A VALUABLE CONTRIBUTION

Union Schools Generously Remembered by Etna Insurance Co.

Through the efforts of Supt. Frank K. Graves and the generosity of the Etna Insurance Co., the schools in the union of Morris-town, Stowe and Elmore will receive valuable additions to the school rooms within a few days. With the idea in mind of getting an inexpensive calendar, which would at the same time be instructive, to place upon the walls of the several schoolhouses in the Union, Supt. Graves wrote to the Etna people and was very pleasantly surprised last week when he received a shipment consisting of a sufficient number of large, elegantly framed pictures of Mount Etna from the original painting by Thomas Cole in the Wadsworth gallery, Hartford, Conn. The express on the package was over $17 and was paid by the Etna Co.
 Not only will these pictures be a notable addition to the decorations of the school rooms, but they will also be prized for their instructive value, being especially interesting at this time, owing to the close proximity of Mt. Etna to the terrible earthquake disaster at Messina, Sicily. On the back of this is a printed history of previous disasters in that vicinity.

Narrowly Escaped Death

Smith Warren, the 13 year old son of Will Warren, who resides on the J. H.
 Warren farm on the North Laporte road, narrowly escaped death while at work in the woods with his father last Saturday afternoon and is now in a critical condition from injuries from a falling tree.
 The young man was watching his father finish felling a small tree, which the former had begun and as the tree fell Smith thought it was coming his way and in trying to get away ran directly under it. He was struck on the back of the head and shoulders and was rendered unconscious for a short time. The young man was taken to the house and Dr. Stevens was called. The most serious injury was to the head, the skull being cracked and it is probable an operation will be performed the last of the week. There are no internal injuries and it is thought that he will recover.

Stage Line Changes Hands

A trade, which has been pending for several days, was closed last night, whereby Orlando Barrows and son, Elmer Barrows, of Stowe have purchased of F. O. Lunt the Morrisville-Stowe stage line, possession having been given this morning. In the deal Mr. Lunt took two farms of the purchasers, situated in Stowe and has traded the same with Homer Smith, receiving in part payment the latter's Court street residence.
 The senior member of the new firm will reside in Morrisville, having rented the Smith house, purchased by Mr.
 Lunt, his son taking care of the Stowe end of the business.

Veteran Newspaper Man Dead

William F. Scott, the veteran newspaper man who conducted the Barre Enterprise for 18 years, died of grip this forenoon in the 70th year of his age at Odd Fellows' Home. Mr. Scott was born in Cambridge and began to learn the printing business on the St. Albans Messenger when 17 years old. He is survived by his wife, who was Abbie A.
 Hartwell and whom he married in Berlin in 1864, and by a brother and sister.
 He was an uncle of Mrs. H. J. Edmunds of Morrisville.

Morrisville clothiers offer just as good bargains as can be found anywhere.
 Don't be hoodwinked by any flaring advertisements of a "clean sweep" character from the city establishments.

RECENT DEATHS

Miss Florence Whipple

On Sunday afternoon the sad news of the death of Miss Florence Whipple was telephoned to Morrisville. The announcement was a great shock to the mother as no intimation of the serious illness of her daughter has been possible up to the time of the message.

Miss Whipple went to San Antonio a year ago last fall in company with her friend, Miss Eleanor Myers. She had long felt that the Vermont winters were too severe for her health and upon the advice of her physician chose San Antonio whose climate is mild at all times, and the resort for many who find more northern winters too rigid.

Miss Whipple's constitution responded immediately to the favorable change and continued to improve until last Thursday when under circumstances that could not have been foreseen, she was stricken with a chill which rapidly developed into an attack of pleuro pneumonia, coupled with the paralysis of both lungs. Recovery was impossible and Sunday, God gave her the great release.

The mother, Mrs. C. C. Whipple, a life-long and respected resident of Morrisville, and her son, W. C. Whipple, of Everett, Mass., are the immediate relatives of the deceased. But Miss Whipple was a young woman beloved of all who knew her and the loss is deeply felt by a host of devoted friends who had been won by her wonderfully bright and attractive womanhood. Though called to pass through clouds herself she never scattered aught but sunshine. No one ever came to bring her cheer who did not herself return, twice blessed. With a nature that possessed more than the average of intelligence, common sense and devotion to duty, there was thrown over all, a mantle of brightness and humor which attracted and drew old and young alike.

In life devoted to her family, her friends, her God—in death triumphant.
 The remains, accompanied by Miss Myers, left San Antonio, Monday evening and it is expected will arrive at Morrisville Friday morning.

