Mrs. Florence Gates came to town Monday and is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cheney.

Mrs. B. C. Sheldon of Swanton visited at the homes of C. J. and H. A. Slayton Monday and Tuesday.

There will be a meeting of G. W. Doty Camp No. 50, S. of V. at G. A. R. hall Monday evening, May 6.

F. G. Fleetwood will deliver an address before the graduating class of the Swanton High school June 14.

Regular convocation of Coral Chapter No. 16, O. E. S. will be held in Masonic hall next Thursday evening, May 9, at 7:30.

J. Henry Atehinson has a specimen of asbestos in his office which is claimed by many to be the best yet displayed in town.

Miss Eida Knight from Wolcott has been spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Harris, on Maple street.

A quartet of Waterbury's substantial citizens, J. J. Colby, J. S. Batchelder, B. R. Demmeritt and C. C. Graves, were in town Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Jones and two sons, Walter and Harold, were guests at the home of Mrs. Jones' parents, Col. and Mrs. G. W. Doty yesterday.

Warren's meat market has been repaired throughout. This, with the handsome new refrigerator and marble counter recently put in, makes it an up-to-date market in all respects.

Zara Griswold has been calling on friends in town this week. He reports business good at the capital. It is rumored that he will return here soon and will manage the Lamoille House.

Everybody is invited to the May ball at N. E. O. P. hall Friday evening, May 3, Elmore and his full orchestra will be in attendance. Ice cream and cake will be served. Full bill $1.00.

T. C. Cheney went to Cambridge this morning to investigate an alleged case of cruelty to animals. He will be assisted in the investigation by John Fuller of Burlington, agent for the Humane Society.

Miss Porter left this morning for Buffalo, N. Y., accompanied by Misses Cora Woodward and Blanche Peck. They will be at the Pan American Exposition for several weeks and expect to travel the larger part of the summer.

Prof. Walter E. Howard of Middlebury, President of the Board of Normal School Commissioners, will be present at the educational meeting and give the address Friday evening, May 10. His subject is "A Pair of Paritans."

All must admit that the display of millinery at Miss Moody's millinery store is strictly up-to-date; but they have not yet received their fall line as would be inferred by the business notice of last week. Don't fail to see the new line of sailors just received.

Lamoille Grange will hold a promenade at the N. E. O. P. hall May 10. Miss Louise Sherbut of Stowe is engaged as housekeeper for Mrs. H. C. Fisk.

If you wish to be "put off at Buff do" try cream Java coffee, put up by H. Waite & Son.

Mrs. Flora Rivers attended the funeral of Herbert L. Gale at Barre last Saturday.

Last Saturday was opening day at the Hall & Cheney soda counter. Call in and quench that thirst.

Charles E. Ashcroft went to New York last Friday on a business trip and expects to be absent about a week.

Any one looking for a bargain in a pneumatic tire buggy should read the business notice of Ella M. Hardy in this issue.

E. E. Boomhower has sold his residence on High St. to Fisk & Slocum. The house will be occupied by Frank Boyce, one of the reliable yard men at the tannery.

Geo. A. Cheney has been chosen as appraiser to adjust land damage in behalf of the management of the new road, to Eden, and is putting in considerable time at present in this direction.

Dwinell started his soda fountain last Saturday with all the flavors so popular last season. He began the ice cream dispensation yesterday, and his newly arranged parlors will please the most fastidious.

E. H. Blossom has finished his duties as Assistant Superintendent of the St. J. & L. C. road, his resignation taking effect to-day. Geo. Cree, his successor, will have his office at St. Johnsbury.

Wm. Buckley went to St. Johnsbury Monday, to sign papers and do other necessary business in the settlement of the lawsuit with the St. J. & L. C. road. We understand the settlement is satisfactory to Mr. Buckley.

John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, knows a few things about good maple sugar, as evidenced by the order of two crates shipped to his address Monday from the Maplewood Sugar & Syrup Co.

The repairs on the Foss building on Lower Main street are nearing completion and O'Brien & King expect to open their meat market next week. H. W. McMahon of Burlington succeeds James Winn in the barber shop in the rear of the market.

The Listers are through with their trouble for a brief space of time and filed an abstract of their work Monday, and will meet again May 7 to hear grievances if any. Anyone having a "kick coming" need not be afraid of hurting their feelings—they are past that stage.

Geo. H. Fallington of Idona, Kan., accompanied by his brother Fred of Cambridge, was in town last Saturday. Mr. Fallington left for Kansas about 34 years ago with "Pret" Gates, who will be remembered by the older residents of this place. They were among the early settlers of that state.

