[From the Louisville Journal.

Col. Robert Hatton, We publish below a just tribute to the noble qualities of Col. Hotton, the American candidate for Governor in Tennessee. It is from the pen of a We congratulate the Americans of Tennessee upon eir selection of so gallanta standard-bearer. From parts of that State there has already begun to be ard sounds of rejoicing in the American camp er this nominatoin. With such a leader, able, bo'd, d zealous, the American party in Tennesse will arch steadily forward to victory : The State Convention of the American party of ennessee, which sat at Nashville on last Friday, tinced great wisdom in the choice of Co. Robert atton as their candidate for Governor. We have in good fortune to have a long and intimate acnair tance with Cal. H. and we are happy in being pie to inform the friends of his party everywhere but he is every fach a man. If any one imagines nat he has been selected from the list of periwinkle w itieians for immolation upon the alter of a disnaved and forlors party, let him at once be undeselved In political rank, Col Hatton is esteemed he "rose and fair expectancy" of his State He stands in the same relationship to Tennessee that the gifted Menifee once did to Kentucky. The scion of an bumble though noble stock, he has risen, at the age of thirty-three, from the worthy position of common school teacher to his present enviable repu tation. It can be appropriat-ly said of him as it was of Napoleon, that he is "victory organiz d." His strong, irresi-tible will, his superior intellect and fine scholarship, his great eloquence and patriotic zeal, added to the highest Christian character, have marked for him a place in the confidence and aff ctions of his people as deep and strong as any veteran of the ranks can claim. Two years ago he was chosen without solicitation to represent his county in the State Legislature In that body he first disclosed to his countrymen the high character of his deliberative eloquence. From this distinguished vantage-ground he petiently waited the call of the people, ready and determined as he was at all vote himself to that field of labor which his services might be efficient, regardless of the posts of honor to which his ambition and destiny point d him. Lest year he was the American elector for the 5th Congressional district. His adversary was the most adroit and powerful debater of his party in the State. We heard them often. It was the clirco and wrestle of mighty power. First oversunning him by his logic, our gillant Colonel then surned upon him the sharp edge of his k-en, searching wit and burning satire, more formidable than the lance of Astolfo, and at once desp tched him. This hard-fought contest developed Mr. Hatton's powers and elevated him to the high point of estimation where we now see him ... He has a wondesful power of packing thoug ts within a narrow compass and giving to them a portable shape. In an open field and fair fight, with his present adv rsa-ry, what are we to expect? Harris is a man of medium capacity-fair schol rship, though a practiced and somewhat skillful debater. He is a presy, passionless, matter of lact man, without a single element of speech or manner calculated to win favor or admiration. The result may be expressed in one word, and that word victory, for our gallant Hatton. Then let the Americans of Kentucky rejoice that their brothren of a sister State have gained so noble and gallant a chieftain. All that is needed in Tennessee to insure a certain victory, is a rekinding

The Cleveland Plaindealer endeavors to make it appear that a deliberate att mpt was made to potson Mr. Buchanan while he resided at the National Hotel at Washington. It is stated that the President elect was worned by anonymous letters, not to eat or drink in that house; and under the advice of friends, although he returned to the hotel from a feeling of regard for its worthy proprietors, be never broke bread or emptied a glass out until he took up his residence in the Presidential man cion. - Philadelphia Inquirer.

of the old fires of patriotism that slumber in the bo som of her masses, and, our word for it, it will be done wherever the voice of their galant chieftain is Undoubtedly it is high time for Mr. Buchanan's supporters to try some expedient for getting up sympathy in his behalf. The expedient of the Plaindealer however is a very ridiculous one. From the Plaindealer's statement, it would a em that Mr. Buchanan was warned by anonymous letters not to eat or drink at the National Hotel, and, that he actually lived there without touching food or drink. Now it is not to be supposed that the writer- of the anonymous letters, it there were any such letters, were the a complices of the poisoners whom they were seeking to frustrate, and so the que tion arises, why did they not reveal the conspiracy to the public and give all the facts and names in their possession so as to save the rest of the hundreds of boarders at the National Hotel as well as Mr. Buchanan. And another question suggests itself-if Mr. Buchanan got warning- from anonymous letters and placed so much confidence in them that he wouldn't, for fear of poison, touch meat or drink in the hotel wher he boarded, why did he keep the warnings to himself, while his fellow-boarders were cating and drinking poison and perishing all around him?

We guess Mr. Buchanan's friends will have to get up some better plan for raising the steam of sympathy in the public boiler?-Louisville Jour-

REJECTION OF THE DALLAS-CLARENDON TREATY -Intelligence, it is stated, has been received in Washington of the rejection by the British govern ment of the Dallas-Clarendon trealy as it was finally ratified here. This action is rather spexpected, as it was believed no objection would be raised to the modifications the Senate proposed. The precise point of difficulty leading to the rejection has not been made public. The two governments are now at sea again on the be-vexed Central American question, but with the amicable feelings existing on both sides, we may presume that there will be no difficulty to originating new negotiations that will bave a more decisive conclusion. - Balt, Ameri-

PIG IRON-HEAVY CONTRACT, -Quite a fleet of boats from the Hanging Rock, O., furnaces have arrived here with pig from for the Locomotive works. Hutchings & Co., the proprierors, have purchased 4,000 tons of this iron, which is to be converted into water pipes for the water works. Some 300 tons have been received, the price of which was $31a$2 per ton. The iron is being landed along the bank of the creek .- Lou. Courier, May 6th.

