ARIZONA KICKER.

A LIVER PILL MAN WHO JUMPED TO A CONCLUSION TOO SOON.

The Right Man Appointed to the Right Place—"The Merchant of Venice" a Great Disappointment to All Concerned—Not Enough Chic.

HE KNEW IT ALL.—Last Monday the traveling agent of a liver pill concern in the east struck this town to contract for an advertisement in THE KICKER. Finding that he was an old newspaper man, and that he purposed remaining for two or three days to take in the town, we set out to post him on some of the idioms and customs. He thought he knew it all, however, and that's the reason he is in bed in room No. 48 in the hotel with a bullet in his groin. It seems that he dropped into the Wild Eagle saloon and took a hand in a game of poker. One of the things we were going to post him about was poker. The game is rather eccentric in this town. Sometimes two pairs beat four of a kind, and sometimes not. It's a good deal according to who is playing and how much money there is up. It seems that our friend got a royal flush and was called by three jacks. He at once jumped to the conclusion that he had won the jackpot, but he was sadly mistaken. Big Pete O'Brien was in the game, and it was an occasion when a pair of sixes, if held by Pete, would beat four aces. While raking in the pot the liver pill man was stopped by a bullet, and even if he gets well he will have a bad limp to his left leg. This town isn't as big as Chicago or New York, nor as wicked as St. Louis or Cincinnati, but we have our customs and idioms just the same, and the stranger who can't tumble to them must take the consequences.

AN EXCELLENT APPOINTMENT.—We point with pride to the fact that we have been appointed chairman of the senate committee on forestry. We regard this as the most important and responsible chairmanship on the list and can truthfully say it came to us unthought. We hope no one will charge us with egotism when we say that the right man has been put in the right place. The committee has already had three meetings and transacted a great deal of business. Next week we shall introduce a bill to provide for purchasing and planting 1,000 bushels of mixed hickory and chestnuts on the crest of the Black mountain range, also for the purchase and transplanting of 20,000 walnut and butternut trees to adorn and enrich the Gila river valley. There is no earthly reason why the territory cannot supply the world with crab apples. She can also be made to control the market on wild plums and buckeyes. There are millions of acres of scrub pine and cedar on the mountains of this territory. Why not replace this useless growth with oak, elm, beech, redwood, sycamore and other valuable woods? We believe that the india rubber tree would thrive in the valleys, and that mahogany and logwood would be a success on the hillsides. Our bill will call for an appropriation of $100,000,000 as a starter, and if no spirit of false economy pops up to scale down the sum we'll make forestry walk to the front in a way to astonish everybody.

DRAMATIC.—The Boston Dramatic company presented "The Merchant of Venice" to our theater going public Thursday night. The play disappointed everybody. There was no high kicking. Nobody was murdered. Not a gondola was to be seen. While the actors appeared to be well up in their parts, and while some of them wore fairly good clothes, there was a total lack of that chic which makes a play go in the west. We saw as many as six good openings for some one to be killed, but not a hand was lifted. At one stage of the game they could have made a hit by having a girl throw herself over a precipice, but the girl preferred to sit in a rocking chair and read a novel. Those who went expecting to see Uncle Tom tracked by bloodhounds or Buffalo Bill rescue the passengers of the Deadwood stage demanded their money back, but no one got it.

BETTER QUIT.—On our way over to the capital the other day on our mule, a cadaverous cuss who looked as if he hadn't eaten a square meal in a month tried to play road agent on us just after we had crossed Turkey creek. He had a couple of guns leveled on us when our mule made a start, and he fired the whole twelve shots before we were out of range without a bullet coming within five feet of us. Then we turned and ran him into the scrub and scared him half to death. Such a critter as that is a disgrace to this territory, and we feel that our dignity has been lowered by his attempt to hold us up. Our esteemed contemporary is another such man as that. While he ought to be turning a corn sheller or running a ferryboat he insists on trying to be an editor. This alleged road agent, who hasn't the nerve to fight a rabbit and who can't fight for shucks, had better quit the business and apply for work in a livery stable. He is simply wasting his time.

THE LIMEKILN CLUB.

Some New Rules and Mottos for the Cold Weather.

After a consultation with Sir Isaac Wallace Trustee Pullback, Waydown Beebe and Givedam Jones, who constitute the committee on harmony, Brother Gardner announced that the following rules would be enforced during the winter:

"The temperature in Paradise hall not to be above 125 degs. on any meeting night unless specially ordered.
"During the chills season no remedies to be applied in the hall and no brooms to be removed except on the back row.
"All meetings will open at 7:30 o'clock and close at 10. The winding of Waterbury watches must be done before or after.
"Any member discovered roasting sweet potatoes in the stove will be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and fined or suspended.
"No one will be allowed to sell tickets to a cake walk or possum bake either in the anterooms or library.
"All discussion regarding poetry, prize fights, astronomy, pumpkin pies, politics, Jonah and the whale and the World's fair are ruled out of the hall."

SOME NEW MOTTOES.

Brother Gardner then announced that all the spring, summer and autumn mottoes would be taken down and the following new crop hung up for cold weather:
"Truth will come out on top if you can wait long enough."
"We build our porches to take care of our honest men."
"Argument with an idiot makes a pair of fools."
"The world is full of upright men, but we don't just happen to run across them on our line of travel."
"We are all full of integrity until we happen to pick up a lost wallet without any one being the wiser for our find."

"Most every man has ten good traits of character for every bad one, but we are rather more anxious to size him up on the one than the ten. That keeps us arguing that this is a bad world."
"Gray hairs ought to bring wisdom, but they can't always tell which horse will come in ahead."
"Whatever we intend to do tomorrow won't put any pork in the barrel for today."
"You can't find a man in state prison who won't sorrowfully tell you that he has lost all confidence in humanity."

"The political speech was intended to keep 'our side' from discovering that the other side suspected our corruption."
"No man can flatter us by speaking plain truths, and yet we are always ready to abuse him for deceit and falsehood."
Brother Gardner further announced that he was in correspondence with a number of celebrated orators, philosophers and lecturers and happened to secure the appearances of six or eight of them during the winter. There would also be some changes in the matter of entertaining these outside visitors. Heretofore when a lecturer who was burning to deliver his lecture before the club arrived in town he always managed to find his way to the (president's) cabin. He invariably expected from three to six days' free board, with apple pie, scrambled eggs and O. G. coffee at every meal. He invariably borrowed a clean shirt, two or three celluloid collars, and sometimes picked up a pair of blue tweed suspenders and a nankin vest and said nothing about it. Hereafter they would be expected to go to a hotel and pay their own way, and if they jumped their bills the Limekiln club should refuse to be held responsible.

A strong statement but a true one, for these plows are better known, have reached a larger sale, have had a longer run, have proved more popular and given better satisfaction than any other plows on the face of the globe.

We mean the GENUINE OLIVER, and not the imitations claiming to be the Oliver, or equally as good. Such imitations are on the market, placed there by unscrupulous manufacturers who seek to trade on the good name of the OLIVER.

Look out for imitations, buy only the genuine Oliver plows and repairs, and be sure you are right before you take the plow home.
