Birth Day Dinner.

Saturday evening, Mr. Alex Hall beautifully entertained fourteen of his friends at dinner, the occasion celebrating the attainment of his majority. It is somewhat of a pleasant novelty, to tell of a young man's party, after chronicling the many affairs given to and by, young ladies, particularly such a delightful entertainment as Mr. Hall's was.

The dining-room was decorated with yellow lights and large golden chrysanthemums, while the same flowers nodded and swayed from the cut-glass bowl, as if to kiss the beautiful lace centerpiece shading the blue satin mat. The flowers were artistically caught near the center by a big pale-blue satin bow, and the same dainty-hued ribbons adorned the silver candelabra, and held in place the ambitious chrysanthemums, climbing to reach the mellow lights under their lacy silver shades.

The place cards were little gems, decorated in blue forget-me-nots, and the host's monogram in gold at one corner.

The whole menu carried out perfectly the color scheme. From the tiny lemon baskets, tied with blue ribbons, holding the condiments for the raw oysters, the hollowed-out oranges filled with sherry ice, to the luscious jelly, the yellow chrysanthemum and forget-me-not decorated cakes, the creams incased in yellow, even to the frozen cheese, all was yellow or blue. Even the china and cut-glass was flecked with gold. It was an unusual and pleasing combination of colors, and exceedingly appropriate for the occasion, blue being the young girl's acknowledged color, while what does not the gold represent? Truth, purity, integrity, all that we recognize as a man's highest attainments.

The guests were Miss Annie Dee McClung, who made a most graceful hostess, presiding with great tact, opposite Mr. Hall at dinner, Misses Mary Louise McMullen, Augusta McKeldin, May Wylie, Sara Carhart, May Douglass, Margaret Woodruff and Rosannah Rodgers; Messrs. Gettys, McMullen, Chapman, House, Boyd and Hall.

A Charming Affair.

Monday afternoon past, Miss Gettys, in honor of Miss Iva McMullen, who has been spending the past week with her, gave a six-handed euchre party. It was a charming affair, only about eighteen of the girls and a few of the married ladies being present. Miss Gettys is an ideal hostess, with her stately, gracious manners, and she was ably seconded by the honoree, who is particularly happy on such occasions. The prize, a silver pin tray, was won by Miss Ijams.

After the game the guests were invited to the dining-room, where a delightful lunch was served. The table was exceedingly pretty, with gold candelabra and pink candles, and numberless sweet-breathed carnations in vases. The cakes, mints, etc., were in this ever-popular and ever-lovely color.

Mesdames Hall, Clapp and J. E. Borches assisted Miss Gettys in entertaining.

Notable Wedding.

Wednesday, at her father's home, Miss Ross Sutherland and Mr. S. B. Denlinger, of Brooklyn, were quietly married. As is generally known, the bride has been quite ill for several weeks past, but rather than risk the ill-luck popularly ascribed to delayed weddings, the marriage took place, only the family being present. So sweet Ross Sutherland, with winsome, bright ways and lovable nature, will leave us, with a glad memory in our hearts at having known her. The groom is personally little known in Knoxville, but the fact of two such charming sisters both selecting husbands from the same family—Rev. H. K. Denlinger, who married Miss Jennie Sutherland, being the present groom's brother—is proof sufficient of the sterling worth of the man.

Monday's German.

Monday night the young men of the University German Club entertained with a cotillion at the Woman's Building. Mr. Alex. Hall, with Miss Wylie, led, introducing some unique and entertaining figures. Misses Carhart and Ella Johnston, of Kentucky, two other pretty strangers, added to the pleasure of the dance.

Distinguished Visitor.

Within the next few days Knoxville will receive a visit from one of the coming leaders in the literary West. In fact, it is not too much to assert that he is "come." Mr. Leon Edward Craig, of Woodson, Ill., although but twenty-six years of age, is a recognized factor in the journalistic and literary circles of Chicago. For some time on the staff of the Times-Herald, he is now furnishing a series of most valuable articles for the "Scroll Magazine," a journal of technical and miscellaneous literary information for writers and publishers. In his "Side Talks with Young Authors," Mr. Craig's dominant sincerity and earnestness of purpose, together with the possession of high ideals, are markedly evident. These articles alone make this publication of rare value to the scribbling public, though he distinctly discourages all who are content to be merely mediocre writers. He says "try to wield a pen of power or none at all."

