

Suffered For Years

Back and Kidneys Were in Bad Shape, But Doan's Removed all the Trouble.

"My kidneys were so weak that the least cold I caught would affect them and start my back aching until I could hardly endure the misery," says Mrs. D. C. Ross, 973 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"In the morning when I first got up, my back was so lame, I could hardly bend over and any move sent darts of pain through my kidneys. It was hard for me to walk up stairs or stoop, and to move while lying down sent darts of pain through me.

The kidney secretions were scanty and distressing and the water remained in my system, making my feet and hands swell. There were dark circles under my eyes and I became so dizzy I could hardly see. I had rheumatic pains in my knees and it was all I could do to get around. For years I was in that shape and I wore plasters and used all kinds of medicine to no avail until I tried Doan's Kidney Pills. They rid me of the trouble and strengthened my back and kidneys. When I have taken Doan's since, they have always benefited me.

GOSSIP OF THE STATE HOUSE

A Review of the Work of the State Government at the Capitol and at the Various State Institutions.

South Dakota is now practically organized and ready for the Y. M. C. A. war work campaign of the week, November 12 to 17 to raise $125,000 to assist the nation in putting Y. M. C. A. war huts and secretaries on every mile of the allied fighting front.

The state is divided into ten big districts with the following cities as local points: Yankton, Sioux Falls, Mitchell, Pierre, Huron, Watertown, Aberdeen, Rapid City, Mobridge and Gregory. Each district has its chairman, and has been allotted a quota to be raised based upon its assessed valuation.

Nearly a hundred prominent business men, representing thirty counties, attended the state organization conference at Huron. The big feature was an address by Jack Virgo, Y. M. C. A. war secretary of the British Empire, giving a vivid account of moral conditions among the soldiers on the fighting front.

The following budget estimates for the American $35,000,000 war work fund shows substantially how the money will be used:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Includes: For work with United States men in this country ($11,120,000), For work with United States enlisted men overseas (11,994,000), For Y. M. C. A. work in the Russian army (3,305,000), For Y. M. C. A. work in the French army (2,649,000), For Y. M. C. A. work in the Italian army (1,000,000), For Y. M. C. A. work in the prisoner-of-war camps (1,000,000), Total ($31,068,000).

Grand total $35,000,000. South Dakota will raise a minimum of $125,000. This campaign is not for the Y. M. C. A.—it is for the country and the boys in army, navy and aviation service. The Y. M. C. A. is merely the organized agency for carrying on the work, right up to the foremost trenches.

Apples Must Be Sold By Weight. On inquiry as to whether measure or weight shall govern in the selling of apples in this state, the attorney general holds that weight is required, regardless of measure. The question was raised on the proposition that the apples raised in the state, would not weigh 48 pounds to the standard measured bushel, and the question as to what should rate was brought up with the finding that 48 pounds is the standard, and not a measured bushel.

Is Timber Scaler. The state land department has appointed H. H. Farnsworth, of Sturgis, as a timber scaler for work in the Black Hills.

Hobo Day at Brookings. Hobo day, the great annual frolic of State college students, will be held on Friday, November 16. South Dakota State college will meet the North Dakota Aggies on the gridiron as one of the features of the day's sports. Student committee have been appointed to arrange hobo parade, band music, prizes for king and queen, and a big football demonstration. It is expected that the largest crowd ever at a football game in South Dakota will be lined up on State's field on November 16.

SCENE OF ROMANCE

Gatchina Palace Built By Catherine II. for Gregory Orloff.

Former Grand Duke Michael and Paul Alexandrovitch Held There After Discovery of Counter Revolt.

Gatchina, where the former Russian Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch and Paul Alexandrovitch were held following the discovery of a counter revolutionary plot, is described in the war geography bulletin, issued by the National Geographic society, as follows:

"Built upon flat, marshy lands on the shores of two small lakes—the White and the Black—the attractive town of Gatchina lies, 28 miles south of Petrograd. Its resident population numbers between 15,000 and 18,000, but in peace times it is a popular summer resort for the wealthy classes of the capital.

"Gatchina's only claim to industrial distinction is a porcelain factory, but its 'place in the sun' of history is assured by the magnificent imperial palace with its 600 rooms, surrounded by a beautiful park, a quarter of a mile from the Baltic railroad station of the town.

"The erection of the palace, which dates from 1770, recalls one of the most dramatic periods in the history of any European royal family. It was built by Catherine II. as a present to Gregory Orloff, the young artillery officer who caught the fancy of the future famous empress while she was still merely the consort of the half imbecile Peter III. It was Gregory Orloff, aided by his two brothers, who effected the sensational coup d'etat of July, 1762, in which Peter was seized and spirited away to the chateau of Ropsha, where he was eventually murdered. Thus Catherine II. acquired supreme power upon the throne.

"The grateful and infatuated Catherine rewarded Orloff not only with the palace of Gatchina, but with the title of count, a commission as adjutant-general, then director-general and finally general-in-chief of the Russian forces. He might even have succeeded in marrying the great stateswoman had it not been for the interference of Panin, the governor and tutor of Paul, Catherine's son.

"When he ascended the throne upon the death of his mother, Paul chose the Gatchina palace as his favorite summer residence and bestowed upon the town municipal rights in 1797.

"The palace is a three-storied structure with one-story wings connected with the main building by long colonnades. It contains a famous art gallery, a theater and three throne rooms.

"Gregory Orloff did not bring his days to a close in Gatchina. Upon his return to the capital after an unsuccessful diplomatic mission he found a new favorite installed in the winter palace. Subsequently he lost his mind and died in Moscow. His brother, Alexis, the actual slayer of Peter III, became a horse breeder near Moscow after winning honors in the war against the Turks. He left an immense estate valued at 5,000,000 rubles and 30,000 serfs."

A Ramsay Memorial. Mr. Asquith has been selected as president of a committee of University College to arrange for a memorial to the late Sir William Ramsay. The memorial is to be not merely national, but international; and this is as it should be, for Sir William Ramsay was an international in more than one sense. His gifts were not only scientific, but covered a wide field of knowledge. He was, for instance, master of several languages, although he made light of the accomplishment. When he went to Stockholm in 1904 to receive the Nobel prize he surprised many of the scholars he met by his ability to speak any language that any one else happened to be speaking. "There's nothing in it," he said; "any waiter can do it." This faculty placed him in touch with the scientific genius of the world, and contributed much to his success.—Westminster Gazette.

Petroleum's Discovery. Experts furnish us with data as to potential supplies of English petroleum which the government has commandeered, but they omit the astounding romance of that little trickle of oil in a Riddings colliery which became the progenitor of the whole enormous industry in petroleum products. The oil was a nuisance where it was until the future Lord Playfair analyzed it and understood it, and got it turned over to "Paraffin" Young. Young farmed that stream and set the whole world tapping new resources.—London Chronicle.

Motor Pessimism. "Care much for the outdoor life, Doppel?" "Not since I bought an automobile." "I should think that would have just the opposite effect." "No. The outdoor life means nothing to me now but punctures, engine trouble and motorcycle policemen."
