

EIGHT CHILDREN DEAD

As the Result of the Use of Diphtheria Antitoxin.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Eight children have died and eleven others are suffering from lockjaw as the result of the use of diphtheria antitoxin.

A Plucky Boy and his Injuries.

We were hunting among the Tennessee mountains, says a correspondent, and came upon a log cabin on a sunny southern slope.

"His name? He ain't got no name. We just call him Monkey. That's his name—jest Monkey; an' he's mean."

What the Lips Tell.

Well defined and developed lips, the outlines of which are rounded out, denote a tender-hearted, amiable and sympathetic disposition.

Lips with coarse outlines indicate a want of refinement.

The lower lip, according to its fullness, freshness in appearance and width, indicates benevolence and liberality.

A pale shriveled and narrow lower lip would show a decided want of these qualities.

Well closed lips indicate discretion. If the upper lip is long in addition to being pressed down firmly upon the lower lip, it shows power of both mental and physical endurance.

People with long, firm upper lips disregard the opinion of other people and are both dignified and proud.

When the upper lip is very short and when the middle teeth of the top row are constantly exposed, a fondness for adoration and praise is indicated.

When the corners of the mouth descend, a despondent disposition, prone to dwell upon the serious side of life, is indicated.

When the corners turn up, however, in the form of a cupid's bow, the possessor is of a bright, cheerful nature, always finding a silver lining to every cloud and seeing good in everything.

T. F. Anthony, Ex-Postmaster, of Promise City, Iowa, says: "I bought one bottle of 'Mystic Cure' for Rheumatism, and two doses of it did me more good than any medicine I ever took."

Dr. Duncan Leaves the Ministry.

Chattanooga, Oct. 31.—Dr. James A. Duncan, former pastor of Centenary Church here and one of the leading ministers in Southern Methodism, announced a mild sensation to-day by announcing that he will leave the ministry and become the general agent of a life insurance company, with headquarters here.

Dr. Duncan was formerly located at Knoxville and has served some of the leading churches of his denomination. He was recently transferred from the Holston Conference, and this week was transferred from the Tennessee Conference to the Virginia Conference. He has notified the latter conference of his purpose to quit the ministry.

GRAINS OF RICE.

No life is complete without trials. In goodness there is no competition. The victory is always to the faithful. God develops his children through trials.

No man whose faith is wrong will live right. The devil never drives a man who leads well.

It takes a brave heart to overcome the conflicts of life.

It is not hard for a heart filled with love to forgive.

The man who is closest to God is in the least danger.

The greatest man is the one who is the closest to God.

What is money to a person without Christ and without hope?

Will Ask for Larger Navy.

A Washington special says: "One of the strongest recommendations in the message of President Roosevelt to the next Congress will be that the United States shall build a much larger navy than she has at present. The President, having at one time been Secretary of the Navy, feels that he understands the situation in this department thoroughly. The great increase in appropriations asked for by Secretary Long will be concurred in, it is thought, by the President."

Barnum's Monkeys

"All well—all happy—lots of fun". That is the regular report from the monkey cage of Barnum's Circus ever since the keepers began dosing the monkeys with Scott's Emulsion.

Consumption was carrying off two thirds of them every year and the circus had to buy new ones. One day a keeper accidentally broke a bottle of Scott's Emulsion near the monkey cage and the monkeys eagerly lapped it up from the floor.

This suggested the idea that it might do them good. Since then the monkeys have received regular doses and the keepers report very few deaths from consumption. Of course it's cheaper to buy Scott's Emulsion than new monkeys—and that suits the circus men.

Consumption in monkeys and in man is the same disease. If you have it or are threatened with it can you take the hint?

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Over $5,000 damages were wrought at the Jackson, Ga., depot by the burning of more than one hundred bales of cotton.

A perilous voyage was made by nine Californians in a balloon, which broke free its moorings at San Francisco. They drifted 50 miles at the mercy of the air currents, but all escaped uninjured.

