Progressive Morrisville

The current number of The Vermonter contains an interesting article, entitled "Getting Next to Progress." It is a write-up of Morrisville, her industries, with particular emphasis given to the electric power plant and water system. It also includes an interesting illustrated write-up of Samoset. Editor Cummings pays a handsome tribute to Morrisville and her people and brings out some facts about the municipal enterprises which will interest people in all parts of the state, who have been watching with interest Morrisville's unique venture.

Special Village Meeting

A special village meeting is warned for Tuesday evening, Nov. 2, at 7:30 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to authorize the trustees to borrow money to pay the judgment received against the village of Morrisville by Douglass & Varnum on account of the construction of the dam at Cady's Falls. Also to see if the village will authorize said trustees to issue negotiable promissory notes for the amount and to prescribe the form and condition thereof.

Laporte Dairy Farm Sold

Writings were drawn the first of this week, whereby Hon. and Mrs. C. F. Smith conveyed the Laporte Dairy Farm in Morrisville to Zephir Laviere and Wilfrid Chapdelaine of St. Hyacinthe, P. Q., possession having been given last week. Mark P. Smith, who has had the management of the farm for several years, has packed his household goods and the family is staying for the present at the Smith home on Dorchester Heights. In the deal Mr. Smith reserves all the soft and hardwood lumber on the farm and has five years to cut the same.

The farm was purchased by Mr. Smith 37 years ago and at present is considered one of the most up-to-date farm properties in Lamoille County, the buildings being modern and in good repair and the land in a fine state of cultivation. Mr. Smith, who is one of the best known farmers in Vermont, gave his personal attention to the farm for 30 years, moving to his present home on Dorchester Heights seven years ago.

The new owners are thrifty farmers and will be welcomed to the community. There are twelve children in the two families.

Basket Ball League Formed

Prof. Frederick Edwards of Montpelier high school, Prof. S. A. Dole of Montpelier Seminary, Prin. English of Stowe high and representatives from other schools were in Morrisville last Friday, attending a meeting of representatives of seven schools located in the northern part of the state, which was held to formulate plans for a basket ball league. An association was formed and the following officers elected:—Pres., Henry H. Jackson of Barre; Vice Pres., Principal English of Stowe High; Secretary, Principal Fuller of Hardwick Academy; Treasurer, Principal Reynolds of Peoples Academy.

The association voted to organize a basket ball league, the following schools to be represented:—Montpelier High, Montpelier Seminary, Spaulding High of Barre, Stowe High, Peoples Academy, Hardwick Academy and St. Johnsbury Academy. Burlington High will be invited to join.

It was voted to have each club appropriate $5, the money to be used to buy the cup. The championship will be decided on a percentage basis of number of games won and lost and the winning team must play at least 80 per cent of its games. To obtain permanent possession of the cup a team must be a three-time winner. The winning team each year will have its name inscribed on the cup.

Included in the entertainment was a fine repast, served by the Domestic Science class of Peoples Academy.

The Moral is Plain

A Lamoille County man was recently in a nearby city, where the merchants claim to be making special inducements to out-of-town shoppers. Being in need of a fur coat, he thought he would price them and went into a leading store for that purpose. Now this man knows something about fur coats and when the salesman said $80, he looked around at the costly furnishings and expensive surroundings, thanked the man for his trouble, and came home and bought the same coat of his home merchant for $60 Moral: As a general proposition, about the only thing the merchant in the small city has on the merchant in a thrifty country village, is a larger expense and consequently a longer price on his stock of goods.

D. H. Bedell has traded his farm buildings and land on Dorchester Heights to L. F. Senesac for the mill formerly occupied by Stowe Lumber Company in Elmore. It is understood that Mr. Bedell will put in a small stock of logs the coming season.

Outing Night Robes

For ladies and misses are among the new arrivals. These robes are made from the very best outing and are full in sizes and length. They come in white and colors and in the out sizes.

