

Severe Cold Quickly Cured
 "On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold." Obtainable everywhere.

Wanted—At Dr. Hargens Hospital a house maid.

Not less than $1.00 will be paid at the Star office by Wm. Black, No. 30 State Home for the return of a cane marked W. B. and a flower engraved on the end of silver handle; and three fine steel wires around the handle with brass ring around the point. Said cane was missed about the middle of January. Information gladly received that will lead to its location.

As all the world knows, President Wilson is not a large man, physically. Accordingly, during his swing around the circle, he was unable to conceal behind him the figure of the Wilson of last year, the Wilson who sneered at preparedness and who had not been God-bless-youed by Bryan into revering a belief in which he was sincere.

Our Policies

Good Will Makes the Second Order
 Cost Less to Sell You Than the First

In accordance with all intangible things, good will is hard to place mentally. Like reputation, popularity and friendliness, it is so elusive that there is little wonder its value and existence are so frequently ignored. Like character and reputation in individuals—the things which enable anyone to associate with his fellows—good will is what perpetuates a business.

Good will is that which makes tomorrow's business more than a mere accident. It is reasonable expectation of future patronage based on some past satisfactory dealings. The promiscuous and casual customer does not pay the profits. It is those who come regularly. These persons have found the dealer trustworthy, and his goods of high quality, his skill and knowledge commendable. They have been satisfied with the treatment they have received in the past and loath, in the absence of a reliable recommendation or a special circumstance, to risk a transferring of their custom to another. It is this hope and probability that keeps the business going and gives it a selling value above that of leasehold, equipment and stock.