The foreign born population of the United States is more than 10,000,000. Jeremiah J. Crowley, the ex-communicated Roman Catholic priest, was publicly humiliated at the celebration of High Mass, by order of the church authorities.

Mrs. Roosevelt denies the yarn that her wardrobe costs only $300 yearly.

Death invades every home that Jane Tappan, a Boston professional nurse, has entered, which has caused her to be suspected of murder. She is either a fiend of the Borgias type or a victim of a remarkable chain of circumstances.

J. Henry Ballance of Paducah, Ky., while digging in his back yard, unearthed a pot containing $400 in gold and $15 in silver. It shows signs of being long in the ground, and Mr. Ballance thinks his grandfather buried it.

Princess Ayad, who has created a stir in England by her crusade against social conditions in Turkey, will visit the United States this winter and preach the same cause.

The site of old Fort Washington, New York City, is to be marked by an elaborate stone monument, which will be dedicated Nov. 16, the 125th anniversary of the battle.

It is encouraging to note that in most of the former slave states the white population is increasing. South Carolina and Mississippi are now the only two states in which the black predominates.

The death of eleven children from anti-toxin poison at St. Louis, has caused others to fear the use of that serum; but the physicians say that no fear need be had, as the St. Louis casualties were due to careless examination of animals from which the serum was taken.

PRESS OPINIONS.

A New York woman attempted suicide by shooting herself in the head with a revolver. She did not die; then she quit eating and talking, and went straight home to glory. When you find a woman who will not talk under any circumstances, it is time to call in the undertaker. His services will certainly be needed.—Chattanooga News.

The next highwayman who is wanted by the police will probably journey hence in a sprinkling cart.—Nashville American.

With Mr. Cleveland writing on fishing and Mr. Roosevelt on congar hunting, the literary emanations of the present and past president have rather a sporty look.—Knoxville Sentinel.

Of course the country will be thankful on the 28th, but many persons cannot but think that they might have been a little more so if some other man had been nominated by the Republicans for the vice presidency in 1900.—Nashville News.

Meet Next on Southern Soil.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 1.—The decision of the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in session in Cincinnati to hold the next meeting in Chattanooga, marks an epoch in the history of the Methodist Church. It will be the first time Northern Methodist Bishops have met on Southern soil since the sectional division of the church. It is said a strong effort will be made at the meeting of the Bishops to effect a union of Northern and Southern Methodists.

Great Moral Victory.

Twenty years ago R. F. Wolfe emerged from the Jefferson, Ind., penitentiary, where he had served a five year sentence for assault with intent to kill. While confined in jail on a false charge he attempted to escape, and in so doing assaulted a guard, but with no intent to kill. While in the penitentiary he learned to make shoes, and when discharged he went to Columbus, Ohio, and worked at a shoe-makers bench. He invented some shoe machinery, used his energy and his talents, and is to-day president of the National Shoe Company. Men who knew of his prison record tried to blackmail him. In self-defense Mr. Wolfe wrote a history of his life, suppressing nothing, and gave it to the newspapers a few days ago, thus blocking the efforts of blackmailers. His moral victory is greater than his financial victory, and to-day all right minded men think more of him for his courage and candor.

To Maury County Teachers.

At the suggestion of Hon. Morgan C. Fitzpatrick, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Friday, Nov. 15, has been suggested as "Arbor Day" for the public schools of the State, to be observed as a holiday occasion by the planting of trees, music, recitations and addresses.

Plenty of Weapons.

This story, which I see "going the rounds," is too good to be lost: A man in Arkansas was recently tried for assault and battery with intent to kill. The State brought into court as the weapons he used, a nail, an ax, gun, pair of tongs, saw and file. The defendant's counsel exhibited as the other man's weapons a soythe blade, pitchfork, pistol, dog, razor and hoe. The jury decided the case as follows: "We the jury agree that each of us would have given a dollar to have seen the fight."

CHILDISH RIVALRY.

Close Race at First, but Johnnie Wins on the Home Stretch.

Johnnie, aged 8, has been in the house for a week in consequence of a header from his "bike." In this time he and Percy, aged 6, have exhausted all their usual themes for disputes. Yesterday this was overheard in the nursery:

"Mamma, did Percy ever have whooping cough?"

