Fell Disaster

Comes Fast and Faster to the Devoted Sol and Betsy-- Yet Like True Philosophers they Laugh at Fate

Rural Route, No. 2.

SOLOMON.

Well Mr. Editor and the many readers of the dear old Democrat, seeing that my other letter was suitable for publication and was so entertaining to the readers I thought I would take my pen and paper in hand and come once more.

Mr. Editor I am so torn up in body and mind naturally and physically of late that I hardly know how to commence my letter. Words cannot express mine and Betsy's love for you, for putting our names in your paper, as you are the first man to put our names in the paper.

Well Betsy has been after me to run for Governor ever since I wrote my first piece to the paper. Betsy says Sol., seeing as the Democrats are so mixed up over Cox and Patterson, if you would get out and make a few speeches you could get the nomination, but I told Betsy I was a little too old to worry over politics, and besides, as the Republicans were liable to split over Wright and Evans and I might be the nominee on that ticket, and if I ever decide to run again I'll except the Democratic nomination next time. Well as my health is getting worse and worse all the time I may never run for Governor on neither side.

Well Mr. Editor I have some mighty sad news to write up this time.

I promised to tell you how many eggs the old white duck laid by this time, in my other letter. Well sir, she laid 18, all told as nice as ye ever seed. So one mornin I got up to kindle the fire, and the air was all oderiferous and Betsy Sol said she didn't ye hear that old duck a hollerin last night just like sumthin had her by the neck. That rascal of pole kat has killed my duck sure as my name is Betsy, and I went out and looked in the chimney corner, and as shore as ye are born Mr. Editor that sot the old duck dead still with no head ter her body. The way pore Betsy cried was ofial, she cried till her purty blue eyes looked like balls uv fire and as big as sorcers. Betsy says Sol. says she go coteh the old mar and hitch her ter that old cart and we'll go pedlin ter day and carry the pore old duck's eggs ter market fur feer that rascal uv pole kat will cum this very nite and slip in through the cracks and eat some uv whity's eggs. Well my worst news is yet to come. Betsy and me started ter market and the roads was very ruff and steep and a long hill ter go down. Well Mr. Editor just as we began ter descend the hill my scotcher stick broke, the old cart run on to the old mar and triped her up and broke her pore old neck and 27 ribs, Betsy went heels over head rite on top uv the old mar and me rite on top of Betsy's egg basket and smashed 1 dozen of Betsy's eggs. Betsy had tore her old calico dress from her waist to the ground and skinned her nose, and I began to feel like crying and givin up in despair when all uv a sudden Betsy threw her arms around my neck and says Sol. haint ye lucky after all, unlucky says I. no says Betsy its lucky fur us both that we didn't get killed instead of the old mar. Betsy says Sol. I'd rather be born lucky as we are than born with a fortune. We left the broken fragments of the old cart and old dead mar in the road and went on ter market with the remainder uv the unbroken eggs and got 5 cents cash for them, and started fur home as it was getting late, and as we started home, Betsy says Sol. says she, I've been thinking as how we can git the dear old Democrat arter all. You give up tobacco. I give up snuff, both of us give up coffee and by the next quarter maby

Red Faced

Democrat, Life's Desire of Uncle Abe--A Belated Fling at the President

Mockeson.

UNCLE ABE.

Health of the country is very good with the exception of bad colds.

I have just arrived from Green Hill, Alabama, where I enjoyed a fine sermon by Bro. Gibson. While I was at Green Hill, I carried my Democrat with me to read, in reading the Democrat I noticed a peice from Solomon where he is expecting Betsy to pay for the Democrat. Well I recon if the poor woman is living with a Republican she will have to save barter to pay for something to read. It makes me think of a little song I heard a little darkey singing about Roosevelt. The song ran like this:

"The Goddess of liberty bowed her head Columbia frowned with vigor, The Eagle got mad and tore up the flag When Roosevelt dined with the negro.

The bull pawed up the earth The cow jumped over the moon The American eagle spude on the flag, When Teddie set down with the coon.

Mr. Solomon had better change and be a good red faced Democrat so as to help his wife raise the kids right. They will have to be Democrats if they are O. K. Oscar Crowder says that there is good Democrats, but not so good as Republicans. But he is very badly mistaken for he should not talk that way about the Democrats for when he went to marry he went to a good Democrat and asked for his daughter. Why didn't he go to some Republican. I am a Democrat from the top of my head to the bottom of my feet and don't like to have my toes tramped on, for I am as good as any Republican, but I don't say I am better than a Republican, for one of my neighbors is a Republican and I never saw better people than those I live close to. But just the same there is one hundred and ninety-five Democrats to forty-two Republicans down in the 3rd. You see by that we are the big guns down here.

Will Shannon of Bluewater has the honor of a fine boy.

Mr. Dan Newton's baby is very ill this week.

We are having some cold weather at present.
