Notice to the Voters
Hot Springs, S. D., May 18, 1916
Editor Hot Springs Star:
W. H. Wilson in the Times-Herald today publishes a message from the clerk of the supreme court to the effect that my name is not among the list of attorneys admitted to practice in that court. This is true. If Mr. Wilson knew less of crooked ways and more of law, he would not have done this; for the fact that I have not been admitted to practice in the supreme court of the state in no wise affects my qualifications to hold the office of county judge. If the learned gentleman had taken the trouble to look up the records in the court house in this city he would have found that in July, 1887, in Hot Springs, in this county, before C. M. Thomas, judge presiding, I was after examination duly admitted to practice in all the courts in the (Territory of Dakota) now state of South Dakota. He would also have found there no record of my disbarment.

Glacier National Park This Summer Will Delight Thousands.

Now is the time to plan a vacation tour. You will want such a complete change of environment as will drive out every thought of work, and free your system from the torpor of monotony. Glacier Park will give you such deep, high and wide pictures of nature's magnificence as to calm your mind, worn with petty worries.

Glacier is the indescribable climax of the grandeur of the Rockies. Here you penetrate into localities of hidden mountain lakes and into the depth of forests; you reach mysterious sources of cascades and torrents tumbling from melting glaciers. You zig-zag over mountain passes along Government trails that yield to the beholder such glorious perspectives of weird topography in countless hues,—that word painting or any kind of a painting seems cheap and futile.

This is, too, a delightful vacation land. Here are resources for every tourist. "Good management and good nature"—is the Law of the Park. Let me send you Glacier Park publications; they will make to you a strong appeal to renew your energies in that land.

A Symbol of Health

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfills its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.
