We are authorized to announce TATE W. NEWMAN as a candidate for re-election to the Lower House of our next General Assembly. mar27

We notice that N. R. Martin & Son are receiving another lot of new goods for the Spring and Summer trade. Also a lot of family groceries, &c. Go and see them.

James R. Bruce, Esq., editor of the Nashville Daily Gazette is called upon by "Many Mechanics" to become a candidate for representative of Davidson county in the House of the next General Assembly.

Hon. F. K. Zollicoffer will probably be the candidate of the American party of this State. He is highly spoken of.

BOYS, LOOK OUT.

In the State of Maine it is said that the young ladies still continue to kiss the lips of young gentlemen to see if they have been tampering with ardent spirits. We recommend the practice to the young ladies of our town as a mode of promoting the temperance reform. We think it would succeed admirably. Just imagine a beautiful girl approaching a young gentleman, and with all the dignity of an executive officer, and the innocence of a dove, saying—"Sir, the ladies believe you are in the habit of tampering with liquor, and they have appointed me to examine you; you must acquiesce."—She steps gently up to him, lays her soft white arms around his neck, dashes back her raven curls, raises her sylphlike form upon tip-toe, and with her angelic features lit up with a smile as sweet as heaven, places her rich, rosy, pouty, sweet, sugar, molasses, straw-berry, honeysuckle, sunflower, rosebud, nectar lips against his and husses him. By all means, girls, hurry up the pledge and be sure to examine the married men in like manner.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Winchester and Alabama Railroad will take place on next Thursday, May 7. Remember this—next Thursday.

We had occasion to go over to the other side of the square to-day and en passant our attention was especially attracted by a cleanly swept room, with nice clean shelves in it, all filled completely full with candies, "confectionaries, toys, varieties, &c." The place looked quite inviting, so in we dropped and found just the prettiest assortment of "good things" imaginable. In fact, we can't name anything in the confectionary line that we didn't see. Suffice it to say that this is a grocery establishment just opened by Messrs. B. & K. It is not a grocery for the sale of liquors, therefore ladies needn't hesitate about calling.—They will find a good-looking, jolly, accommodating, and genteel Dutchman ready to wait on them.

Really, we are proud of this addition to our business houses.

The revival at the Methodist Church is still progressing and doing a great deal of good.

We were highly pleased to see that most all our business houses were closed on last Friday, through respect to the deceased body of that good and noble man, Rev. J. G. Biddle. This was right. Winchester will not soon cease to feel the severe loss it has sustained in the death of one who was an ornament indeed to the place, and 'tis but proper that sadness should pervade every heart, and respect thrill every soul that beats within its bounds.

The undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of Winchester and vicinity that he is yet in town, and is prepared to put up Ambrotypes and Melainotypes in the highest perfection of the art. Melainotypes encased in lockets, breast pins, &c., &c., in the most approved style.

Call and examine specimens.

REMARKS.

The Bacon market has been a little excited for a few days, holders asking our outside figures, but as yet few sales. Lard is nearly out of the question. The cold backward Spring has stiffened up flour and corn.

Respectfully,

HANDLY & HENDERSON, WINCHESTER, TENN.

We have just received our stock of SPRING GOODS, and are now prepared to wait upon all who may desire anything in our line. The greatest possible care was taken in the selection of what we thought would please and satisfy the demands of the people of this town and county, and the public generally.—To name all the articles we have in store would be an arduous task, but to be brief we would state that our assortment comprises goods suitable for males and females, both old and young.
