mr. Kellar, he having entered upon the practice of his profession here, in which he is making such a brilliant success.

Married at South Bend, Indiana.

On Wednesday at 12 o'clock, noon, Dr. Charles W. Hargens and Mrs. Pearl C. Hunt, both of Hot Springs, S. Dak., were united in marriage, at the home of the bride's cousin, at South Bend, Indiana. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few relatives being present.

The contracting parties are prominent and widely known. Dr. Hargens having been one of the leading physicians here for a number of years, and has been mayor of the city for the past four years. Mrs. Hunt has been a resident here for the past two years, coming here from New York City. She is a beautiful and accomplished lady.

Dr. Hargens and bride are expected to arrive home within a few days.

The STAR extends congratulations.

A special to the Chicago Inter Ocean from South Bend gives the following brief particulars of the above happy event:

"The wedding will take place at the residence of John Chesel Elsworth. The affair will be quiet, the guests being limited to New York society people who arrived today on a special train, and close friends of the groom. Dr. and Mrs. Hargens will leave at 1 o'clock tomorrow for Denver, Colorado, where they will spend their honeymoon. From there they will go to Hot Springs, S. D., where they will take up their residence."

"Mrs. Hunt is a granddaughter of the late John W. Chess, one of South Bend's prominent merchants in an early day. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Carley, of New York, formerly of South Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Harriman, Jr., of New York, are here to attend the wedding."

Washington Notes.

The following appeared in the Deadwood Pioneer-Times from Washington:

"The bills of greatest interest to the Black Hills—viz: the bill for Relief of Bona Fide Settlers of the Forest Reserve, the Hot Springs Sanitarium bill, and the Deadwood Public Building bill are all being pushed by the entire South Dakota delegation to as speedy a passage possible. No insurmountable difficulty is anticipated in the passage of any of them. Mr. Martin's position on the committee on public buildings greatly facilitates matters."

"Mr. Martin makes a Lincoln memorial address this evening to the sons of veterans of this city, in response to an invitation extended to him by that organization."

An Attractive Cafe.

"Frank's Cafe" opened up for business yesterday and its proprietor, Frank Evans, has certainly exhibited fine taste in his selection of furniture and tableware, which is very rich and handsome. The silverware is especially fine. Frank's long experience as a caterer qualifies him for conducting a cafe that will meet the demands of the most studious—and this he proposes to do.

Railroad Rumors.

There are a number of railroad rumors in connection with the Elkhorn that, whether true or not, are interesting reading because if put into effect we would all rejoice. One is that this is to be made an eating station again, and the other is that two passenger trains a day each way are to be put on. One is to be a fast train reaching here at seven in the morning and six in the evening. The other passenger will be run to accommodate the local travel more especially.

In the meantime we will look for the depot to be moved up town.—Rapid City Journal.

Interesting Revival Services.

Rev. E. F. Walker, the evangelist, together with the pastors of the city, began a series of revival meetings at the Congregational church last Sunday afternoon, and they have been continuing every afternoon and evening since. Much interest is being manifested in them. Rev. Mr. Walker is an earnest preacher, though there is sufficient wit and humor about him to entertain his congregation when the gospel without a skip might be devoid of interest to some. But he arouses a deep and absorbing interest in what he is preaching for—that sinners may realize where they stand and seek salvation. The attendance has been good, and the pastors express satisfaction in what has been accomplished, and hope for excellent results.

The meetings will continue another week, afternoons at 2:30 and evenings at 7:30.

Arranging a Delightful Trip.

Mr. W. H. Cundey, of Denver, traveling passenger agent for the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western Ry., was in Hot Springs last Saturday looking after the interests of the great scenic line which he represents. He had visited the various hills towns at this time, particularly to call the attention to his road of the women delegates to the convention of Federation of Women's Clubs, which gathering will be held at Los Angeles, Cal., May 1 to 8. The Rio Grande system is regarded one of the most charming routes through the Rockies, passing as it does some of the most famous points of scenic beauty in all the great west, and certainly there is none more lovely than that to be found Colorado. The Rio Grande has arranged a surprising low rate for tickets sold at Denver April 23 to 28 inclusive, giving special stop over privileges at many points of interest, and has also planned for side trips off the main line. The Rio Grande has two attractive routes through Colorado, one via the Royal Gorge and through the Canon of the Grand River, or via the Marshall Pass route through the Black Canon of the Gunnison. One can go one way and return the other. By this line one is privileged to visit attractive Salt Lake City, which has a charm that delights all visitors.

