City Election

I wish to thank those of our people who have solicited me to become a candidate for Mayor of our town, and appreciate the confidence they had in me in believing me qualified for such a position. After declining the offer made me, I afterwards without any protest allowed my name to be placed on the ticket for alderman. I declined the first offer for the reason that it would not be best for any one so closely related with our High School as I am, to become connected or involved with the management of our city, under the present conditions. In the second case when I allowed it to be done, I never thought of the councilmen's place as being so much complicated as the other, but I find, if a man does his duty that the responsibility is almost as great. In view of this, I therefore have requested my name to be taken off the ticket.

If I know myself I want to be for the best interests of the town. It needs the cooperation of all. I want to see a town with its factories and business interests extended; a good sidewalk system; a street system built on scientific plans; a school system as good as the best; a moral and upright citizenship all pulling together. We cannot get these at once but commence now. Why cannot our people unite on these things and bring them to pass.

Yours Truly,
JOE SIMS.

Social

BENNETT-McOLANAHAN:

W. E. Bennett and Miss Mattie McOlanahan were married on last Sunday at Polks Flats Nashville going the same afternoon to his place of business at McLean Station. Mr. Bennett has many warm friends here and at West Point. His bride is a young woman of splendid business ability having held her position with the First National Bank for a number of years.

GUILD ENTERTAINED:

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Woodward entertained the members of the Guild on Wednesday of last week. An original contest by Rev. Woodward was given, sixteen cards were exhibited on which he had drawn the profile of gentlemen of his congregation and every picture showed the work of an artist. Mrs. W. C. Parkes guessed the largest number and was presented with a picture calendar of the interior of the M. E. Church South. Mrs. Rippey read an excellent paper on the recent meeting of the Home and Foreign missionary conference at Winchester.

MRS HARVEY'S DINNER:

Mrs. Robin H. Harvey was hostess of a very delightful dining on last Tuesday. The occasion being in honor of Miss Annie Nason of Helena, Arkansas. Covers were laid for six, others enjoying this hospitality were Miss Leslie Freeman, Messrs Tom Meredith Parks Stockard and Mrs. Frank Hobb.

PRETTY WEDDING:

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Evans, 306 Euclid Avenue, Jackson, Michigan, on February 20 at high noon, when their daughter Miss Elsie Evans and Wayne Adams of Springfield were united in marriage. Rev. H. R. E. Quant read the ceremony. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Evans of Jackson, and Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. Wilcox of Albion. Miss Clara Baldwin, a cousin of the bride, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, and there were about fifty relatives present who were served to a delicious dinner following the congratulations. The bride was gowned in a beautiful creation of white satin and carried bridal roses, while her daintily attired attendants carried carnations. Table decorations were of pink and white, which colors were applied charmingly throughout the house, and an especially pretty arrangement was that about the bridal party as they stood surrounded by flowers with a beautiful large white dove resting in light over their heads. Mrs. Adams was born at Brace, Tennessee and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Baldwin of that place.

Notice

High School Notes

PAUL KIMBRELL

The Stribling Literary Society met at the opera house Friday night March 7, and rendered a very interesting as well as instructive program.

The house was called to order by President Hugh Mc Crory and the proceedings were as follows:

Reading of the minutes Secretary. Prayer. Chaplain. Lena Lamb. Lois Busby. Orator. Jesse Hammond. Biography. Brown Sims. Piano Solo. Ruth Brown. Debate: Resolved, That men of thought have been more beneficial to the world than men of action.

Affirmative. Negative. Luther Lumpkins Lawrence Springer. Man Howard Edward Kranz. Locals. Janie Mae Guthrie.

The four young men in the debate are to be complimented for the excellent work they did. Rev. Williams, Prof. Sims and Mr. John Crews acted as judges and rendered their verdict in favor of the negative side.

Jesse Hammond is due special credit for his oration.

Misses Minnie Dugger and Dora Thurman visited the Bible Class one day last week.

Alva Gilliam and Dora Reavis are out of school on account of sickness.

Alma Ellingboe has stopped school. We are pleased to have Miss Willa Mae Dobbins back in school after so long an absence on account of getting her foot cut with an ax.

Professor Stunkard is not able to be out of his room.

Examinations are early for this quarter.

Miss Garner has been giving oral examinations in Caesar this week.

And Professor Thornberry will begin his examination in Bible Monday.

Mrs. Weber made a very interesting talk in chapel Friday morning on the subject of concentration.

There is no Issue

A careful and conscientious review of the municipal campaign leads eminently to the conclusion that there is no issue worthy of consideration between the contending parties which have tickets in the field. The Union last week, stated, (by authority presumably) that the issue is as to whether or not the "Scott Survey" lawsuit ought to have been appealed to the Supreme Court. A sane mind realizes that this question has now reached the stage that it is purely academic, and that the result of the election for city officials will not effect it in any way. Whether the appealing of this suit was right or wrong is not now at issue; the fact is that it has been appealed and will in due time be finally passed upon for all time to come; and this fact is true, no matter which ticket wins on tomorrow. It may be true that this suit should have gone no further than the chancery court; this paper is of that opinion; indeed we go further than that and say, that as we see it the suit ought never to have been brought at all. It has been, and could not but have been, expensive to both litigants. But while this all may be true, yet the suit was brought, it was appealed to the higher courts, and no human court or council can now change this inexorable fact of history, nor now save the loser from the costs, nor the winner from expense.

The "New Board" ticket has put out a platform, but in it all, from end to end, there is nothing that is, or can be an issue, in the campaign. They declare in favor of economy and business like methods to the end that the city's credit be re-established. That every man desires and doubtless it has no stronger advocate than the opposing ticket. This platform favors the "Scott Survey" modified to meet the conditions of different localities and the convenience of the citizens. This is the very plan pursued by the "Old Board" ticket in the past and doubtless has their hearty endorsement. It opposes tearing up the sidewalks, (who would not?) and building others where needed and desired and paid for by the property owners, and so does everyone else. It favors making the water and light plant pay and not selling it, and every party and faction says, "Amen!" It advocates the upbuilding of Lawrenceburg, and if there be any who do not, they will please stand until they are counted. The whole affair is farcical—a veritable tempest in a teapot. This platform is only a perille elaboration of the humorists couplet, which says,

"Don't say nothing unless you're compelled to, And then don't say nothing you can be held to."
