THE CHOICEST. THE LATEST AND THE RAREST!

We mean the millinery goods of Mrs. Nellie Parkes which will be opened over the store of N. B. Simms Oct. 1st. Mrs. P. has spared no pains to make this selection of stock the best that has ever appeared in the town. She intends to bring all of her well known taste and thorough knowledge of the styles and fashions to the work of furnishing the ladies of the town and surrounding country with hats, bonnets and trimmings such as you can procure only in the cities. She wishes to have it understood that no higher prices will be charged than the lowest living per cent on first class goods.

It will be no trouble or inconvenience for Mrs. Parkes to talk with and advise you what you should wear and how, in fact she will take pleasure in so doing. Call and see her in her neat and commodious rooms over N. B. Simm's store south side of the square on and after Oct. 1st.

at FALL RIVER WOOL FACTORY.

Leave your wool at M. J. Richardson's store and it will be sent to the factory and returned promptly. No charges for hauling.

T. J. Choate.

Lawrenceburg's people are such an appreciative folk, especially of any thing in the religious line. Let a man come to our town singing psalms, praying with a loud voice in our churches, and doing the religious act on all occasions and immediately we fold him to our loving and confiding bosoms and thank the Lord for sending him to us. We took in Hall and Brownlee and Newton, all God fearing God serving Christians, and then they "took us in." Send some more psalm singers.
