Tuthill Boy Breaks Probation

Glendon Tuthill, the fifteen-years-old boy of Frank Tuthill of Woodbury, who was convicted last spring of breaking into the postoffice at Stowe and the depots at Morrisville, Wolcott and Hardwick, was arrested again at his home for breaking into the station at Jeffersonville last week Tuesday and at the station at East Granville, Vt., last Friday. Since his conviction last spring he has been at his home, having been placed on probation, after receiving a sentence to the State's Prison. With him in the breaks the past week was Geo. Arthur, a fifteen year old boy of Elmore.

The boys attended campmeeting at Johnson a week ago last Saturday and Sunday and went from there to Jeffersonville. As soon as the Tuthill boy's father heard of the break in Jeffersonville he notified Sheriff Towne and this information led to the arrest. Two officers from East Granville, accompanied by Sheriff V. W. Rand of Hardwick, went to the Tuthill home early Tuesday morning and found both young men and also most of the stolen articles, including tickets, some liquor and two raincoats secured at Jeffersonville.

The boys were taken to Middlebury by the officers from Granville and lodged in the Addison County jail to await the action of the grand jury.

THE BIG FAIR

Forty-second Annual Promises Great Success.

Large Exhibits, Good Racing

Showing in Floral Hall Largest in Years.

Upon the morning of the second day of the Lamoille Valley Fair every indication points to a successful exhibition.

The first day drew but a small attendance, as usual, but everything was in place in the afternoon and nearly every department shows a record-breaking number of entries, with several new features, which will only be seen at a few fairs this season.

The races this year promise to be the best ever seen at this Fair. There were 57 trotters on the grounds the first day and the entries are well filled. A horseman who has been at the Lamoille Valley Fair for years, told the writer yesterday that there were never as many "good ones" entered here before and predicted large fields and some real horse-racing today and tomorrow. The race program for today includes the 2:40 class, purse $150; 2:17 class, purse $250 and 2:22 class, purse $250. For Thursday, there are scheduled four races, with purses of $250 in each event. The races will begin at 1:30 p. m. today and at 1 o'clock tomorrow.

There is a larger showing of cattle than usual this year, especially in the grades, and the judging of this class yesterday afternoon by Andrew Elliott of Canada was an interesting feature. The number of thoroughbred stock is not quite so large as last year, but includes some of the best looking cattle ever seen on this ground. Among the big exhibitors in this class are the famous McArthur Hereford herd from New Hampshire, twenty head Ayrshires from A. D. Cutting's farm in Cambridge, twenty head of the same kind from the Matthew farm in Essex. John Miller and Bert Bennett of Hyde Park also have a small but extra good showing of Ayrshires. In Jerseys there is an especially meritorious showing from Lamoille County stock men, W. G. Baker of Fairview Farm of Morrisville showing 20 head of registered stock, Thos. Gerry of Hyde Park 12 head, E. B. Collins of Hyde Park six and Ernest Houston of Countess Dale Farm in Stowe four. There are 14 head of oxen and steers on the ground.

The midway this year is lined with all kinds of fairs of the legitimate variety and vendors of soft drinks and cigars did a good business on the first day, as did the Teddy Bear stand and the picture men.

