Death of Orville P. Rowell

Orville P. Rowell, whose critical illness from pneumonia was noted in this paper's last issue, died late Wednesday afternoon of last week, death coming suddenly from heart complications. He was ill but six days, his condition having been considered very critical from the first.

Memorial Day in Morrisville

Memorial Day exercises were well carried out here, the program under the direction of Post Commander W. B. Patch, passing off in fine shape. The line of march, headed by the Morrisville Military Band, was longer than usual and besides the usual local orders, included a large uniformed delegation from Lamolite Commandery, K. T. There were forty-nine veterans in line, besides four who did not march.

The exercises at the hall were somewhat changed on account of the inability of the speaker, Hon. W. A. Lord of Montpelier to be present, on account of a sprained ankle. However one of the largest Memorial Day audiences listened to a very stirring address by Rev. C. C. St. Clare, who supplied on short notice. A novel feature in the program was introduced by Anjt. Niles, who in reading the National Memorial Order read the one issued by Gen. Logan in April 5, 1868, the local Post having been organized three days later, with Hon. Charles A. Lewis, now of Hannibal, Mo., as Post Commander. The program was rendered as follows:—

A Chance to Save Money

There is not the slightest reason why you should not feel well and strong. That great free offer of Dr. Greene is proving the best friend that weak and delicate people ever had. A letter sent to him at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., telling the symptoms you are suffering from, will be immediately answered by the Doctor, describing your complaint minutely, and making you understand perfectly just what ails you. And all this costs you nothing. You don't have to leave your home and you don't have to pay any doctor's fee to learn exactly what your complaint is, and how to get well and strong, from Dr. Greene, the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. The Doctor makes a specialty of curing patients through his great system of letter correspondence, and is having wonderful success. Thousands of weak, delicate men and women are writing him about their complaints, and are being permanently cured. It was he who discovered that world-renowned curative, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Write the Doctor at once and see what he says about your complaint. It will probably be the means of your getting back your health.

F. G. Lambertson of Lower Cabot recently met with what threatened to be a serious accident. While trying to remove a stick near his board saw, his shirt sleeve was caught, drawing his arm out to the saw and cutting it badly. It took eleven stitches to close the wound. Less than two years ago, Mr. Lambertson lost a part of his right hand in the same manner.

Doing Egypt.

First Tourist—Isn't this lovely? Just think, Pharaoh lived here and—Cheops and—Moses! It makes your head swim, doesn't it?
 Second Tourist—I guess it's the bad air. It hurts my head too. Is that the Nile over there?
 "I suppose so. It doesn't seem as if Cleopatra could have ridden in her barge to meet Marc Antony down that stream, does it?"
 "No. But that was a long time ago."
 "Mercy, there's the Sphinx!"
 "What's the Sphinx?"
 "Why, it's a thing that asks you riddles, you know. Dear me, I'm not sure whether that's the Sphinx or one of the pyramids."
 "Look there! That must be the desert. But I can't see any caravans."
 "My, isn't it nice to travel on a railroad where they don't have smoke or cinders?"
 "Yes, and do you notice what a balmy odor comes in the window?"
 "Yes. Isn't it fragrant? So spicy. Ah—a, I like to breathe it in."
 "So do I. I'll ask the conductor what it is. There he is. Conductor, please. Where does that spicy smell come from?"
 "From the locomotive, ma'am. We use nothing but mummies for fuel on this line."

The Sad Lawyer.

"People seem very suspicious of me," said a lawyer to his wife on his return home at evening. "You know old Jones? Well, I did some work for him last month, and when he asked me for the bill this morning I told him out of friendship that I wouldn't charge him anything. He thanked me cordially, but said he'd like a receipt."

Missouri has now twenty-two subordinate granges. The state grange has just elected C. O. Raine master, John Garnett crator, E. H. Long lecturer and C. S. Throckmorton of Canton secretary.

Base Ball Notes

P. A. lost their game with the Barre Italians here last Saturday afternoon by costly errors at critical stages in the game, the errors being of an inexcusable nature for the most part. There was not an earned run on either side. The Italians put up a strong fielding game and barring their rather tiresome habit of kicking at everything and everybody, gave an interesting exhibition of the game. "Joe" Weafer was in the box for P. A. for the first four innings, giving way to R. Thomas in the middle of the inning on account of a lame arm, which he has been treating for the past two weeks. He showed great speed and control and only allowed one hit during the four innings. Thomas also pitched a winning game and although he gave three cheap bases, succeeded in fanning five sons of Italy. Raymore caught a great game and the fielding of Kelley for P. A. and the spectacular handling of a liner by Guerra for the visitors were features of the game. The attendance was large, the gate receipts being about $56.00. Following is the summary:—

Her Top Note.

During an operatic performance a well known prima donna burst into her dressing room and flung herself sobbing on the lounge. Her maid begged to know what was the matter. After a few incoherent ejaculations the singer told her awful story. She was approaching the end of an aria and was exceeding herself when all of a sudden a horrid mouse ran right in front of her.

"Ah, madam, and you screamed?" asked the maid.

"Yes, yes! My prospects are forever blighted!"

"Just then the maid answered a call bell and reported that the manager's assistant wished to see her.

"Let him come," said the singer.

"The manager," said the young man, "wants to know whether you ran away from the curtain call because you were sick?"

"No, I am well. It was only—"

"And he wants me to tell you that high C you let out at the end was the finest he has heard in years and that the audience is crazy over you. You must give a repeat."

"I can't! I can't!" wailed the prima donna, "unless you get another mouse."
