

JOHNSON

Enosburg High School base ball team play Johnson High School team here May 15.

William Stone of Cabot has spent several days with his son, Prin. W. A. Stone.

A. L. Sanders and little niece, Mary Bassett, of Barre were guests last week of Mrs. J. L. Pierce.

Mrs. Susan Freeman went to Morrisville Monday to spend a few days with Mrs. Abner Austin.

There was a large attendance at the Catholic services held here during last week, closing Sunday.

J. H. S. played the Hose Co. at base ball Saturday afternoon and won the game by a score of 4 to 2.

Mrs. E. M. Green went to Cambridge Saturday and spent Sunday with her cousin, Mrs. M. M. Green.

Mrs. J. L. Pierce has been called to Brooklyn, N. Y., by the serious illness of her sister, Miss Adeline Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Plunkett and daughter returned from Westfield Friday and are with Mrs. Smith Hebb as formerly.

Mrs. J. S. Cristy arrived home from Worcester, Mass., Friday night. Her daughter, Roxana, will remain in Worcester until her school closes in June.

Howard Sargent, son of Mrs. Fred Sargent, who has employment in Littleton, N. H., and Miss Marion Mills of the same place, were united in marriage at Littleton May 6.

Miss Holmes, a trained nurse, who has been caring for Mabel Fullington, returned to Burlington Monday and Miss Delia Barnard takes her place. Miss Mabel is making a good improvement.

The attendance at the Cong'l Sunday school May 9th was 102, collection $1.39.

The pastor, Rev. F. W. Hazen, gave a most interesting sermon in keeping with Mother's Day. The topic for the C. E. meeting Sunday evening, May 10th, is "Why I Believe in Christian Endeavor," 2 Tim. 1:1-14.

The volume of Vermont Public Documents, being reports of state officers, departments and institutions for the two years ending June 30, 1914, has been placed in the Town Library; also bulletins of the Vermont Experiment Station on Maple Sugar, Care of Cream on the Farm and Ice House Construction, and Agricultural Seed, and A Chapter on the Artificial Propagation of the Brook Trout, published by the Department of Fisheries and Game.

STOWE

Mrs. Rhuama Warren has returned to Waterbury Center after several weeks in Stowe.

Victor Everett Fielden and Mrs. Annie Lynn were married May 5 by Justice C. M. Watts.

Mrs. R. H. Butterfield and two children of North Troy are visiting Mrs. Butterfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Adams.

At the regular meeting of the Stowe Teachers' Club Wednesday evening the teachers of the high school and the grades gave reviews of their work in English the past year. These were followed by a general discussion, making one of the most interesting meetings of the year. The president, Miss Parker, was in the chair.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY

Morrisville People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers

Morrisville testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Morrisville who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Least any sufferer doubt this evidence of merit, we produce confirmed proof-statements from Morrisville people who again endorse Doan's Kidney Pills—confirm their former testimony. Here's a Morrisville case:

Mrs. M. B. Eaton, 4 High St., Morrisville, says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for years. As time passed, the attacks became more severe. Headaches and dizzy spells bothered me and I also had trouble with the kidney secretions. Being urged by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at Cheney's Drug Store. Two boxes removed the pain and I am now free from kidney complaint."

Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Eaton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

How Vermont Savings Banks are Paying the State Expenses.

It is a very interesting study to look over the localities which send to the State Treasury the immense sums of money necessary to pay the running expenses of our state.

The little village of Hyde Park sent the State Treasurer last year $18,415.54, not including the sums paid for franchise taxes on its several corporations.

The taxes paid by the banks of Hyde Park for the past twenty-five years, by five-year periods, were as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Amount. For the five years ending December 1894 $ 8,559.05, December 1889 15,345.23, December 1904 21,508.55, December 1909 35,986.86, December 1914 78,693.71

We doubt if any such per cent of growth can be shown in the history of banks anywhere for twenty-five years in succession.

The taxes paid for the five years ending December 1894, $8,559.05, it will be observed, were less than one-ninth of those paid for the five years ending December 1914, $78,693.71. If the sum paid for each of the past five years had been as much in each year as it was last year, the figures for the five-year period would have been $92,077.70 instead of $78,693.71.

The facts are almost unbelievable and yet they are absolutely true as the records show. They are undoubtedly without a parallel anywhere when the size of the village of Hyde Park is taken into consideration.