For the occasion spoken of the Rio Grande furnishes a ticket from Denver to Los Angeles and return for $40, and a very large number have already planned upon taking advantage of this rate and visiting California. Many ladies from the Black Hills expect to attend the Federation of Women's Clubs and the attractive rates will no doubt induce many others to make the trip at that time.

Teachers Examination.

The regular examination of teachers for first, second, and third grade certificates will be held at the courthouse on Friday and Saturday March 7th and 8th.

THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

Items of Interest Pertaining to the State Institution and the Boys in Blue.

Col. J. F. Baker spent Sunday with the boys looking over affairs. He reported that all was in ship shape and he had no suggestions to offer.

August Schulz, aged 74, came to the Home from Watertown since my last report. He is one of the good, solid sort of Germans and fits in Chris Blokenhelmer's colony in good shape.

Peter Miller and John Brant each took a furlough and left for their homes at Belle Fourche last Saturday. Both were much recruited up by the winters rest here. Neither will return before next fall.

The oldest owl at the Home bid Tom Black good morning yesterday and rolled over dead. While a big lump came in Tom's throat, he said, "Well she was most too old to be of use longer, having passed her 18th mile stone."

William McKinney, for some time the Home barber, was compelled to quit because of poor health, and went to Lead City where his family resided. On arrival, he went to his bed and in two weeks passed away. Billy was a great sufferer from consumption, but he bore his sufferings like a hero.

Capt. C. P. Van Houten, one of the heroes of the First South Dakota Int., arrived at the Home Tuesday morning in a precarious state of health. He is suffering from tuberculosis in a well advanced stage. He has the sympathy of all the old boys for they admire a soldier whose record is as illustrious as Captain Van Houten's. It is hoped he may find relief by rest and treatment here.

About the happiest man here is Jerome B. Potter who has been awarded a $1200 pension, the arrearage amounts to $750.00. Uncle Jerome is in his 76th year and one of nature's noblemen. He refused to apply for a pension until 1895 when he began to need one; he at last was induced to ask for what was his due many a year before. He says, "This is the best government on earth and this is the best Home this side of Heaven."

Pat Curry donned his best clothes, took a furlough and struck out for Running Water for a two months stay. Pat said, "The warm water is fetching on a spell of spring fever and I must get to Bonham county where the old woman is. She makes sassafras taid which thins the blood and that throws off the fever, so it does." Pat Brennan said, "Be gobs its not yet made but dother Minnie's parasul to kape of the soon. If yez do thot Pat yez will have noon of the doirther, so yez won't." "Yaw dat ish so," chimed in Karl Haas, "I had dried him mineself. It ish bully."

On the 22nd, or Saturday the anniversary of Washington's birthday will be observed by 13 guns fired at 11 o'clock a. m. from the pair of Parrott's mounted in front of the home. The Colonel has ordered all preparations to be made for the event. Never has the reverberating sound of a piece of regular artillery been heard in the Fall River valley. As the echoes roll up and down between the hills, multiply the force by five and the number of guns by 250 and you will get a faint idea of the fearful days about the base of Kenesaw Mountain and the storm that swept Mission Ridge. Then add the constant roar of 150,000 muskets dealing out death and destruction, and the reader will imagine the scene through which many of the old tottery men upon the streets passed when they were in their prime. Such was war.

James M. Barnes Dead.

On Friday night, February 14, at 9 o'clock James M. Barnes passed peacefully to the life beyond. He had been seriously ill for about three weeks, while his health was poor for several years. The funeral services were held at the Baptist church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Coffey speaking words of comfort to the bereaved family. The services were attended by the Masonic lodge in a body, the deceased having been a member of the order for a number of years. The services at the cemetery were conducted by the Masons.

James M. Barnes was born in Penatton, Indiana, Jan. 19, 1844. When about one year of age his parents removed to Ohio, where they lived until the spring of 1851, when they removed to Iowa, where he grew to manhood. He served three years and three months in the Civil war. In 1871 he was married to Miss Sarah E. McClelland, of Indianola, Iowa, where they lived until the year 1879, when they removed to Colorado. In the spring of 1886 the family removed to the Black Hills, locating near Rapid City, coming to Hot Springs about six years ago.

He leave to mourn his departure, a wife and seven children, two brothers and two sisters. Two daughters are married and reside near Rapid City, the other children being at home. The children were all present at the funeral, besides one brother, John Barnes, from Indianola, Iowa.

The STAR joins with the community in extending sympathy to the bereaved ones.
