Answers ?

[From the Northfield News.] The Barton Monitor has kindly repeated the questions which it desires The News to answer before it makes reply to the recent question propounded to it by this paper and adds: "The News appears to be desirous of having its question answered by 'yes' or 'no.' The Monitor is also desirous of the same thing, and will govern itself by these rules as closely as does The News. Here are the questions and the News' answers, conforming in brevity to the desires of its Barton neighbor, as expressed in the above paragraph: "Does the News really believe Mr. Fleetwood's six years as Secretary of State, better qualifies him for chief executive than Dr. Mead's term in the House, one term in the Senate as a member, and two years as lieutenant governor and president of the Senate, mayor of Rutland, and his great business experience of a lifetime as president and manager of the Howe Scale works?" The News answers: Yes. "Does the News claim its statement that Dr. Mead has never been identified with the promotion of any progressive measure further than possibly voting for it in some instances, to be a fact?" The news answers: Yes. The News asked the following questions of its Barton contemporary, which it now understands the Monitor is willing to answer: "To be more specific. Has our Barton neighbor failed to discover since the Mead campaign opened, indications that some matter used in certain editorial columns appeared foreign to their general characteristics?" Again, can our good Barton neighbor, who appears to be in close touch with Dr. Mead and his candidity, truthfully say that it knows of no instances where matter furnished by the Mead literary bureau has gone into the editorial columns of one or more State newspapers with practically no changes in diction? Can it truthfully say it knows of no editorial productions during the past few months in any of the State newspapers which were written largely if not entirely along the lines suggested by Dr. Mead or his manager? Does the Barton editor know of any instance or has he reason to believe that Dr. Mead has paid money to any newspaper in the State during this campaign, other than for legitimate advertisement—meaning announcements that were plainly marked as "political advertising?" While it is impossible for anyone to see the slightest connection between the questions asked by the Monitor and those propounded by the News the former have now been answered, and it is certainly up to our enthusiastic Barton friend to make answer to The News enquires with a "Yes or No." Impure blood runs you down—makes you an easy victim for organic diseases. Mother's Task.

When mother gets breakfast she must remember that father likes his breakfast food without cream, Johnny wants both cream and sugar, Susie doesn't like breakfast food at all and must have a substitute, Mary has to have grapefruit and the rest of the family want oranges or apples. No two agree on anything, but she must remember what each one wants or the family doubt her devotion. What is it, do you suppose, that keeps the mother of a large family from going crazy? —Acheson Globe.