THE NEW CENT. - The Philadelphia mint will begin on the 25th of May to pay out cents of the new issue, in exchange for Spanish and Mexican deliars, 25, 12; and 6; cont pieces and at the nominal rates, or in exchange for the copper cent now in circulation. Persons applying will be attended to in order, daily, between the hours of 9 and 2 o'clock. The silver or copper coins must be presented in even sums of five dollars, and for the present not exceeding fifty dollars.

The schooner Merchant was arrested last Thursday six miles off Sandy Hook, by the U. S. Marshal, who seized her as a slaver. She was towed back to the city of New York and placed under the gans of the revenue cutter.

The Legislature of New York has abolished the custom of days of grace on commercial bills, to take effect on the 1st of July next. All bills of exchange, drafts and checks shall then be deemed due and payable on presentation, without any days of grace being allowed thereon. It has also been enacted that notices of non-payment and of non-acceptance fice, with the postage thereon pre-paid.

The first subject to which the rarely witnessed a self-abasement equal to attention of the new Chief Executive was that of the democratic party, in its entire turned, after the primary one of dividing the spoils, was that of Kansas. Happily the disturbances which had grown out of the never-to-be-pardoned blunders of his that it will have been brought about by predecessor, had been tranquilized. The Legislature of the territory had met, and that party towards the South. passed a law, providing for taking the census, and the election of delegates to a convention to form a State constitution. This act had stipulated that this convention should fairly reflect the sentiments of the bona fide residents of the territory, by Representative. declaring that no person should be allowed to vote for delegates, who had not been a resident for three months prior to the election, and who was not a citizen of the United States. This had, as far as it was possible, > put a quietus upon alien suffrage and squatter sovereignty. This did not, of course, suit the "Free Kansas" supporters of Mr. Buchanan in Pennsylvania and other Northern States, and hence, a trick must be resorted to, to satisfy the democracy of the North and at the same time hoodwink out the signatures of the President and Cashthe democracy of the South. An expedient. was ready. The President's Inaugural-"a political love-letter, written in the raptures of the honey-moon," says one of our democratic exchanges-furnished the specific. Squatter Sovereignty was passed tenderly over, and alien suffrage was introduced into the family, with every mark of affection and regard. The Register's and shouted Io Triumphe! This was well. The next article in the programme was to secure a proper instrument to execute the plot. This was more adroitly done than anything which had gone before. Robert J. WALKER, a Pennsylvanian by birth, for many years a resident at the South, but latterly a resident by choice, of Black Republican New York, and a man of no mean ability, was deputed to the Governorship; F. P. STANTON, also a native and long a resident at the South, Secretary of State. So indispensable was the appointment of WALK-ER, to the success of the scheme, that no refusal could be heard. Thus is the South silenced. By this process the wool came down over Southern eyes, with all the miserable condition they are in. softness and gentleness of the cygnet's down. Gov. WALKER accepts; but owing to his operations in Wall Street, was unable to leave for the scene of his duties till the 11th of May. Stanton goes out as through this sterile region, you merge out into a the avaunt courier, temporary governor. He writes an address to the people, pledging himself and the Governor, to carry out the inaugural, that "it is the imperative duty of the government to secure to every resident is the leading feature in this locality, as timothy, inhabitant, the free and independent expression | herd's-grass and clover, appear to be a natural proof his opinion by his vote." With this un- duct of the soil. Ready sale is made of all stock derstanding the N. Y. Post, the Pittsburg Journal, and other Black Republican journals, express their entire satisfaction at the see that Mr. Buchanan is doing the work, as well as they themselves could do it. This is the solution. The election delegates to the Kansas constitutional convention, takes place the third Monday in June next. No one will be allowed to vote, except bons fide residents for three ed in my absence, but four other applications had months, next before the day of election, they being citizens of the United States. Thus the law of the Territorial Legislature is complied with, and no one has a right to complain. The Convention meets on the first Monday in September next; and it frames a Constitution, allowing slavery, if you please. This Constitution is then submitted to the people for ratification or rejection. Every body is now permitted to vote, who is a "resident inhabitant," whether of three hours or three days, or turn things are taking. Some of their short-sighted papers, not looking beyond the narrow horizon of the the present mo-

The B stonian, evidently thinking the budder! was in posing upon him, drew himself up into a "pit fire' attitude, and let forth as follows, "Look-s-here, 8 ranger, you are mistaken if you think you can spose upon 'down-easters,' for I tell you, there is not only one, but five or six railroads going to Liwrence, (at the same time drawing a map of Lawrence with seven or eight paper railroads centering at that poir t,) and when I bought my interest in the city, they told me this one would be completed in nine days, and it has now been more than four weeks -ince that transaction " The landlord expostul-ted in vain with the Bostonian, and the as-urance of outsiders was necessary to convince the New England emigrant that he had been badly sold by some of his own "kith and kin," and instead of going, as he supposed, to a para-lise, he was entering into a wilderness. To succeed in the Western country, I am satisfied frequet reference to "Sam. Johnson's traveling dictionary" is required by our well-posted brethren of the East. The outer course of brick look as if they had received a polish, their surface being nearly as smooth as that of glass. In the crection of the house, thus far, Mr. R. has spared no expense in its good, complete and substantial construction, determined as he is to have one of the best and most complete residences in the West. His glass he purchased in France, being the finest article I have ever seen, and when put up, will reflect In haste, on the outer side.