Bed Blankets

We were fortunate in buying these goods before the rise in price. A sharp advance having been made in the price during the last month. Just see this line before you buy for the winter.

Ladies' Sweaters

Here is an item of winter wear that is in big demand. We have them in all sizes, both for the little folks and grown-ups.

GEORGE F. EARLE

Tenth Anniversary Party

Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. George G. Morse entertained about thirty young married people at their new home on Clark Avenue, the affair being in the form of a housewarming and also in observation of the tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Morse. The evening was most enjoyably spent, "The Story of a Romance" as told by the combined literary ability of the guests and the game of "Don't" occupying the attention of the guests a part of the evening. Victrola music also contributed to the pleasure of the guests and was a feature during the refreshment hour, when a delightful buffet lunch was served by Mrs. P. R. Davis and Mrs. J. A. Waite, two of Mrs. Morse's bridesmaids. The table was very prettily decorated in pink and white, Misses May Cleary and Hazel Rice acting as waitresses. Mr. and Mrs. Morse were presented with a casserole by the guests, the presentation being made in a happy speech by Jesse A. Waite, Mr. Morse responding with appropriate remarks.

Miss Sara Chapin spent Sunday in Burlington with her friend, Miss McDonald, at the Nurses' Home.

The Rebekahs will confer their degree upon four "live" candidates this evening. Next week Wednesday evening comes the district meeting.

A very fine steel engraving, "The Last Supper," has been presented the Cong'l church by Col. Sawyer and hung up on the walls of the dining-room.

The Vermont students at Exeter, N. H., "prep" school, and there are several of them, have organized a Vermont Club electing Proctor H. Page of this place as president. "Proe" will be a live one.

A "warning" is published elsewhere, calling for a special town meeting at Hyde Park on the 9th of November, to rescind the vote taken at the last town meeting locating the proposed library building on the school campus, and also to accept the so-called Lilley lot for the building.

We understand that there is a village ordinance about dumping coal ashes in the streets. It is up to the village authorities to see that this is enforced. Not only is it an eyesore to the streets to have ashes dumped thereon, or even along side of the street, but putting them in the streets is an injury to automobile tires and autoists will evade streets that have this refuse on them.

The forces of the Junior and Senior classes of L. C. A., have joined to give one of the best socials in the history of the school, Monday evening, Nov. 1st. The entertainment proper will consist of an exciting pantomime, and a weird scene of witches, who will at the same time make you laugh and shudder. Then homemade candy, popcorn and ice cream will be served, and that you may enjoy yourself while eating, two sideshows have been provided. The usual promenade will close the evening. Come and enjoy the best social of the year. Admission, 15c.

The "under-the-hill" road still hangs fire. While the lawyers were looking up the question when, how and by whom was this road laid out, the Selectmen and the village trustees agreed to open the road for travel temporarily and an agreement was also made with Thedule Besette allowing construction of five or six rods of road on the upper side of the railroad track, near the recent washout and without charge for a year. Last week when the workmen went to work there Besette ordered them off, saying he must have a written agreement. Work has therefore ceased for the present. No decision as yet has been made by the Selectmen regarding the appeal to "throw up that part of the road in the town of Hyde Park."

The chicken pie supper, given by the men folks at the Cong'l church last night, was largely attended. The supper was of the usual excellent order and nicely served by a bevy of handsome young-men. Following the feast came a social hour and then an entertainment full of real genuine amusement in the shape of "Everybody's Magazine," "profusely illustrated," which was full of good things and included poetry, song, story, instrumental music and advertisements—all well rendered and well acted. It was a unique affair and created great amusement. For this splendid evening's entertainment credit is due the ladies who prepared the gastronomic spread and also the young folks who arranged and took part in the after entertainment, for all of which the men folks are very thankful. Special mention should be made of the excellent service rendered by Loren Mantly in the culinary department.
