

HYDE PARK

Marshall Shattuck spent Thursday last with friends in Morrisville. Mrs. Electa Fairbanks spent several days recently with relatives in Fairfax. County court brought the usual number of "lookers-on" at the opening day.

R. K. Carson was in town on Monday last, calling on old friends. He is now located in Berlin, N. H.

M. D. Young of Cambridge and E. A. Hamilton of Newport, school superintendents, were in town Monday.

Dr. Leach and friends have been feasting on venison of late. The doctor went up Eden way last Thursday and brought home a doe, which dressed 65 lbs.

Chas. Goddard and Rollo Hebb indulged in a hunting trip last week and came home with a hundred-pound doe. Both shot at the same time and therefore the honors are even.

In looking about for substantial and useful Christmas gifts, you will find nothing better than the famous "Community Silverware." E. E. Badger has a nice assortment of this and it will pay you to look it over.

Announcement is made elsewhere of the death of Albanus Earle of Eden. He lived to a good old age, upwards of 85 years. In his early life he was for several years an employe of C. S. Page. The Senator says that he never had a more faithful and honest employe than Albanus Earle.

From the annual report of Probation Officer Hulburd to the county court we find that he has fifty persons in his charge. Of this number 24 are adult males, 6 adult females, 18 minor males and 2 minor females. Eleven have been discharged and thirteen added during the year. Reports from all are that they are on their good behavior.

On Thursday evening comes the second number in the lecture course. This will be an entertainment by Prof. Marcelle, the "Yogi wonder worker." This entertainer comes highly recommended and is pronounced an artist in sleight-of-hand maneuvers, as well as all sorts of legerdemain. This will be a novel entertainment and should receive a large attendance.

Sam. Morey's membership in the Ananias club was of short duration. He did not like to be labeled as a prevaricator of the truth and so on Saturday last went forth with his gun and came home with a fine deer captured in Eden. It was a doe and weighed 110 lbs. Sam is glad because he shot a deer and also because his reputation for honesty and integrity has been vindicated.

A couple of people bound for this place came over the B. & L. railroad for the first time last Friday evening. By mistake they got off at Cambridge, thinking it was the Junction where they change cars. They went over to the hotel and learned their error. Securing an auto they made the three miles to the Junction, reaching there before the train did and so made connections all right. They think that was "going some."

The literary and musical entertainment given at the Opera House Friday evening for the benefit of the Athletic Association, had a fair attendance, but was worthy of a larger audience. Miss Albertson is a reader of extraordinary ability and the several numbers rendered were heartily enjoyed and her responses were liberal. The singing by the Girls' Glee Club, their "maiden" appearance, was a fine feature of the program and the vocal duets by Mrs. E. G. Page and Miss DeNio were given in their usual good style. Miss Noble, as piano accompanist to all who had part, filled the position very creditably.

Farr-Christie

On Saturday afternoon last at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Christie, on Eden street in Hyde Park, occurred the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Fannie, and Orrin H. Farr of Bristol. The ceremony took place in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few of the friends of the contracting parties. The parlors had been nicely decorated with evergreens, flowers and crepe paper, the prevailing colors being white and green. In the northeast corner of the front parlor had been arranged the place for the ceremony, the back ground being decorated with evergreens and suspended from the center was a large wedding bell.

At the time, 2:30 o'clock, the bridal party entered the room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. E. G. Page. The bride, wearing a dress of white satin trimmed with lace and carrying a bridal bouquet of white roses, entered on the arm of her father, and following were the bridesmaids, Miss Vera Genge of St. Johnsbury, wearing blue crepe-de-chene, and Miss Dorothy Scofield, wearing a pink gown of like material. Then came the ring bearers, Misses Hilda Stevens and Dorothy Strong, followed by the bride's mother and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Farr of Bristol. At the altar they were met by the groom and his best man, Brigham McFarland. The ushers were Vallean Genge of St. Johnsbury and Prof. Simpson. The ceremony was that of the double ring and was performed by Rev. W. R. Hamlin.

After congratulations were extended came a social hour, during which refreshments were served, Misses Grace Strong, Natalie Noyes and Mrs. H. P. Crosby, serving. At five o'clock the bridal couple departed by auto, going to Johnson, where they took the evening train for Bristol, in which vicinity they will spend their honeymoon.

WEAK, SORE LUNGS

Restored To Health By Vinol Camden, N. J.—"I had a deep seated cough, was run-down, and my lungs were weak and sore. I had tried everything suggested without help. One evening I read about Vinol and decided to try it. Soon I noticed an improvement. I kept on taking it and today I am a well man. The soreness is all gone from my lungs, I do not have any cough and have gained fifteen pounds."

