DIRECTORS: W. HASTINGS HUGHES, PRES. EMT. R. WALTON, N. H. TUCKER, FRANCIS TAYLOR, JAMES MILMOW, F. C. FISHER AND C. H. BLACKLOCK.

The fruit and vegetable growing capabilities of Rugby, and the Plateau generally, are well known and satisfactorily established. The object of this Company is to set up machinery, etc., in Rugby, for the canning of these products, and to ship them in the most compact and profitable form.

The abundant production of tomatoes, and the excellence of their quality, has determined the promoters, after careful consideration, to begin the enterprise upon them principally. These considerations lead them to the conviction that they can turn out, at current prices an article superior to any now on the market. They hope to add corn, beans, strawberries, apples, peaches, etc., as they progress. The Company has secured a complete can-making and processing plant, which is now on the ground, and will shortly be erected.

The amount of capital already subscribed is $2,500. $5 per share is called on all shares now issued, the balance payable 1st April, 1883. Application for shares to be made to C. H. BLACKLOCK, Sec. pro tem. RUGBY, TENN.

ALLARDT!! A New Anglo-German Settlement in Fentress County, East Tennessee, just opening.

Our Plat No. 1, containing some 14,000 acres, subdivided into lots of 100 acres, is now offered for sale at figures that will bring a hundred acre farm within the reach of almost every home-seeker.

A town site reservation convenient to the town of the projected Fentress Co. R.R. will shortly be platted and lots offered at low prices. These lands are on the Cumberland Plateau proper, are abundantly supplied with the best of water and many varieties of valuable timber. They are well adapted for general farming, though stock and dairy farming, the cultivation of root crops, fruits, silk, etc., will be more largely remunerative.

For further particulars apply to STEPHENS & GERNT, PORT HURON, MICHIGAN. Successors to ALLARDT & Co.

STAY AT HOME!

Mr. C. W. Charlton, of Knoxville, well says to those who would move, as so many have moved only to fare worse, "Stay where you are, East Tennesseans. You have, all things being equal, the best average country under the sun. Possibly you may find on the whole richer lands in Texas, but you want something more than rich lands. You want health; you want good water; you want a pleasant climate. These outweigh rich lands and broad acres. If your lands are somewhat exhausted, as many of them are, you can restore them by judicious cultivation. The poorest farms in all East Tennessee can be recuperated and made productive, if practical sense and persevering industry are brought to bear upon the matter."

The accident to Queen Victoria was but a trifling affair, after all, and there was no concern or sensation anywhere outside of the newspaper press of this country. She lives, and is likely to live for many years to come, but death, in the removal of the faithful John Brown—the substantial shadow behind the throne—will take from Her Majesty's every day life one who has been a great social link to the past.

A SUGGESTION.

It is expected that Mr. Thomas Hughes, President of the Board of Aid to Land Ownership, and the father, so to speak, of Rugby, will visit the colony in the Autumn. It has been suggested, and we like the idea, that the settlement should get up a fair of local productions, animal and vegetable, as a fitting mark of reception. There would be little difficulty in preparing a most excellent show, as the opportunities of the residents, and the soil capabilities, are such that a first-rate display is possible. It would also show inquirers about Rugby and the Plateau how and what productions can be raised.

At Warsaw in New York State, a soda ash manufactory is being started, with an employing capacity of 1,000 hands. It is the only factory of the kind in this country, and is worked by English capitalists.

The Hon L. C. Houk, M.C. from Second District of Tennessee, has been invited by a number of Members of the State Legislature, and citizens of Middle Tennessee, to deliver an address in Nashville upon the subject of the "Tariff."

In Great Britain there is a lawyer to every 3,000 people; in Germany one to every 1,600, while in America there is a lawyer to every 800 of us, and they are growing in numbers faster than the nation is growing in population.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Cotton was first exported from America to England in 1784, and the first quantity sent was six bales. The Custom House officials at Liverpool not believing so much cotton was raised in America, confiscated the consignment. In the fourteen cotton growing States, in 1879, nearly six million bales were raised.

We think we are safe in saying there is no religious denomination in the United States that has not taken action on the temperance question, or that there is any organization touching the welfare and prosperity of the nation that does not feel, know and act upon the conviction that the use, not only abuse, of intoxicating liquors is answerable for more of the ignorance, irreligion, crime, improvidence and disorder of life than is any other agency.