Orlo F. Crowell

On Monday morning last at about six o'clock occurred the death of Orlo F.
 Crowell, for many years a highly respected citizen of Morrisville. Mr. Crowell, who had not been feeling well for several months, was taken ill three weeks ago last Sunday evening from grip, pneumonia developing the following Friday. As he had successfully passed the critical stage of the disease, hopes were for a time entertained for his recovery, but a lack of vitality made the struggle hopeless and a failure of the heart to do its work Saturday was a warning that the end was near.

The deceased was born in Hyde Park on July 2, 1845, a son of William N. and Eliza G. Reed Crowell. When he was quite young his parents moved to Wolcott where he spent a large portion of his life. In 1862 he was united in marriage to Miss Clara D. Andrews. One son was born to them, Erton I. Crowell, who died nearly 20 years ago, leaving one daughter, Grace, who has since made her home with her grandparents. The family moved to this town seventeen years ago, where they have since resided.
 Besides his wife and granddaughter, Mr.
 Crowell is survived by two sisters, Mrs.
 A. H. Keeler of Hardwick and Mrs. H.
 C. Baldwin of Lakemont, N. Y., and several nephews. The deceased was a man of sterling worth, a good citizen and neighbor, and his loss will be deeply felt by the community, where he lived an active, upright and worthy life.

The funeral was held from the home on George street this afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. C. C. St. Clare of the Congregational church officiating. The bearers were three nephews, Ned Baldwin of Lake-mont, Ardenie and Willie Keeler of Hardwick, and F. O. Lunt of Morrisville.

Mrs. Arabella Smith

The remains of Mrs. Arabella Boardman Smith, widow of the late Harry Smith, formerly of Cady's Falls, were brought here this morning from Dorchester, Mass., where she died at the home of her son, Glenn Smith, Monday morning, after a three weeks' illness from pneumonia and complications.

The deceased was formerly Miss Arabella Boardman, a native of this town, where she lived the greater part of her life. She went to live with her son in Dorchester last fall. She is survived by three sons, Glenn H., Carroll B. of Providence, and Clarence of Morris-town. The two former accompanied the remains here.
 She is also survived by a cousin, Mrs. Olive Gilbert of this place and other more distant relatives. She was 64 years of age. A large circle of friends in this vicinity will extend sympathy to the family in their great affliction. The funeral was held at the Universalis church, Rev. Otto S. Raspe officiating. Interment was in the Cady's Falls cemetery beside Mr. Smith.

Ernest Gates was a visitor at the Capitol at Montpelier Tuesday.

LAMOILLE COUNTY SAVINGS BANKS

We give herewith the semi-annual statement of the two Savings Banks of Lamoille County. The figures are decidedly interesting reading and show that these institutions are well and carefully managed and that those who are fortunate enough to have money in them have no cause to lie awake nights as to the safety of their savings.

Officers Publicly Installed

A very pleasant occasion was the public installation at the G. A. R. hall last Saturday evening of the James M. Wan-ner Post, W. R. C., and Geo. W. Doty Camp, Sons of Veterans. The hall was filled with an appreciative audience and the work of installation was done in an impressive manner. Capt. Frank Ken-field installed the officers of the Post, being ably assisted by A. A. Niles, as Officer of the Day. For the Sons of Veterans Col. Doty acted as installing officer, with E. H. VanCor as assistant, while the W. R. C. officers were given the work of installation in an impressive manner by Mrs. A. A. Niles assisted by Mrs. Helen Towne, as Conductor, and an efficient corps of color bearers. The work throughout was especially well done.

Following the work refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by the ladies.

 given at the "Opera House" last Thurs-patronage than it received.

A letter received from Geo. Hicks, who is in the old country for the benefit

Alleged Horse Thief Caught The Littleton Courier has the following to say about the stealing of that horse, of which mention was made last week:

Merton E. Place, who is alleged to be the man who stole a team of T. W. Glover last April, was brought here Saturday afternoon by Sheriff A. E. Strain.
 The authorities have been hunting for Place since last summer and he was finally located in Hardwick, Vt. He denies that he is the party and insists that he never was in Lisbon before. The authorities are confident, however, that they have the right man.

A hearing was held at the office of Eric A. Oakes and the prisoner bound over to the April term of court. He was taken to the county jail at Woodsville Monday morning to await trial. It is alleged that Place went to the stable of T. W. Glover and hired a team to go to West Littleton.
 He gave the name of C. F. Adams, and said that he would return the same night.
 He failed to return and was only located last Friday.

Mr. Harry M. Parker Dead

Last Thursday evening, George Parker received a telegram from his son Harry, who lives at Schenectady, N. Y., announcing the death of his wife that afternoon. The case is a sad one as they had been married only a little over a year and had just got nicely started on life's journey. They were here a short time last summer and the deceased made many friends who will regret to learn the sad news. Clarence Parker left Friday morning for Northfield, Mass., where the remains were taken for burial. The following taken from a paper published in Schenectady last Friday, will be read