—FRANK HILLMAN. We guarantee Vinol for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis and for all weak, run-down conditions. Arthur L. Cheney, Druggist, Morrisville, Vt.

The bride is a native of this town, where she has always lived. She is a graduate of the L. C. A., class of 1915, and for many years was a member of the Cong'l choir and teacher in the Sunday school. The groom has filled a position in Washington as stenographer to Senator Page and is a young man of sterling integrity. Congratulations go out to the young couple from a host of friends, with whom the News and Citizen heartily joins.

A Merry Christmas for Young and Old

Many families in Lamoille County will be made happy this year when they receive their Christmas Club checks from the Hyde Park Bank. They have been sending small amounts weekly or monthly to the bank and these little deposits with the interest accumulations now amount to several thousand dollars. This money will come back to them at the time of the year when they can make use of it to the best advantage.

All agree that this is the easiest way to save money, whether for Christmas presents or other expenditures, or to make a beginning of a permanent bank account, either for one's self or children. Small deposits are made at stated periods by each member and on December 10th the bank mails a check to every depositor for the full amount of his deposit, with interest added.

It is not generally understood how easy it is to become a member of the club and to share in the distribution of these Christmas checks, and the bank has prepared an artistic and instructive circular which tells all about the plan and how easy it is to join, even though living at a distance. Write for this circular, as it will prove very interesting, even though you do not wish to join at this time.

The 1916 club starts December 10th and everyone in Lamoille County or elsewhere is invited to join. There are no fees, dues or expenses of any kind incurred in becoming a member.

Address the President, Carroll S. Page or the Treasurer, F. M. Culver, for further information about this unique and satisfactory method of insuring a Christmas fund. Your communications will be promptly answered with complete information.

GREATEST WAR IN HISTORY

Present Conflict Dwarfs All Others Which Have Been Waged in the World's History.

Former wars were wars of armies and governments; this war is a war of nations. Former wars were wars of soldiers; this war is in which the chemist and the manufacturer and the workman at home are as vital to victory as the fighters at the front. Former wars were on a great scale, but none of them saw, as this has seen, some 20,000,000 men under arms. Former wars were expensive, but never until now has civilization paid $50,000,000 a day for the pleasure of blowing itself to pieces. Former wars brought in their train, within certain narrow limits, a derangement of commerce; but no war, except this one, has precipitated an economic and financial upheaval of such unimaginable dimensions that there is probably not a single human being on this planet who has not in one way or another, for good or evil, directly or indirectly, been affected by it.

Former wars took place—or such of them, at any rate, as can be compared with the present one—before the credit system had become internationalized, before the telegraph and the cable and the railway and the steamship were invented, while the mechanism of modern trade was as yet in its infancy, and when each nation, to a degree we cannot now hardly perceive, was able in the main to support itself.

This war has burst upon a world so bound together by 10,000 links of commerce, finance and communications that a shot fired in the Dardanelles sends down the price of wheat in Chicago, and the intervention of Great Britain disorganizes for the time being the trade of China and Brazil, and armies are raised in the ends of the earth, transported across the seven seas to a single spot, and are there fed and clothed and munitioned from the resources of another hemisphere thousands of miles away.—Atlantic Monthly.

The Doctrine of Chance.

He—"Was your father very angry when you told him of our engagement?" She—"Not particularly. He said he had been rather fortunate in the stock market of late, and figured it was about time for his luck to turn."

Eminent Vermonters

One thousand natives of Vermont who have achieved some distinction in the world, since Vermont began to exist as a commonwealth, are listed in the volume of "The Proceedings of the Vermont Historical Society for the Years 1913-14." The compiler of the list was the society's librarian, Dorman B. E. Kent, who exercised with wise discretion, it appears, his power of selection, for one might have expected a longer list in view of the fame of Vermont as the breeding ground of distinguished men. It can surprise nobody that, in proportion to the state's present population, the number of natives of Vermont mentioned in the last edition of "Who's Who in America" is exceeded by the record of no other state in the Union. Another fact that will cause no surprise is that 82 per cent of Mr. Kent's 1000 eminent sons left Vermont to do their work in life elsewhere. It has sometimes seemed as if a bright young Vermonter should stay at home in order to become a prominent man, because of the exceptional opportunities left open by the large number of able youngsters who had migrated.—Springfield Republican.