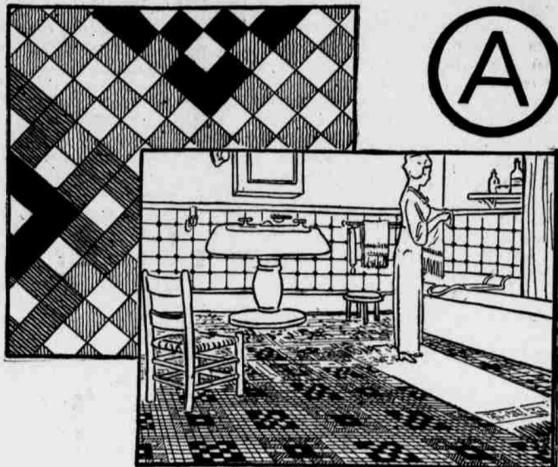

At the head of the midway, near Floral Hall, are found two features worthy of special mention—the W. C. T. U. tent, which has grown in popularity each year, and the Christian Science Monitor Rest Room. The latter occupies a space directly at the head of the midway and is one of the most refreshing sights on the ground. It is an immaculate room, artistic in architecture, being made of white and black lattice work, with inviting chairs, writing table, stationery, etc., for the use of visitors, while the air is kept delightfully cool by means of electric fans. Arthur C. Whitney of Burlington, Vermont representative of the Monitor, has charge of the room, which will also be taken to the St. Johnsbury, Rutland and Brattleboro fairs.

The Floral Hall looks like old times again this year, there being a larger display in all departments here than for several years. Mrs. Charles McFarland, Miss Mary Chase and Mrs. J. H. Warren have charge of the art goods and fancy work, and Mrs. C. A. Gile and Mrs. E. H. Olmstead of the fruit and cookery.

A display that is worthy of special notice is that of F. C. Luce & Co. of the Blair Shoe Store, which occupies a large space in the main hall. It is, without doubt, one of the most up-to-date showings in footwear ever seen in Lamoille County and is getting its full share of attention from the crowd.

The Canadian Northwest has a display again this year, consisting of grains, grasses, etc., showing the wonders of that section, but the most interesting showing in this line is that of Lamoille Grange, which indicates a bountiful harvest, especially in the vegetable line.

The Vermont Department of Agriculture has an instructive booth, where an educational illustration is given of insect suppression. The Forestry Department also has an interesting display. Miss Bessie Thayer, formerly an instructor at Peoples Academy, is present, being in charge of a booth, which is of special interest to Lamoille County ladies. It shows the work of Miss Thayer's department at the University, that of the Home Economic Extension Service. O. N. Campbell has his usual display of farm implements, featuring the famous and justly popular Empire milking machine, with which Lamoille County farmers are becoming more familiar with the installation of each new machine. Oscar was too busy to explain to any but prospective customers, so the writer turned to satisfied customers for first hand information. J. H. Atchinson has a large and creditable showing of farm implements outside of Floral Hall, where

Woodmen Field Day Sept. 6

Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 6, will be a great day in Morrisville, when Modern Woodmen from all parts of the state will meet here for their annual Log Rolling and Field Day. A grand parade in the forenoon through the principal streets of the village, speeches, sports and a ball game on the Fair Grounds in the afternoon and a grand concert and ball in the town hall in the evening are some of the principal attractions, but the management informs this paper that there will be something doing all the time. Make your plans to attend this big event.

Features of A. B. C. Rally

Plans are made for special music at both sessions of the A. B. C. Rally in Morrisville, Friday of this week. Members of organized classes will act as ushers. Banners will be displayed and classes will attend and sit in a body. Supper is to be served in the Congregational church at 6 o'clock free of charge to Sunday School workers and visitors. A general and hearty invitation is extended to both townspeople and those in the surrounding towns. The program is printed on page 2, this issue.

F. G. Sherwin was seriously ill last week, suffering from an attack of acute indigestion. He is much better now.

A 27 day Escorted Party to California Oct. 11. All expense plan. Write Don C. Stiles, St. Johnsbury, Vt., experienced escort.—adv.

E. E. Badger, wife, daughter Adelaide and son Glenn, were visitors last Sunday at the home of Miss Carolyn Smith at Highgate last Sunday.

Sermons were resumed at the Cong'l church last Sunday, Rev. Hamlin giving an interesting discourse. His theme next Sunday morning will be "Moral Preparedness."

E. R. Lilley is to have an auction September 4, at which time he will sell his residence in Hyde Park and also a lot of personal property. See advertisement and posters.

The library question still in "status quo." However, now that the Lilley place is for sale, the suggestion is made that that would be a good place for the building. It certainly would.