"Yes, dear."

"Well, then, did he have it as bad as I did?"

"No, not quite."

"There, Percy!"

"Well, anyhow" (this from another voice), "I had measles worse'n you, and I had it first, too."

"You didn't!"

"I did, too!"

"Mamma! mamma! Did Percy have measles before I did?"

"Yes, he had it first, and you took it from him."

Percy now triumphed audibly and vociferously. Then Johnnie rallied and crushed him:

"Well, anyhow, I broke my collar-bone, and it cost $25."

Percy had no more to say. It is expected that as soon as the rain stops he will go straight out and break his collar-bone.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

ALABAMA AT WORLD'S FAIR.

Extensive Preparations for an Exhibit at St. Louis Are Already Under Way.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 5.—Alabama will be represented at the Louisiana Purchase exposition to be held at St. Louis. Commissioner of Agriculture R. R. Poole is very much elated over the success of the exhibit he made at Buffalo, on which he expended only $5,000, and which received more medals and honorable mentions than the exhibit of any southern state. Mr. Poole will preserve the nonperishable portions of the Buffalo exhibit as the basis of his display at St. Louis. He says: "We will spend $10,000 on the Louisiana Purchase display, and with the articles we have in hand to start on, we will be able to make ten times the show we had at Buffalo. Our exhibit there was small, but for genuine merit as showing the resources of the state I do not yield the palm to any state, north or south. We will be on the lookout from now until the time comes for new articles for our display."

Under the new constitution, Mr. Poole will be commissioner of industries as well as of agriculture, and the scope of the St. Louis exhibit will be correspondingly widened.

GEN. FUNSTON MAY COME HOME

The Doughty Kansas Soldier Will Shortly Apply for Leave of Absence.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 5.—It is stated that Gen. Frederick Funston will shortly apply for leave of absence from the Philippines and return to the United States on a visit. It is said that he is recovering rapidly from the operation for appendicitis recently undergone at a Manila hospital. Gen. Fred D. Grant will, it is stated, likely succeed Gen. Funston in command of the San Fernando district.

IS MISS ELLEN STONE DEAD?

A Letter Received in New York Conveys the Impression that She is Dead.

New York, Nov. 5.—The positive conviction that Miss Ellen H. Stone is dead is captioned in a letter which has just been received in Boston from Ivan Raduloff, a student, who was with the American missionary when she was captured by brigands in Turkey, together with Mme. Tsilka, says the Boston correspondent of the press. According to this letter the snow in the mountains into which Miss Stone and her companion were taken by their captors was three feet deep, three weeks ago, at the time the letter was written. Even in the summer time the snow upon the highest summits of these mountains does not melt. The snowfall usually comes about the middle of September, and by the middle of October the mountain passes are absolutely closed to travel.

It was the conviction among Miss Stone's friends in Sanakof, Bulgaria, three weeks ago that she could not possibly have survived the rigors of her captivity until that date.

Death Followed Her Footsteps.

Boston, Nov. 5.—The case of Jane Toppan, the professional nurse, is engaging popular interest from the fact that 12 deaths are known to have followed her engagement as nurse in various places.

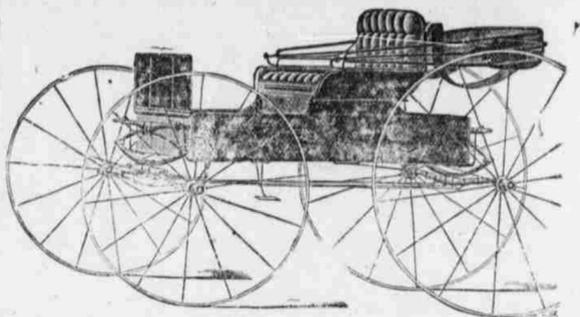

James P. Kennedy Dead.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 5.—James P. Kennedy, one of the organizers and a director of the American Bridge Co., died after a short illness. He was 39 years of age.