Regular convocation of Tucker chapter No. 15 to be held here Friday, May 3, at 1 p. m. It is expected that D. G. High Priest, D. A. Elliott, will make an official visitation and it is hoped there will be a full attendance. A rehearsal of work will be held at Masonic hall Thursday evening, at 7:30.

Murray Buck, owner of the Malvern Stock Farm, on the Laporte road, has sold his handsome residence in Johnson to Harry Parker, consideration $2500. Mr. Buck alleges that the farm is all right and signifies his intention of living there in the future. As a matter of fact there is not a pleasanter location in Lamoille county than Malvern Stock Farm.

D. N. Hutchins, one of the working members of the Board of Trustees, has been doing good work the past week in clearing and raking up the village streets. This is proper and might be carried further a little later in the season, when the gutters should be kept mown and clean. It would not be very expensive and would add greatly to the appearance of the village.

E. W. Webster, who has been connected with the tannery here since its erection, and who has held a responsible position under the new management, has handed in his resignation, to take effect within 30 days. He will go to Marathon, N. Y., where he has a lucrative position. While our people very much regret the decision that necessitates their removal from Morrisville society, they wish Mr. and Mrs. Webster every success in their new home.

Frank Robinson, one of our Morrisville boys, but now of Burlington, has crept along in Masonry until he has reached the top round in the Blue lodge. He was installed W. M. of Burlington lodge last week. The event was a very pleasant one and after the ceremonies Grand Lecturer Ranger delivered an address. The honor is worthily bestowed and twenty years acquaintance with Frank gives us authority to make the statement that he will rank among the best Masters that lodge has ever had.

Read Sanborn's new ad on page 8. What's the matter with a golf club? Gardening is the proper pastime (?) just now.

Hon. H. H. Powers was in Burlington yesterday.

Read Ellis' list of bargain prices. He keeps none but the best of groceries.

Davis & Partlow report the sale of 16 wheels this season. Not a bad record.

Jay Warren has commenced the erection of a large barn on his premises over in Brooklyn.

Frank Thomas' meat market continues to grow in popularity. He keeps good meats and prices are right.

Misses Mamie Jackson and Nora Chase have gone up to St. Johnsbury to "hear the band play" this evening.

Mrs. F. P. Keeler, the milliner, will open shop at 10 Portland St., May 8—her old stand. See notice elsewhere.

Miss Mabel Miller, one of the popular young ladies of People's Academy, has gone to Waterville, where she will teach a summer school.

A. F. Whitney is a pretty busy man these days, with his two mills to look after, to say nothing of numerous other interests. "Big" is not lazy.

Dan Campbell started last Thursday for Bloomingdale, N. Y., in the Adirondacks. Dan's many friends here hope the change will be beneficial to his health.

The consignment of western horses, bought by F. J. Smalley in Iowa arriving here last Thursday, were the best yet, and half of the lot are already disposed of.

Royal Peck presented the ladies of the NEWS AND CITIZEN office with a bouquet of dandelions this morning—the first day of May, and the first dandelions of the season.

The many friends of Mrs. Geo. W. Hendee will be pained to learn of her serious illness. She has been in poor health a long time, but a change for the worse has set in and her condition is now very critical.

Daniel Isham of East Fairfield, has purchased the Mrs. Gates residence on Park street; consideration $3750. Mr. Isham moves to Morrisville in order to give his children the excellent educational advantages afforded by People's Academy.

Mrs. B. B. Blake, well-known in Morrisville and vicinity, is in a very critical condition, having undergone a very serious surgical operation at her home. The operation was performed by Dr. Wheeler of Burlington assisted by Drs. Bates, Genge and Bacon. Dr. Bates is in attendance.

Lamoille Grange will meet Thursday May 9. The lady members out of the village are requested to bring a cake. Lecturer's program is as follows: Music, Mrs. Ella Thomas; scripture quotations upon wisdom; paper, Mrs. Nell M. Shaw and Fred Small; solo, Geo. Terrill; question, "How can crops adapted to this locality be grown to the best possible advantage, and how important is good seed and the use of farm machinery." Speakers, Harrison Dodge, George Smith, Levi Small and Levi Gile.