Of course Hyde Park does not pay all this tax but the reputation of the Hyde Park Bank as a safe and conservative institution has attracted money from nearly every state in the Union, as well as from the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Cuba, the Canal Zone, the Philippine Islands, Ontario, Quebec, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, England, China, India and Turkey.

Vermonters everywhere not only rejoice in the fact that we have the largest bank in the world in a country village, but they are personally benefited thereby because it is this fact which has attracted deposits from distant localities, deposits which contribute such a large sum toward the running expenses of our State. It is a most pleasing fact and one in which Vermonters may properly take great pride, leading them, when in doubt as to where they should place their savings, to give the Hyde Park Bank the preference, not only because it is an absolutely safe place in which to deposit but because it helps to maintain the enviable position which Vermont occupies as the home of the largest bank in the world in a country village.

The Hyde Park Bank solicits deposits in large or small amounts and from locations near and remote, and promises to invest them faithfully and conservatively, allowing 4 per cent interest thereon, paying all taxes, and returning the deposits with semi-annual compound interest whenever called for.

Banking by mail is now perfectly safe. Not a dollar sent to this Bank in its 26 years of business has ever been lost. Send by personal or bank check, postal or express money order or by registered letter and your pass book will be sent you by first mail.

For any desired information about the Hyde Park Bank address the President, Carroll S. Page, or the Treasurer, F. M. Culver.

COLOR SCHEME.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

LETTUCE SOUPS.

- DINNER MENU. Cream of Lettuce Soup. Toasted Wafers. Broiled Lamb Chops. Mashed Potatoes. Creamed Asparagus on Toast. Lettuce Salad. Cheese Sticks. Strawberry Ice. Sponge Cake. Coffee.

The odds and ends of lettuce left over when a salad is made may be utilized in making soup.

French Soups. Lettuce Soup With Stock.—Take one head of lettuce and cut fine strips. This may be done with the kitchen shears or with a knife. Cook until tender in three or four tablespoonfuls of butter, seasoning with salt and pepper. Have one and one-half quarts of veal or chicken stock heating, and to this add one cupful of cream. Thicken with the beaten yolks of two eggs, seasoning with salt and pepper and a tiny dash of grated nutmeg. Add the lettuce to this, blend thoroughly and serve very hot with toast.

Dainty and Nourishing. Lettuce Purée.—Take about a dozen lettuces (if you have a garden, you can use those which are going to seed), pick apart, cleanse and throw into boiling salted water till they are quite tender. Then drain carefully and pass through a sieve. Dissolve in an enameled lute saucpan two ounces of fresh butter; stir into it one ounce of flour without letting it color. Then by degrees add the puree of lettuce and stir very slowly while cooking for about twenty minutes. Dilute by degrees with good, rich stock till of the right thickness. Season with red pepper and salt and serve with fried croutons of bread.

Season Well. Plain Lettuce Soup.—Take four heads of lettuce, wash thoroughly and place in boiling salted water. Boil, uncovered, for ten minutes; drain and throw into a dish of cold water. Allow it to remain a few minutes, then drain, chop fine and rub through sieve. Have one quart of hot milk; rub one tablespoonful of butter and two of flour to a paste; add to the hot milk and stir until it thickens. Mix a few spoonfuls of this with the lettuce pulp, stir until blended, and add to the soup. Season to taste with salt and pepper, let simmer about five minutes, uncover and serve with croutons.

KIDNEY TROUBLE CAUSES INTENSE SUFFERING

Sixteen years ago I was taken sick with kidney trouble and suffered terribly for three months. I did not work during this time and was mostly confined to the bed. After using other remedies I finally tried a bottle of Swamp-Root. I immediately began to feel better, and after using seven fifty-cent bottles, was entirely cured and have had no kidney trouble since. I can truly say that I owe my good health to Swamp-Root. You may publish this letter for the benefit of other people afflicted as I was with the hope of bringing to their attention this most wonderful remedy.

Yours very truly, HATTIE A. QIMBY.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You. Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Morrisville weekly News and Citizen. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles for sale at all drug stores. adv

Consistent. She—This wait between the acts seems to me to be dreadfully long. He—Yes. You see, twenty years are supposed to elapse, and the management is simply trying to make the effect as realistic as possible.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Trimming the Barber. The Head Barber—Sure, Mr. Allgall. I'll lend you a dollar. Glad to help you out. Mr. Allgall—Many thanks, old man. They're having a sale of safety razors around the corner, and I didn't want to miss it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Every real and searching effort for self improvement is of itself a lesson of profound humility.