"Isn't it about time for the local authorities to sell the mule used to draw the town hearse and buy a horse?" asks the editor of a Tennessee paper. "Twice lately he has balked and detained processions on bitter cold days for over an hour, and only last week he kicked in the front of the vehicle and seriously damaged the corpse. People are beginning to get enough of this sort of thing, and if the authorities don't take proper action a citizen's meeting will be called."

Mr. Isaac Quintard died at Stamford, Conn., last Saturday, in the house in which he was born just eighty years ago. He was the son of Isaac Quintard, of revolutionary fame. When young he was deemed rather wild, and for punishment was adjudged the least valuable portion of his grandfather's rich estate. However it turned out to be the most valuable. He was the father of E. A. Quintard, President of the Citizens' Savings Bank of New York; of Geo. W. Quintard, President of the Charleston line of steamers and the Quintard Iron Works, and of Bishop Quintard of Tennessee.

GLEN MARY.

Special to the Plateau Gazette.

Glen Mary people congratulate you upon the fine appearance of your last issue. The change is an improvement, and the people will now realize that the paper is the organ for the whole country, rather than a limited section. I predict a large increase of subscriptions.

Business outlook is good for spring and summer. Coal and timber in constant demand, in large quantities. Mr. O. E. Water's steam mill is at present filling a contract for a large lot of oil barrel staves for the Standard Oil Co. The Coal Co. is working a heavy force of men, and we are informed that they anticipate a lively summer trade. The erection of another nest of coke ovens will shortly be commenced, and during the year the number of coke ovens will be raised to sixty. A new siding is being completed through the coke yard, specially for the coke works. The Company are placing a fine quality of coke on the market, which meets with favor from both foundry and furnace men.

We are to have the benefit of two more passenger trains per day, one each way, through from Louisville to Chattanooga and return, making connection at Danville Junction.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke started North for a short stay. President of the Coal Co., G. W. Darnall, Esq., of Lexington, was in town Monday. Mr. McDonald, agent for the railroad at Glen Mary has been home for a few days. Business, he would say, brought his speedy return, but we judge that attractions (fairer than those at home, perchance) at Glen Mary, that have been exerting a powerful influence over him of late, had something to do with it. Mr. and Mrs. Waters entertained a company of friends at their residence a few evenings since in honor of a birthday. Well do we know what an invite to their hospitality means, and long does the remembrance of it remain. May they pass many happy birthdays!

Mr. Solomon Young has sold his stock-in-trade of goods to R. Hurt, who has lately returned from Huntsville. Mr. Wood is his able assistant in the store. Don't fail to stop and look at our thriving little town when passing.

SCRIBBLER.

"SNAKE BITE."

The following is an order recently received by a merchant in Scranton:

"Dear Sir,—Myself and two friends start this morning upon a fishing excursion. You will please send by bearer the following articles: Four pounds of salt and a small cask of whisky; one pound of black pepper and a demijohn of whisky; ten pounds of lard and a large jug of whisky; three good, stout fishing lines and three pocket-bags of whisky; one paper of large Limerick hooks and a gallon of whisky; also a pound of white sugar and a small jug of whisky. Hurriedly, yours, S. G. B."

"P.S.—As we are to be gone several days, and as snakes are bad on the river at this season of the year, my physician has just stepped in and suggested that we had better take with us a little whisky. Send a gallon, and charge it with the other items, and oblige, Yours, S. G. B."

Last year over 3,000,000 pounds of dried apples were exported from this country to the markets of China, India, Egypt, Southern Africa, Australia and also to England and Scotland.

Judge Lawrenson, who has sworn in all the Postmaster-Generals for a number of years past, says that Aaron V. Brown, of Tennessee, who died March 8th, 1859, was the only Postmaster-General who died in office besides Mr. Howe.

On Wednesday, about two miles above Dayton, on the Cincinnati Southern Railway, the engineer of the north bound train discovered a cross tie across the track, and a little further on a number of ties set on end in the ditch between the crossings. The engine was thrown from the track by the first obstruction. No clue has been yet found to the miscreants who made the obstruction.

There was a new departure a few nights ago at McMinnville, Tenn., to raise money to buy a church organ. The plan was a sale of young ladies to the highest bidders. Many of the belles brought fabulous prices, one ecstatic bachelor bidding "heaven and earth" for the girl of his choice. As barter was not taken he was required to pay in dollars and cents, which he did in a handsome price, and got his prize.