State's Attorney Cheney went to Wolcott yesterday on official business and while there, with the assistance of Howard Stevens, sized 96 quarts of rye whiskey and 100 pints of the plain goods. It appears that for some time past several citizens in that vicinity have been more or less in conjunction with what is known in some circles as a load and yesterday's seizure may in a measure account for the existing condition of affairs. The goods were consigned to fictitious address and were confiscated and ordered to be destroyed. Let the good work go on.

The committee appointed by the business men have arranged with the Redpath Lyceum Bureau of Boston for an entertainment to be given May 23 to take the place of the De Witt Miller lecture. This entertainment will be a double number, consisting of the Svendsen Trio. The personnel is made up of Carolyn Belcher, violin; Charlotte White, violoncello and Louise Emelle Waitt, pianist. Misses Belcher and White are graduates of the Royal High School, Berlin, Germany. Miss Waitt being well-known in Boston musical circles. This is a whole entertainment in itself but with the addition of the comedy duo, by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Raymond Pierce, who have a national reputation as entertainers, the management promise an entertainment not easily excelled. Remember that tickets held for the Miller lecture are good for this entertainment.

Boston & Maine Rules.

Orders have recently been issued from the general office of the Boston & Maine railroad, prohibiting brakemen from talking with passengers, or playing cards when on duty. The order reads as follows:—"Brakemen must not occupy seats in cars with passengers or carry on unnecessary conversations with them or play cards at the terminals nor in the trains." It is dated April 15.

HYDE PARK.

Fish stories are ripe. Now shut up those hens.

Mrs. Sarah M. Bennett is quite ill with rheumatism.

The Academy students are on the last half of the term.

Mrs. G. W. Brown is selling out her millinery stock at cost.

H. M. Cornell, County Commissioner, was in the place last Saturday.

Walter Strong has sold thirteen head of choice young stock to Levi Smille.

Mrs. E. G. Page and sons have gone to Proctor to spend a few days with relatives.

Mrs. Ralph Hubbell and children of Wolcott visited at Charles Merrill's last week.

W. F. Angel and family of Hardwick were at Geo. Brown's a part of last week.

H. F. Graham, E. q., of Craftsbury was here on professional business last Friday.

J. S. Leach and wife spent Sunday at Essex with their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Hanley.

Mrs. Nellie Finnegan and daughter have gone to Hinesburg to spend a few weeks with relatives.

Emil Paul, for the past year chef at the Phoenix, completed his engagement there Monday evening.

Miss Mary Finnegan returned last week from New York City, where she has been the past three months.

Miss Elizabeth Young of Enosburg Falls, is spending a week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Young.

We haven't been troubled much with April showers, but May flowers will come right along all the same.

Mrs. D. C. Robinson of Fletcher and Mrs. Thomas Hanley of Essex were visitors at J. S. Leach's Thursday.

Miss Winnie Rooney returned Friday evening from Burlington, where she has been spending the winter with an aunt.

Mrs. C. M. Small returned from Elmira, New York, Monday evening and is again domiciled in her home on Main St.

Rev. Fr. Lachance is an expert bicyclist and takes considerable comfort in riding about, both on pleasure and pastoral trips.

Clarence Foster of Barre came to town Monday for a few days visit at the old home. The tonsorial profession agrees with him.

Mrs. E. L. Noyes returned Monday evening from Lebanon, N. H., where she has been with her daughter Mrs. Stevens, for several weeks.

Newton Camp returned from Richford last Saturday and is spending this week in Elmore. He expects to resume work next Monday.

Giblett has moved his household effects to Morrinstown and will shortly "go on the road"—at least that is what he now expects to do.

Because of ill health, J. C. Peck offers for sale his farm at Garfield. It is in a good state of cultivation and is a good trade for somebody.

An interesting game of ball was played on the campus last Saturday between the Academy and village nines. The former won by a score of 19 to 16.

Contractor Manley was here Saturday. He hasn't closed any trades yet about those new buildings, but he has quite a number of things on the string.

Mrs. Keeler's millinery shop is the Mecca for ladies these days. She has a large trade and people from this and adjoining towns find her an up-to-date milliner.

The familiar face of Judge Waite is seen again about the village. The Judge's three months' visit in Massachusetts makes him all the more attached to Vermont.

F. S. Platt, Inspector of Finance, paid an official visit to the Lamoille County Savings Bank last Thursday. He found everything o. k., which might have been expected.

T. Whitcomb of Jeffersonville, who has the general agency of a book publishing house, was here Saturday looking for agents. He informs us that he has good work at good pay for several.

Perry Foster, with a gang of No. 1 artists, is renovating the exterior of several houses. He has just completed R. W. Hulburd's and is working on Mrs. E. G. Page's, after which come S. B. Waite's, C. A. Knight's and others.

