Stories of Great Scouts

DR. W. F. CARVER, "EVIL SPIRIT OF THE PLAINS"

One day back in the sixties a trapper was following a narrow trail through the woods near Cedar Mountain, in Wyoming. Suddenly from a clump of bushes nearby a shot rang out, followed in quick succession by three more. The trapper dropped quickly to the ground and rolled behind a log, unhurt. Then he waited for the next move of the Indians who had ambushed him.

In a few minutes a war bonnet appeared above a log a short distance away. The trapper was not deceived, for this was an old Indian trick.

However, the trapper had a better trick than this up his sleeve. His rifle was not a single shot, for after a winter of successful trapping he had sold his furs in St. Louis and had bought a repeating rifle, one of the first to be carried in the Rocky mountains. He had this weapon now, and he immediately fired, as the Indians were hoping he would do.

As he fired four Indians sprang from the bush and with wild yells of triumph rushed for the trapper. Without removing his gun from his shoulder, the white man pumped bullets at oncoming warriors as fast as he could work the lever.

Three of the Indians dropped in their tracks, and the fourth, with a howl of dismay, turned and fled at top speed, followed by several bullets, which the trapper sent after him to encourage the fleeing redskin. When the surviving warrior arrived in his village he told a marvelous tale of an encounter with a white man who had a "medicine gun" which never stopped shooting and killing.

On Wednesday morning C. H. Redman and other prohibition officers arrested Henry Nichols of Kyle Ford settlement and brought him before John Livesay United States Commissioner who heard the evidence on the part of the United States and continued the case for further hearing on the part of the defendant until the 13th of Nov. It seems from the evidence of the officers that a considerable amount of whiskey was found near the home of Nichols and presumably on the lands of Nichols, but Nichols sternly denied any knowledge of any liquor being in his place, the trial will be concluded Nov. 13th at which time the defendant will present his side of the case.

TREADWAY

I will give a few items from this place if they escape the office cat and later will come again.

Geo A. Williams Editor of the News was over at Treadway Sunday visiting homefolks and returned to Sneedville Monday.

We are very sorry to learn that Leona Vaughn of Mooreburg is very low with typhoid fever and not expected to live but a few days.

Gid Helton and Hene Williams are putting in a new mill dam for Sinda Johnson of Treadway, and will have a new mill running in a few days.

Mr. John Gordon is on the sick list at this writing, we hope for him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Tip Davis was seen going to Morristown Monday morning with a wagon load of potatoes, guess he is going to feed the people of Hamblen county on later.

Mr. Tom Trent and family of Wellington Lurasas are visiting in this community and will make their home in Tenn. in the future.

Mr. W. D. Gord in our telephone man went to Treadway Monday looking after the lines in that section.

Mr. Geo. S. Williams editor of the News was visiting his daughter Mrs. Cordie M. Lawson Sunday evening at Treadway.

Clifford, the little son of Grant Williams who has been very sick for several days is better we are glad to note.

WHY DID JACOB CRY?

Jacob kissed Rachel and lifted up his voice and wept.—Scripture
It is our opinion Jacob wept because he hadn't kissed Rachel before, and regretted the time he lost. But if Rachel was a pretty girl and kept her face clean we can't see that Jacob had much to cry about, anyhow.

If the only way we can attain individuality is through our tailors we should at least be grateful to them.

HON. ALF TAYLOR DRINNON

Republican Nominee for Representative for 5th District of Tennessee.

Mr. Drinnon needs no introduction to the voters of this County served in public life as a public official of Hancock County for years with credit to himself and fidelity to the public. Represented this district in the legislature of 1921 chosen as the floor leader for the Republican party and as such introduced and shaped legislation for the Administration of Governor Taylor. Hancock County should and will give him 100 per cent of the vote cast.

One Year of Republican Rule Shows Tremendous Savings
Reduction of Over Billion in Public Debt and Nearly Two Billions in Public Expenses—Congress Cuts Budget Requests.
U. S. REPRESENTATIVE WILL R. WOOD (IND.) ASAL, MEMBER OF HOUSE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS

President Harding took office on March 4, 1921. The first complete fiscal year of government business under his administration began on July 1, 1921, and closed on June 30, 1922. The Budget Bureau was created in June, 1921, practically simultaneously with the commencement of the fiscal year. The estimated expenditures tentatively submitted by the various departments for the fiscal year 1922 aggregated $4,550,000,000. The operations of that fiscal year have just closed. By the application of pressure by the President, exerted through the Budget Bureau and with the cooperation of the heads of departments and other administrative officers, the ordinary expenditures for 1922 actually amount to $2,795,000,000, a reduction of $1,755,000,000 from the figure submitted by the departments at the beginning of the fiscal year. The first budget submitted in December indicated a deficit for this same fiscal year of $24,000,000. How successful the efforts of the administration have been in holding down expenditures and conserving revenue is attested by the fact that instead of a deficit there was a surplus for the year of $314,000,000. The total public debt of the United States on June 30, 1921, one year ago, was $23,977,000,000. This sum had been reduced on June 30, 1922, to $22,565,000,000, a reduction of $1,412,000,000. The policy of the administration has been a return to normal conditions in public expenditures. How well this has been accomplished is amply reflected by a glance at the expenditure figures of preceding years. The Republican party gained control of the Congress in the elections of 1918 and came into power in Congress on March 4, 1919. During the period the administration was Democratic and the Congress was Republican, requests of the Democratic executives for appropriations were reduced by the Republican Congress by nearly $3,000,000,000. Appropriations are the yard stick of expenditures. The enforced reductions in appropriations and cut-