Knoxville is to be congratulated upon the honor of entertaining this prominent author.

Woman's Building.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Building Board was held on Thursday morning, when officers for the coming year were elected. The old officers were re-elected with the exception of the secretary, Mrs. John Williams, who has been secretary since the association was organized, but found that she would be unable to longer serve in that capacity. Following are the officers chosen: President, Mrs. L. D. Tyson; vice-president, Mrs. Samuel McKinney; secretary, Mrs. W. L. McCreary; treasurer, Mrs. W. B. Lockett; auditor, Mrs. J. M. P. Otts.

Mrs. Wm. Kennedy, who has been on the sick list for several weeks, sent in her resignation as a director of the Building Association. Mrs. Kennedy's resignation was accepted with greatest regret, for she has been one of the most efficient and capable workers on the board. Mrs. R. Z. Roberts was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by Mrs. Kennedy's resignation.

There will be a dance in the Woman's Building, Saturday afternoon, November 25th, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. These Saturday afternoon dances proved very popular last winter, and it is hoped this, the first one of the season, will be largely attended.

As the social horizon begins broadening for the season of 1899-1900 the prospect for a successful season for the Woman's Building grows brighter with each week.

That supply creates demand is proven by the almost constant occupancy of the Assembly Hall, even at this early date.

Gymnastics and Dancing.

Miss Gilson, a graduate of the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics, and instructor of physical training in the Woman's Department at the University and at East Tennessee Institute, will form classes in free gymnastics for women and children at the Woman's Building. The work for the children will probably include dancing. Miss Gilson will be at the Woman's Building on Saturday morning, the twenty-fifth, from ten to twelve, when the children's class will be started and engagements made for lessons to follow. Any ladies interested in this work are invited to consult Miss Gilson as to terms and methods of work.

Prof. Turner, of the U. of T., delivered an instructive address on "Florentine Art," last night, at the November open meeting of the Art Club.

It's up to the People.

Less than a year remains in which to gather facts, and information that will influence your vote for the next president of the United States.

That grievous wrongs have been committed, and grave errors allowed to exist without effort at correction, is evidenced by the speech, writings, and comments of eminent statesmen and jurists; congressmen and leading men of business; professors and clergymen in every state.

Party affiliations have been ignored in the outcry against thrusting aside the safeguards of our fathers and rushing pell-mell into the affairs of Europe. The situation is a deplorable one if not alarming; as is also our domestic affairs dominated by gigantic trusts.

The evils are not of spontaneous growth! They are the result of years of labor and expenditure of millions of dollars! Beginning with the displacement of American silver for English gold, the cunning of England's diplomacy in shaping the destiny of our Republic is apparent to any ordinary observer seeking the true inwardness of events.

The Cincinnati Enquirer has frequently called attention to each and every move as it was transpiring, and during the campaign of 1900 will present its readers with a truthful array of facts that will be extremely interesting and startling.

No fair-minded American, be he Republican, Democrat or of other political faith, can afford at this critical time to ignore the truth. Partisan prejudice, with the Trusts as dictators, is a far more degrading slavery than that which existed previous to the Civil War of '61-'64.

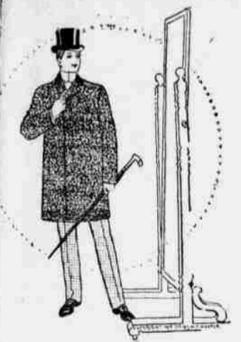

Trusts in the United States alone have a representative capital greater than all the gold and silver in the world. These will spend many more millions of dollars to suppress truth and facts and mislead all who fail to look beyond their plausible deceptions. Read the Enquirer and you will be able to discern the truth and combat falsehood. A victory for Trusts and the McKinley Administration in 1900 will end the era of greatest good to greatest number.

Watch carefully the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Draperies AND DRAPING.

No feature of our business has been more appreciated the past year than the Draping Department. One reason is because we have such an abundance of beautiful things that no other store would think of carrying. Another reason is because we understand draping. Our patrons do not find us helpless when something original and artistic is wanted. Copying is not difficult for anybody, we should judge; but copying we leave to others. Originating is our specialty.