The Odd Fellows lodge goes to Hardwick next Monday evening to take part in the instituting of a lodge there. This lodge will work the first degree and in order to do it as it should be, rehearsals are frequent this week.

Geo. Parker and wife visited their son "Nit" at Burlington last week. He has had an attack of pneumonia, but is better now and is on the road.

to recovery from that as well as the surgical operation he recently underwent.

Crane of the Phoenix has been beautifying his grounds about the hotel. He has a fine lawn on the east side and also several flower beds one of which is very artistically laid out, has a border around which represents in value $23.10.

The order of "The Big Four," a hide house organization, very successfully initiated Prof. Winslow into the mysteries of their order last Friday evening. The secret work was given in full. There was a large attendance both of active and honorary members.

Geo. Brown visited his asbestos mines in Eden Monday and brought out some very fine specimens of asbestos. The knowing ones say he has the best mines up there. George is very enthusiastic and says the Standard Oil Co. will finally be the owners of the whole business.

The Listers have completed their work and announce that they will be at the Town Clerk's office Tuesday, May 8, at 1 p. m. "to hear all persons aggrieved by their appraisal or any of their acts." We haven't seen the figures, but understand there is a falling off from last year.

John Forster, the bustling baker, has added a new delivery wagon to his outfit. It is the best yet, handsomely put up and well lettered. By industry and strict attention to business, John has built up a fine trade in this and adjoining towns. He has a new apprentice in Stewart Lines of Colchester. We trust his lines have fallen in pleasant places.

Rev. Mr. Taylor will preach his last sermon, before taking his vacation, next Sunday. He expects to leave for his father's home in Massachusetts next week. He and his family will be absent until Aug. 1. During his absence, services will be held regularly, notice of which will be given later. It is hoped after his much needed rest he may come back to us improved in health.

Next Saturday afternoon comes the second of the Intercollegiate base ball games. This one will be played here and the contestants are to be the L. C. A. and Hardwick Academy clubs. Give the boys a lift by "taking it in." Do not sponge the game from the roadside, but pay and go on the grounds at the main entrance. It costs money to get up these games.

The habit of scattering paper wrappers, envelopes and "any old thing" along the sidewalk from the post-office to the corner—or anywhere else about the village streets for that matter—ought to stop. They not only disgrace the neat appearance of the streets, but frighten horses and create habits of untidiness. Carry them home with you or leave them in the waste box at post-office.

Their Mascot Didn't Come.

The annual picnic of the "Sorosis Club"—composed of the female stenographers and bookkeepers of this place—took place to-day. The party rendezvoused at Page's park, where a sumptuous feast was spread. Informal remarks were made on various topics, but the principal subject was the absence of the club's mascot, "Horace." Notice had been sent to him, but other engagements prevented his attendance, much to the regret of the entire membership. Substitutes for him had been generously offered, but Horace was the only man wanted—and it was him or nobody. The club enjoyed itself as best it could under the circumstances.

Battle Row on Deck.

For some time past Almon Crowell has missed various articles from his barn and about his premises, and he finally concluded that his son Frank, who works for E. V. Lilley, was the pilferer. A search warrant was issued and as a result Sheriff Robbins came in with a 16-foot logging chain which Almon claimed as his. Town Grand Juror Waite issued the papers and Frank was arrested on the charge of having on the 23d of last December stolen the chain, valued at $2.00. He pled not guilty and demanded a trial, which came off Tuesday afternoon before Squire Wiswell and a full house. Col. Sawyer appeared for the State; R. W. Hulburd for respondent. The jury was E. L. Noyes, I. C. Vaughan, H. Grout, H. L. Fairbanks, W. W. Holbrook, H. C. Lanpher. There were several witnesses for both sides. Almon swore positively as to the identity of the chain, knew when he bought it, how long he had owned it, etc. A couple of his sons swore likewise. The respondent, as well as Ed. Lilley and Frank Boyes, swore just as positively the other way. Ed. claimed to have inherited it from his father, and Boyes that he broke it while working for Lilley. Strong arguments were made by both attorneys and the jury went into secret conclave, returning in fifteen minutes with a verdict of "not guilty." Thus endeth the latest Battle Row episode.

Lamoille Central Academy Notes.

J. Wilson Leach has decided to enter the U. V. M. this fall.

There will be a field day, between the Class of 1900 and the Academy, some afternoon of next week; probably Wednesday.