MAY CALL THEM "LANGLEYS"

Move to Honor the Memory of the First Man Who Dreamed of Aviation.

The reading world has become familiar with the word "Taube," and understands that it stands for a German aeroplane. Men read every day of flying machines that are called "Wright," a "Curtiss," a "Bleriot," a "Farman," a "Bristol," a "Morane-Saulnier" and other names fastened to a plane by a builder or an aviator who has succeeded in fashioning a model differing from some other model.

No flying machine is called a "Langley," in commemoration of the creative and original service to aviation rendered by the late Prof. Samuel Pierpont Langley of Washington. Two citizens of the capital have joined in the suggestion—perhaps it might even be called a movement—to have the generic name "Langley" applied to flying machines that are heavier than air.

The suggestion seems to have been brought forward first by Col. Archibald Hopkins of Washington, and Frank Warren Hackett has seconded the motion, suggesting that perhaps the commander in chief of the army and navy, upon this subject being brought to his attention, might favor Colonel Hopkins' proposal and give directions that henceforth the government airships shall be called "Langleys." Mr. Hackett has written that "the unselfish devotion of the late Samuel Pierpont Langley to the solution of the problem of aerial flight—to the discovery of the principle—has been admitted and admired by all well informed Americans and that our country ought to enjoy the honor that would attach to the coming into use of this term."

HE GUARDED LARGE AMOUNT

Man Who Carried Fortune Across Continent in Suit Cases, Dies in San Francisco.

With the death at the Alameda county infirmary of William Frederick Marshall, sixty-five years of age, said to be a relative of John Marshall, the discoverer of gold in California, there was brought to a close the life of a man who once carried $4,000,000 in bonds across the continent in suit cases.

Marshall, who for the past ten years had resided with Mrs. Mary C. Bowers, 1468 Eighth street, was commissioned by T. G. Crothers and R. D. Mitehell, the executors of the James G. Fair estate in California, in 1897, to bring the $4,000,000 in bonds from New York to San Francisco. Wells Fargo & Co. wanted $4,812 for the same service, and the executors decided to save this amount.

Accordingly on October 5 of that year Marshall left New York with the bonds in three suitcases, heavily armed, in a private drawing-room. He delivered the bonds to the executors in San Francisco without mishap on October 10. En route the train was held up and the passengers robbed of personal belongings in Utah by a gang of highwaymen, who fortunately overlooked the three suitcases.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Original Etymology.

In her language, Nancy Allison was inclined to be what her brother called "fushing." One summer she took an automobile trip through New England. On her return she was giving an enthusiastic description of one fine old town to her family.

"It was perfectly charming! Such wonderful doorways and the quaintest old inn!" She paused, searching for a word. "It was—unique!" Brother Ned had been listening gravely to the rhapsody.

"Unique," he said, quietly. "That's a fine word. Let's see. 'Uns,' one; 'Equus,' horse. 'One-horse' town. Good!" and without waiting for anyone to criticize his interpretation of the word, he promptly took his departure.—Youth's Companion.

Mystery of Precious Stones.

In all the infinite production of the laboratory of our mainly ugly earth nothing is more beautiful, nothing more craved, and yet rarely nothing more useless from the viewpoint of practical and plain common sense than what are called precious stones, the diamond being chiefest of them all.

In what one of the earth's geologic ages they were made, and by what process remains a mystery which has not been fathomed by scientists who have devoted much time to attempts at solution, though such great chemists as Moissan of Paris and Crooks of England have actually produced minute particles of the diamond by certain treatment of carbon to intense heat and its subjection to immense pressure.

Dogs Bring Load of Food.

John Hundley, a farmer, awoke in the morning to be advised by his wife of a serious deficit in the pantry—neither flour nor meal. Hundley's horses were not shod, the sled and ice were too rough for the animals, the family's strong box was empty, and the farmer resided six miles from town.

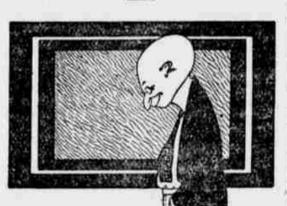

COMBAT GERMS OF DISEASE

Intelligent Cleanliness is the Slogan That is Depended on to Produce Results.

"Tuberculosis Sunday, November 29, 1914, saw the birth of a new and striking public health phrase," says Dr. H. W. Hill of the Minnesota Public Health association. "It was coined not by a public health expert but by a Presbyterian minister in his Tuberculosis Sunday prayer. This phrase 'Intelligent Cleanliness' will become a public health slogan for the future, because it sets forth sharply and emphatically the distinction between mere esthetic cleanliness and that which avoids disease. Scrubbing floors and cleaning windows makes life more comfortable, pleasant and more efficient, but it is as useless a weapon against water-borne typhoid as scrubbing a ship's deck would be in stopping a leak.

When disease breaks out in a community the first thing to do is to take intelligent measures for combating that particular outbreak, not an outbreak in some other place. Intelligently to attack and destroy germs of disease where they exist is intelligent cleanliness. The boiling of water is effective only if water be the route by which the germs are traveling from one person to another. If milk should happen to be the material which carries the disease, boiling the water is a very unintelligent attempt at useful cleanliness."

IN ON IT

Freddy—I suppose you know that your sister and I are engaged.

Willie—Sure. They had ter consult me.

CONCEALING THOUGHT.

"This baby of mine is destined to be a great political speaker when he grows up," said the proud father. "Showing signs of it already?" "Yes. He babbles for hours without giving anybody the least idea of what he's thinking about."

UNPRODUCTIVE.

"Does brainwork have a tendency to make a man bald?" "I wouldn't go so far as to say that, but I've noticed that men who have good heads for business don't always have good heads for hair."

HOPELESS.

"After a woman has had eight or nine children she doesn't look like a high stepper." "No. And what's more, she doesn't seem to care whether she does or not."

TOOL OR TALISMAN?

Mary Pert—Thank goodness, I have a perfect complexion! Kitty Katt—But you carry a haresfoot just for luck?—Judge. "He takes things as they come, eh?"

EXPLAINING REFORMERS.

"One-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives." "Maybe that's why one-half the world is always telling the other half how it ought to live."

NONE OF THAT KIND.

"Do you indulge in piscatorial amusements, my good man?" "No, sir; don't care for no sort of amusement but fishin'."

RUDE CRITICISM.

"My daughter has a rack for her music." "I know. It's the one she puts her listeners on."

OTHERS TURNED HIM DOWN.

She—Am I the only woman you ever loved? He—Well, yes—successfully.

AFTER SUFFERING TWO LONG YEARS

Mrs. Aselin Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"After my little one was born I was sick with pains in my sides which the doctors said were caused by inflammation. I suffered a great deal every month and grew very thin. I was under the doctor's care for two long years without any benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try it we got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the third bottle of the Compound I was able to do my housework and today I am strong and healthy again. I will answer letters if anyone wishes to know about my case."—Mrs. JOSEPH ASELIN, 606 Fourth Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for women's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been "cured" say it is "worth its weight in gold." At drugstores, 50c. large box, or by mail, The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

WORTHY TO COMMAND MEN

Regimental Head Had Qualities That Won for Him the Respect of His Troops.

General Franks, a leader of many a dashing charge in India, held a unique position among his soldiers. They loved him for his courage, but were sometimes irritated by his strictness. Yet in spite of this exacting severity he was unexpectedly lenient when a large occasion demanded it.

One day, when the regiment was "firing blank," a bullet whistled by him. He did not stop the firing, but when the number of rounds ordered had been completed he rode up to the line and said: "Boys, there's a bad shot in the Tenth. He nearly shot my trumpet, and what should I have said to the boys' mother? I don't want to know the blackguard's name. The officers will not examine the men's pouches."

This was on the eve of a campaign, and before action the senior major came to him and said: "Don't put yourself in front of the regiment tomorrow, sir. You know there are always one or two bad men in a regiment."

"Thank you, major," was the reply. "It's very kind of you. I might have given you a step."

When the Tenth was drawn up for the final advance he put himself at its head, and called: "Boys, I'm told ye mane to shoot me today. Take my advice and don't shoot Tom Franks until the fighting's done, for ye won't find a better man to lade ye!"

The regiment answered with a cheer and carried the Sikh batteries with the bayonet, rather than run the risk of shooting the beloved old fire eater at their head.
